Message from the President

2012 has been a challenging year in some respects, but overall one of great achievements for Cycling Australia.

2012 was in fact, the pinnacle of the best four years of international performance by Australian cycling in our history.

Our dominance of Track World Championships at senior and junior level and our rise as a force in road cycling coupled with our lead rankings in BMX, Para-cycling and Mountain Bike Downhill & Marathons, all unquestionably demonstrate the strength of Australian cycling across all disciplines. The four year cycle was completed at the 2012 London Olympic Games with our equal second best Olympic performance and then achieving #3 cycling nation at the Paralympic Games, two weeks later.

These and many other world class achievements were regrettably almost overshadowed by the media reaction to the USADA Reasoned Decision regarding Lance Armstrong and the subsequent implications for cycling at the elite world level; especially the men's professional circuit during the 90's and early 2000's. Fighting doping takes large amounts of resources and we are proud of the culture and high ethical standard that has been applied to CA's high performance programs and indeed throughout the whole of our administration of the sport in Australia. We have and will continue to fully co-operate with the Wood Review, recently announced by the Minister for Sport, and look forward to receiving his recommendations which will no doubt lead to the enhancement of CA's anti-doping policies and procedures.

Let me just mention a few of the key highlights from 2012.

World Track Championship: conducted over Easter at the Hisense Arena, this was a splendid event that showcased track cycling with wonderful results again for Australia as well as our expertise in event delivery. For the first time in many years for a major event we returned a surplus, part of which will go to facilities at the Darebin velodrome.

Olympic Games: I was enormously proud of all members of our team, both on and off the bike. They performed very well; it's just that the British were exceptional. The British lifted the bar to another level, one that we must aim to better. Of course the stand out was the gold medal won by Anna Meares in the sprint against Victoria Pendleton.

Paralympic Games: An outstanding performance by a well prepared team with 13 of the 14 athletes returning home with a medal. Program Manager, Peter Day, was subsequently named Coach of the Year by the Australian Paralympic Committee.

Road World Championships: there were again a number of standout performances resulting in three silver and one bronze medal with the highlight being Rachel Neylan's second place in an exciting elite women's road race.

Orica GreenEDGE: It was an important milestone for Australian cycling to welcome the first ever Australian based world professional team underwritten by Gerry Ryan and the Jayco Corporation. Both men's and women's teams had outstanding debut seasons capped by Simon Gerrans taking out one of the grand 'classics', the Milan San Remo.

BMX: Our elite BMX athletes also had an outstanding year finishing with the #1 UCI ranking for both men and women, two world championships and our first Olympic medal, silver to Sam Willoughby.

Commercial Venture: The Commercial Venture completed its second year with an impressive level of progress under the leadership of Commercial Director, Michael Edgley. I also acknowledge the significant contribution and ongoing confidence in Australian cycling we have enjoyed from our UK based partner, the Grass Roots Group.

2012 was in fact, the pinnacle of the best four years of international performance by Australian cycling in our history.

The past twelve months has seen a consolidation of the original projects; however a major focus has been the development of a major events strategy to provide a solid base of assets upon which to grow our commercial value.

A highlight was the roll-out of the Subaru sponsorship enabling greater broadcast content for the sport, which included an expanded relationship with long-time partner SBS TV.

We have also increased the value of the commercial venture to our cycling affiliates through provision of Subaru vehicles and new event and commercial partnerships with MTBA and the Amy Gillett Foundation.

We continued to invest CA resources, both financial & HR, and expect to show a healthy return by the end of the next financial year.

Integration: Regrettably in April 2012 BMXA advised that it would not proceed further at all levels with integration. Nevertheless CA continued to deliver improved administrative services to BMXA which will hopefully encourage BMXA to re-engage with both CA and MTBA in the integration process. In the interim the MTBA integration continued apace with pleasing progress, including the outsourcing of event management to the Commercial Venture and progress with joint membership initiatives. We continue to focus on integration at all levels in the cycling sector and State bodies, in particular, will be critical for the future success of this process.

Government & Sponsor support: Our success on the bike could not be achieved without the support of Federal and State Governments, State event corporations and commercial partners. Of particular note is the ongoing funding provided by our principal partner the Australian Sports Commission (ASC). Through the ASC the government continues to provide generous support for our high performance and participation programs. Additionally this year, we received funding to address the housing issue for our high performance administrative and technical staff to allow for better communication and efficiency as they support the coaching staff and athletes within the Adelaide Super-Drome. Again, our heart-felt thanks to the Federal Minister for Sport, the Honourable Kate Lundy MP. I am sure that the confidence shown in CA will be rewarded in 2013 and onwards to Rio.

The sport is also well supported by a number of commercial sponsors but none more generous and valuable than Gerry Ryan, his family and the Jayco Corporation, who provide significant assistance to our high performance and athlete development programs.

I also acknowledge the generosity of Subaru, SBS, Grass Roots, ANPHA, Santini, the Governments of Victoria and South Australia and the City of Ballarat along with many other organisation we are very fortunate to have supporting Cycling Australia.

Acknowledgements

I would like to commend the great job by Graham Fredericks and his staff in promoting the sport by providing pathways from grass roots to elite. We have much to be proud of and will be a better organisation after the current challenges are faced.

A report like this can never do justice to the multitude of people and organisations who contribute to making the sport great in this country. To the State and Territory Associations, clubs, officials, coaches and volunteers who keep the sport running; thank you for a wonderful effort in 2012.

Message from the Australian Sports Commission

Australian Government
Australian Sports Commission

The Australian Government is committed to getting more Australians participating and excelling in sport. Sport not only inspires and unites us as a nation, it also motivates us to become involved and active.

The staging of the Olympic and Paralympic Games is an exciting time for all Australians, and highlights the substantial contribution of sport to our community, from athletes competing at the Games to those involved in weekend club competition and social play, as well as parents and volunteers.

Australia's performance at the London Olympic and Paralympic Games is the culmination of extensive long-term efforts across the Australian high performance system. Following the Games, there will be opportunities to celebrate the successes and critically review our next steps to ensure we focus and align our efforts to deliver the best possible results in the next Olympic and Paralympic cycle.

It is two years since the Australian Government delivered its new vision for sport in 'Australian Sport: The Pathway to Success' and substantially increased ongoing funding to the Australian Sports Commission. Since then, we have focused on implementing our new plans, delivering key programs, supporting national sporting organisations (NSOs) to deliver participation and high performance outcomes (as well as building their capacity), and building collaboration, alignment and effectiveness within the Australian sport sector.

The announcement in the May 2012 Budget of the continuation of the Active After-school Communities program will ensure we carry on providing primary school-aged children with a positive introduction to sport. We will continue working with sporting organisations at all levels to ensure the program provides maximum value to sports and supports the transition of program participants into local clubs.

Linked to the London Olympic and Paralympic Games, the Prime Minister's Olympic and Paralympic Challenges will encourage and inspire children to participate in sport and to get active, have fun and earn rewards. This initiative, as well as participation funding programs delivered by NSOs, continues the Australian Government's commitment to ensuring more people can access sport and all the benefits it provides.

The support received from the Australian Government for Australian sport is essential and plays an integral role in connecting our young sporting participants with their dreams of podium success in the future.

This is an exciting and challenging time for Australian sport. The Australian Sports Commission looks forward to working with sporting organisations, state and territory institutes and academies of sport, and state and territory departments of sport and recreation, to promote access to, and participation in, sport across the community, and supporting Australia's continued sporting success.

STRATEGIC PERFORMANCE REPORT

For Cycling Australia, 2012 was a year of outstanding results on the international stage, steady growth in membership and a consolidation of financial and commercial activity.

MEMBERSHIP

CA membership grew to 23,266 in 2012, which reflected a 5.7% increase from 2011. The total cycling sport sector membership, inclusive of all disciplines, is now just under 40,000. Some of the trends within the membership figures included;

- Minimal movement in the core racing categories with the exception of U13s, with a 30%+ increase off a low base, and Masters, which again grew impressively by 6.8%;
- The Silver (non-competitive) membership category grew by 11.25%, now totalling over 5,700 and representing nearly a quarter of total CA members.

A lot of work has continued to improve services for members. The new IMG database was introduced in 2012 and despite some early challenges synonymous with technology implementation, we are now starting to take advantage of a system with greater reporting and functional capability. Staff numbers and staff training has also been a major focus of member services.

Participation investment has been directed towards key projects in the areas of developing school & junior introductory programs, CA and BMXA sign-on days, on-line learning for coaching & officiating, establishment of the Silver calendar and projects targeting women and Para-cycling.

Progress is well underway for a member loyalty program and a national ranking register in conjunction with our commercial venture. The risk management review has also developed to a stage of readiness for roll-out in mid-2013.

The above initiatives represent a significant investment in improving the future CA environment to both attract new members and provide encouragement to retain existing members.

RESULTS

The past four years has seen Australia emerge as a genuine force in international cycling. During this period, Australia has not dropped below a top 4 world ranking in Track, BMX, Road, MTB Downhill and Para-cycling.

The Olympic Games are a clear benchmark over a four-year cycle and our return of 6 medals – 1 gold, 3 silver, 2 bronze – in London was equal second to any previous Olympic performance by Australian cycling. The highlights included a remarkable Gold medal to Anna Meares in the Sprint, finishing #2 nation in Track medals and recording Australia's first ever BMX (Silver) medal.

The Paralympic Games that followed exceeded our expectations with 8 Gold, 3 Silver and 3 Bronze medals being brought home by what was unquestionably the best prepared Para-cycling team Australia has ever fielded.

Equally significant has been the phenomenal success at world junior level across all disciplines, again providing a basis for confidence in the future.

Due to timing since the last publication, we have since celebrated two winners of the Sir Hubert Opperman Trophy as Australian Cyclist of the Year; Cadel Evans for 2011 and Anna Meares in 2012 – two outstanding athletes and ambassadors for Australian cycling.

Sincere thanks to the Australian Sports Commission (principal partner) and Jayco Corporation (major sponsor) for their resourcing of CA's national teams and programs. Much credit for our performances must be given to the very talented group of national program coaches and support staff, ably underpinned by a network of pathway coaches for whom we should be especially proud. Special mention to National Performance Director, Kevin Tabotta, who – along with Paul Brosnan, General Manager, High Performance, has achieved remarkable outcomes from our high performance programs in less than two years at the helm.

2012 was the inaugural year of Australia's first world professional road team, Orica GreenEDGE. On top of a very successful entry into the World Tour, the relationship established between OGE and our national programs proved crucial for the development of our elite athletes and staff; and none more important than the establishment of a women's trade team in partnership with the AIS.

RESOURCES

Finance

While consolidation and rationalisation were characteristic of 2012 in financial terms, we were fortunate to end up with a satisfactory result of $109,147 in surplus. This took the Balance Sheet back to just over $630,000 in members' assets.

However, with the write-off of some bad debts, rationalisation of our carry-over insurance provision and a reliance upon future return on investment from commercial and event projects, our short term future remains challenging, especially in terms of cash-flow as we head towards the final quarter of the 2012/13 financial year.

Operationally, the high performance department prepared well for an Olympic year with forward provisions covering the additional anticipated expenses. General administrative operations felt the pressure of a growing membership and related service demands and it was pleasing that membership revenue increased by 20% from 2011; however, a portion of this was related to new database cost recovery.

Message from the Chief Executive Officer

Insurance claims were well contained over the past 12 months although a premium increase of up to 5% is envisaged for 2013 in addition to any improvement in benefits.

Management

As the CA staff team has grown in recent years, so did the need for a restructure at the senior level of the organisation. The key elements of the new structure has been the establishment of a 4-department structure with 3 also based on the geographical location of CA offices;

- Chief Operating Officer (Sydney). Melinda Tarrant joined us in May 2012. Heading up the Mascot head office, Melinda has brought a significant degree of experience and rigour to the finance and membership operations in particular;
- National Performance Director (Adelaide). Kevin Tabotta has been heading up the HP department working in tandem with General Manager High Performance, Paul Brosnan, sharing the technical and program management duties.
- Commercial Director (Melbourne). Michael Edgley has also been leading the way with commercial and major event strategy for the past two years.
- Head of Marketing and Communications. This is a new role being recruited in early 2013. This role will be based in Melbourne in recognition of the volume of new work being generated by commercial activity; however, the staff team will be located throughout each office.

I also take this opportunity to recognise the exceptional contribution of Gennie Sheer over more than a decade. Her role in the Communications area has grown exponentially in recent times, especially in an Olympic year.

On the next tier of management, Sean Muir moved into the Sport Manager role with Brendan Moriarty retaining leadership of the Sport Development programs. In Melbourne, we welcomed Paul McVeigh to the Commercial Management Accountant role this year while the position of General Manager Events has been earmarked for recruitment when resources allow.

Commercial Program

2012 was a year of genuine consolidation for the commercial program with initial projects such as the Bike Expo and CA Tours showing solid growth trends along with an expanding broadcast product. The roll out of the Subaru sponsorship, extension of the SBS partnership, acquiring of the ANPHA sponsorship and establishing an office base in Melbourne, were highlights.

However, the most important progress for the year was in the formulation and preliminary implementation of a major event strategy; negotiations with MTBA, Caribou Promotions, State Event Corporations and the UCI are all starting to take shape and form a platform for a long term asset base. The operations of Australian Cycling Events P/L as a separate entity have been wound back as event operations are now linked within commercial operations.

CA has invested significantly into the commercial program and much reliance is now placed on its future returns. At this stage we are pleased to report that detailed predictive financial modelling, conservatively based on contracted revenue and known expenditure, indicates a projected return to surplus in the latter half of 2013.

It is important to acknowledge the significant investment, support and confidence placed in Cycling Australia by the Grass Roots Group. The subsidised St Kilda Road office facility and the considerable work invested in developing the anticipated member loyalty program, are of major note. A very special thank you is extended to chairman, David Evans MBE (GBR) and GM Australia, Matt Seadon.

Principal Partner

The Australian Government through the Australian Sports Commission and the Australian Institute of Sport continue the significant relationship that is recognised by 'principal partner' status. In addition to the major contribution to the funding of our successful high performance programs, national teams, and participation/development programs, Cycling Australia also benefited from funding for the Women and Wheels program, an additional CA governance development program and the proposed Adelaide office expansion project as well as the critical Green and Gold funding that assisted final preparations for London. We gratefully acknowledge the support of Senator the Hon Kate Lundy, Minister for Sport, ASC CEO Simon Hollingsworth and our Senior Partnership Manager, James Selby.

Sponsorship and Partnership

Again, a very special thank you is directed to the Jayco Corporation and by extension, GreenEdge Cycling (GEC). Gerry and Andrew Ryan have continued to be very important supporters of Australian cycling over many years and their current investment in the CA high performance programs, feeder pathway programs and major cycling events enable so much to be achieved within cycling in Australia.

CA is fortunate to enjoy the support of a wide range of corporate and government supporters. All these people are acknowledged and thanked hereafter; however in 2012 there are a few that should be individually recognised. To Andrew Caie from Subaru, Ken Shipp SBS, the Victorian Government, City of Ballarat, South Australian Government, ANPHA, Santini, BT Bikes, Scott, Shimano and the many others, we extend our genuine appreciation and thanks; we could not achieve what we do without them.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT AND THANKS

Hosting a world championships is always a great honour and in 2012 I am proud to say that CA presented one of the best ever UCI Track Cycling World Championships at Melbourne Park over Easter. The organisation was exceptional, the Australian athletes were on fire and the public came and supported us. A special thanks to the Organising Committee Chair Malcolm Speed, Event Director Trudy Lindblade, and the whole team behind them.

I again take this opportunity to acknowledge the many volunteers, officials, clubs and promoters who regularly deliver our sport to our members. Your contribution is critical and your efforts are greatly appreciated. To our principal affiliates the State associations, BMXA and MTBA, congratulations on another year successfully promoting our sport. Many of these people can be recognised in the contributions to this annual report; I thank them all and commend their reports. To the entire CA staff team all over Australia and often, all over the world: you now total in excess of 70 on a permanent basis and represent an incredible body of talent, capacity and passion for Australian cycling. Thank you.

In conclusion, I acknowledge the tireless efforts of the Board of Cycling Australia. It can be an onerous role and it is important we all recognise their commitment and dedication under the leadership of President, Klaus Mueller. I especially thank Tracey Gaudry and Stephen Hodge for their service, after having both stepped down from the Board this year.

DEPARTMENT REPORTS

High Performance Program

Program Overview

In close collaboration with the National Institute Network (NIN), Cycling Australia's High Performance Unit (HP) strives to provide an elite sporting environment with world leading coaching, equipment, sport science, service staff support and welfare to assist athletes pursuing Para-cycling, BMX, Road and Track disciplines to achieve sustainable success on the international stage and become ambassadors for our sport.

National Performance Director, Kevin Tabotta and General Manager – High Performance, Paul Brosnan, oversee the overall management and direction of the HP unit, closely monitored by CA's CEO, Graham Fredericks. Additionally, in 2009, CA appointed a panel of Australian sporting experts to form a High Performance Advisory Group (HPAG) to provide high-end strategic input into the HP Program operations.

Although medal-winning performances at the London Olympic and Paralympic Games were a clear priority in 2012, respective discipline International Cycling Union (UCI) World Championships and World Cups are a major focus every year, and 2012 was no exception.

Performance Highlights

(excludes Para-cycling and Junior U19s – refer separate reports)

Producing nine Olympic medallists and ten elite World Champions (8 track/2 BMX), 2012 should be considered a successful year for Australian cycling.

Olympic Games

Anna Meares winning Olympic gold in the women's sprint and Sam Willoughby claiming the first Olympic medal (Silver) for Australian BMX were standout achievements in London.

Track

The men's team sprint gold medal winning ride at the World Championships in Melbourne was a breakthrough performance for the HP Sprint Program. Equally Glenn O'Shea claiming gold in the men's Omnium and Anna Meares in women's Keirin were highlight performances in Melbourne.

BMX

Elite World Championship and overall UCI World Cup titles for Caroline Buchanan and Sam Willoughby, respectively, were significant achievements for the BMX HP Program.

Road

The much-anticipated debut of an Australian UCI World Tour team did not disappoint with GreenEDGE claiming the first major classic of the season, Milan San Remo, with Simon Gerrans. Rachel Neylan's silver medal winning ride in the elite women's World Road Race Championship was one of the biggest surprises to book-end the year.

Olympic Review – against podium plan

2012 Olympic Target: 8 Medals – 3 Gold
Actual: 6 Medals – 1 Gold, 2 Silver, 3 Bronze

2012 Paralympic Target: 10 Medals – 3 Gold, 4 Silver, 3 Bronze
Actual: 14 Medals – 6 Gold, 4 Silver, 4 Bronze

Resources

The resources provided to the HP athletes, coaches and staff are varied and numerous. For example, athletes who train at the Adelaide velodrome and Pizzey Park have access to state-of-the-art recovery centres, made possible by Australian Institute of Sport (AIS) capital works funding. HP athletes in Italy have access to the European Training Centre (AIS ETC) in Varese, Italy, and a residential base in Castronno, Italy, which allows for their exposure to international competition. Relationships with universities and external organisations allow for collaborative research, which provides CA not only with additional resources but also access to world leaders in areas such as aerodynamics.

Facilities

The CA HP unit has grown significantly over the past four years in particular. Recently, the ASC very generously committed substantial capital works funding to CA to construct a semi-permanent office building within the Adelaide Super-Drome precinct. The completion date for the new facility is April 2013 and it will provide increased office space for administration and coaching staff. The current space occupied by the HP unit will be reconfigured to conduct support services activities such as an ergo room, physical therapies treatment and consultation rooms.

At the beginning of 2012, the BMX HPP (High Performance Program) was inducted as an AIS scholarship camps-based program housed within the newly extended and refurbished AIS Pizzey Park facility on the Gold Coast. This provided the program with much-needed access to office space, training/sport science facilities, storage and other in-kind services.

Initiatives and Plans

With the London Olympics behind us, and as we enter into a new quadrennial cycle, the HP programs are currently undergoing a comprehensive and thorough 360° review. HP management will be consulting all stakeholders to develop a new 2013-16 High Performance Strategic Plan, to be endorsed by the CA Board.

Despite Australian cycling's successes in 2012, the rest of the world is catching up, with the British system clearly now setting the benchmark.

The Strategic Plan is a working document to be referenced and realigned on a needs basis to guide HP resources and activities optimally in order to achieve identified annual World Championship and 2016 Rio Olympic medal targets, whilst ensuring the underpinning pathway for Australian cycling's sustained success on the international stage i.e. a business model.

Staffing

We have become a big business. CA now directly employs 24 full-time HP staff, with an additional 9 full-time cycling staff employed by the AIS. The HP unit contracts an additional 20+ staff on a part-time/casual basis to provide specialist support e.g. soigneurs, mechanics, sport science, mechanics, team managers.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Partnerships

The HP unit has a number of valuable major organisations and sponsors, who provide significant financial support, namely, Jayco, NIN (AIS & SIS/SAS), Australian Commonwealth Games Association (ACGA), Australian Olympic Committee (AOC) and the Australian Sports Commission

(ASC). Additionally there are many corporate partners who support the HP programs, including but not limited to: Bike Technologies (BT), Santini, Shimano, Scott Bicycles and GreenEDGE. Without their commitment Australian cycling cannot sustain its reputation as an envied world leader.

On behalf of the high performance unit, we would like to express our appreciation for the commitment and world-class contribution made by all CA/AIS staff, program sponsors and partner stakeholders. Their collaborative efforts have helped to raise the profile of our sport and are imperative to sustain the ongoing success of Australian cycling on the international stage.

Para-cycling Program

Program Overview

The Para-cycling program is integrated with Cycling Australia High Performance Programs and works cooperatively with Cycling Australia's Coaching and Development department and respective Commissions regarding Para-cycling development, national level events and international competition.

With the London Paralympics being the priority focus for the program in 2012, the Los Angeles Track World Championships was specifically targeted as it was the only track event in 2012 to secure additional Paralympic qualification points prior to the 13 February cut-off.

All program athletes and staff agreed to operate with a Believe / Behave / Belong commitment and a 'Whole of Team' acceptance of what is needed to be achieved and how every athlete and staff member was expected to contribute.

Performance Highlights

The team exceeded expectations at the Track World Championships in Los Angeles winning eight gold, three silver and three bronze medals and breaking one world record. Very importantly, the team gained valuable qualification points towards qualification places for the Paralympics.

Having qualified for 12 Paralympic slots, six men and six female (six single bikes, three tandems, two handcycles and one trike), the team also achieved better than expected results at the Paralympics winning six gold, four silver and four bronze medals and breaking five world records.

Of special mention is the hand-cycling initiative implemented in 2011: the Australian Paralympic Committee (APC) supported a special initiative request for funding to support equipment and the position of a part time Hand-cycle Coordinator. Jenni Banks headed up the Hand-cycling discipline and it was really pleasing to note that Nigel Barley winning silver in the H3 Men's Paralympic Time Trial was Australia's first ever Paralympic Hand-cycle medal.

Another highlight was Carol Cooke winning gold in the combined men's and women's factored trike event. Carol's commitment and dedication to address every possible aspect of her preparation was very pleasing for program coaches and staff to witness – certainly a case study for any aspiring athlete.

Facilities

A training camp was held in Adelaide prior to departure to the Los Angeles World Championships. It was an excellent opportunity for the athletes to experience the high performance environment and services offered whilst training alongside other national track endurance and sprint team members.

In cooperation with the APC and the Australian Institute of Sport (AIS), the program effectively used the AIS in Canberra for a holistic sports medicine camp. Every potential team member, along with several identified potential athletes, had individual appointments or reviews to address their personal preparation (medicine, nutrition, biomechanical, physiotherapy, psychology and recovery).

As part of the team's preparation for London, the endurance group again embarked on an European training and competition block that included the Rome Road World Cup and the Segovia Road World Cup. Included in this trip were two development hand-cyclists and a male trike rider. The initial group trained in Italy and used the facilities of the European Training Centre before competitions in Switzerland, Italy and Spain.

In preparation for London, the APC conducted a team staging in Cardiff, Wales, to ensure the best preparation. Prior to entering the village, they coordinated a parallel staging for our cycling team using the Newport Velodrome and local accommodation. With Cardiff only 20 minutes away, we were able to fully use any support staff associated with Cardiff.

Because of the identified lack of training environments for our two selected hand-cyclists and trike rider around Newport and the village, they returned to Southern France where our team had trained before the Segovia World Cup for their final training and staging preparations prior to joining the remainder of the team in the village.

Initiatives and Plans

The International Cycling Union (UCI) initiated a Come and Try Day for Brands Hatch, the venue for the Paralympic road events. It was planned that following the Segovia World Cup, our Paralympic road riders would attend the training at Brands Hatch. In cooperation with the APC and the AIS we were able to carry out individual road course profiling and video for the athletes to use during their home based ergo sessions. I am sure this initiative proved very successful as we review our performances from the ITT's: Gold – C. Cooke Trike, Gold – D. Nicholas C3, Silver – S. Powell (C4) Silver – N. Barley H3 Hand-cycle, and Bronze – M. Gallagher C5.

Staffing

All program staff continued from last year with their full commitment through to the Paralympics with a deliberate strategy of continuity that would ensure an ease of understanding for all athletes and staff. Sarah Jack attended a number of national level events prior to travelling with the team to Los Angeles for the Track World Championships. This initiative proved successful in breaking down any potential barriers for athletes as we progressed towards London.

Paul Brosnan – High Performance Manager
Murray Lydeamore – Team Manager
Peter Day – Performance Director/Head Coach
Danielle Gillis – Program coordinator
Tom Skulander – Development co/Asst Nat Coach
Anouska Edwards – International Classifier/Physio
Jenni Banks – Handcycle coordinator
Alan Downes – Massage Therapist
Paul Martens – Coach
Sarah Jack – Psychologist
Alison Campbell (APC) – Sports Medicine coordinator
Peter Giessauf, Mike Winter, Dan Brent
Tom Borger – Mechanics

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Sincere thanks to Bernard Schreiber and his team from SCODY for their ongoing support of the program and their development of the competition garments we used at the Paralympics.

All athletes and staff are extremely appreciative of the APC's management and staff for their tireless work regarding every aspect of assisting with preparation in the lead-up to and while in London. Jason Hellwig and everyone associated with operational matters are to be congratulated on their outstanding contribution towards the overall success of the team in London. Thanks and recognition go to Alison Campbell. Her attention to detail and subsequent action regarding identified issues concerning athletes proved invaluable for several of our highest achievers.

A big team thank you to Danielle Gillis, HPP coordinator and Murray Lydeamore who was Team Manager throughout 2010, 2011 and 2012. Murray's appointment as Para-cycling Section Manager ensured continued efficient and effective managerial operations with both CA and the APC regarding all Paralympic requirements.

Thanks to the state associations, their commissaires and volunteers for conducting events for Para-cyclists. Without their continued commitment, there would be little or no competition opportunities for Para-cyclists.

It has been especially pleasing to note the progressing initiatives and working relationships being developed by CA's Development department and the APC's National and State Development coordinators. I would also like to recognise those SIS / SAS and their coaches who actively support the HPP Para-cycling program.

Thanks also to Graham Fredericks and CA Board of Management, the High Performance management team and all staff members who assisted with the operations of the Para-cycling program.

Commercial & Events

In the period Cycling Australia Commercial & Events (CACE) (previously known as Commercial Joint Venture) has invested heavily in developing our commercial strategies, building our resource base and securing initial foundation partnerships which will underpin our future prosperity.

The CACE operates in three broad areas;

1. Partnerships
2. Events
3. Member Loyalty

Partnerships

CACE has developed and implemented a national partner program which is a combination of existing CA inventory and newly developed and leveraged CACE assets.

Prior to deploying the national partnership strategy the CACE renegotiated and extended our exclusive broadcast agreement with Australian free to air broadcaster Special Broadcasting Service (SBS), creating a suite of new Cycling Australia owned content that forms the nucleus of the national partner program.

In the period CACE has secured multiyear category exclusive national partnership arrangements with global automotive brand Subaru and Federal Government entity, Australian National Preventative Health Agency (ANPHA). These partnerships have underpinned the financial performance of the CACE in the formative stages of our enterprise.

The CACE aims to secure new category exclusive national partnerships building on the program that has been developed.

A number of non-category exclusive partnerships have been reached with various entities including but not limited to;

- Velosure Insurance
- myBikeREGO
- Velosophy (BikeShow vendor cooperation agreement)
- KooGa (event based merchandise support agreement)

Events

Development of International Major Events Strategy:

At the core of our events activity is the development and deployment of our International Major Events Strategy.

An integrated long term strategy has been developed encompassing the disciplines of Road, Track and Mountain Bike across a full spectrum of events, including:

- World Championship, Cup, Tour & Classic
- Regional Championship & Tour events
- National Championship, Multi-leg Series & Tour events
- Participation events

The objectives of this strategy are to:

- A. Secure long term rights to major cycling events
- B. Exploit these major event rights via targeting Australian State and Regional Governments
- C. Maximise the profile, impact & benefits (direct & indirect commercial advantage) for cycling
- D. Create long term legacies for cycling in Australia

After engagement and consultation with the UCI, CA will:

- A. Hold the relevant rights from sanctioning bodies and/or rights owners; and
- B. Enter relevant funding, hosting and related agreements with the relevant governments, venues and service providers in Australia to deliver an integrated program of major cycling events.

CA has briefed the government owned event companies and key government representatives in each of the major Australian states / regions (Governments) on the growth of cycling in Australia, the CACE and CA's vision for major cycling events in Australia.

All states are actively engaged and have asked to be offered the opportunity to 'express interest' in hosting major events in one or more cycling disciplines.

Development of Domestic Major Events Strategy:

The CACE is leveraging the interest from Regional and State Governments EOI processes to secure support and funding for CA's domestic major events inventory especially in the areas of road, track and mountain bike.

In the period the CACE returned the Cycling Australia Road National Championships in house by completing a three + two (5) year agreement with Regional Victorian Government Agency Ballarat Regional Tourism (BRT).

At the same time we completed an agreement with Caribou Events to transition the commercial and event delivery rights to all Victorian based National Road Series cycling events.

We will now deliver annually six elite domestic road cycling events from 1 January 2013 providing a select suite of event inventory which will fund and retain elite cycling event delivery resources internally and provide a base for which the international event strategy can be scaled up to activate/deliver the anticipated future international events pipeline.

CACE reached in principle agreement with the Amy Gillett Foundation (AGF) to continue to deliver the AGF's major event "Amy's Gran Fondo" Lorne, Victoria which is a closed road participation event for 4,000 people. This agreement also includes the CACE integrating AGF assets into our commercial offering and developing a new business model for the promotion and delivery of its suite of "Amy's Ride" events (participation events promoted under the AGF brand).

The CACE plans to transition the "Amy's Ride" model from the current third party event promoters to a model that shares the revenue base of these events with CA affiliate state federations. This will assist to maximise the economies of scale in delivering nationwide "Amy's Ride" events and assist state cycling federations to connect with the broader cycling community by leveraging from the power and reach of the AGF brand.

The CACE also reached agreement with Mountain Bike Australia (MTBA) to manage the rights and event delivery of all MTBA national series and championship events, a key platform to commercialise this sector backed in by the international UCI World Cup and Championship events on offer via our MTB EOI process as detailed above.

Member Loyalty

During the period Grass Roots continued the strategic development, program partner recruitment and technology build phase of CA's future Member Loyalty portal.

Michael Edgley

Commercial Director

Australian Cycling Events

The final event conducted under the banner of Australian Cycling Events (ACE) was the 2012 UCI Track Cycling World Championships, which were staged at Melbourne's Hisense Arena in April. The event attracted entries from 41 countries and more than 28,000 spectators attended during the five days of competition.

Medal Table

Nation	Gold	Silver	Bronze	Total
Australia	6	6	3	15
Great Britain	6	4	3	13
Germany	2	2	1	5

Athlete Representation

The Championships hosted 306 athletes (190 men and 116 women) from 41 countries across ten sessions of racing, with 16 nations winning medals. The standard of competition was extremely high and by the end of the event five new world records were ratified.

World Records

Date	Event	Nation/Athlete
4 April 2012	Men's 4000m team pursuit	Great Britain
4 April 2012	Women's team sprint	Germany
5 April 2012	Women's 3000m team pursuit	Great Britain
5 April 2012	Women's flying 200m	Anna Meares
8 April 2012	Women's standing 500m	Anna Meares

Media & Publicity

One of the measures of the success of the event was the high level of media coverage generated. During the Championships track cycling twice claimed the front page of Melbourne's The Age newspaper.

The event website 2012trackworlds.com.au attracted 64,000 unique visits with more than 315,000 page views recorded.

Social media was a key promotional tool with Facebook and Twitter accounts actively used in the lead up to and during the event. Around 1500 users logged on to the live blog during sessions. Activity during the championships was unparalleled with the viral reach (page impressions, discussions, comments, likes, mentions and re-tweets) well in excess of one hundred thousand on each day of the Championships.

The media team initiated a successful viral campaign using USB-Man, a branded figurine that was included in the media welcome bag. This creative campaign provided a look behind the scenes of the event and generated online discussion via social media.

SBS continued their support of cycling with excellent coverage of the event including live coverage of all evening sessions on SBS2, a one hour highlights show on SBS1 and live streaming of all sessions via the Cycling Central website platform. Ratings indicate the share for SBS2 was double the usual average.

Eleven international broadcast networks covered the event providing both live and delayed coverage as well as highlight packages. The event attracted 253 hours of airtime; double that of 2011. The total audience reach was almost 200 million, a figure boosted by news programs in the UK and Germany reporting on the success of their respective national teams.

Hisense Arena

Melbourne & Olympic Parks Trust, the owner of Hisense Arena, invested capital funds to upgrade the velodrome prior to the event to meet current UCI requirements. These capital works included sanding the entire track surface that helped riders post fast times. The capital works provide a significant legacy. Cycling Australia extends its thanks to Lloyd Freeburn, Director Infrastructure & Services and his team for their tremendous work to provide a world-class track.

Sponsorship

The 2012 World Championships would not have been possible without the generous support of our event sponsors, in particular the contribution by the State Government of Victoria. Other event partners were: Cycling Australia, Subaru, Mars, Jayco, City of Melbourne and Ballarat Regional Tourism. Official suppliers included Jump Media & Marketing, Lanier, Coca Cola and Samsung, while SBS was the official media partner.

Volunteers

As with all major events volunteers play an integral role in the contribution to the overall success of the event. The 2012 track worlds had a total workforce of 375 people with 34% being volunteers. Volunteer roles included customer service, drivers, athlete services and medal ceremony hosts. Volunteers worked approximately 3,900 hours across the event. The Organising Committee sincerely thanks all the volunteers for their contribution to the success of the event.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

In closing I would like to thank Malcolm Speed for undertaking the role of Chairman of the Advisory Board and the Advisory Board members who guided the Organising Committee during the planning and delivery of the event.

I would also like to acknowledge the International Cycling Union, Victorian Major Events Company and the State Government of Victoria for their ongoing support of Cycling Australia's major events strategy to secure World Championship and World Cup events.

Major events play a significant role in strengthening the brand of cycling in the local community by providing an opportunity for members, cycling enthusiasts and sports fans to see the best in the world in their own backyard.

The final thanks goes to the members of the Organising Committee whose dedication hard work, aided by support from Cycling Australia and Cycling Victoria staff, ensured that an event of the highest standard was delivered and reinforced Cycling Australia's reputation for staging world class international events.

Coaching, Development and Participation

The Cycling Australia Sport Development Department continues to increase the number of accredited coaches across all disciplines. There is now full integration of BMX and mountain bike coach education with road and track, and provision of both generic and discipline-specific support to new and existing coaches across all disciplines. In addition, there is an increased focus on development through the National Junior Track Series and other new participation initiatives.

PERSONNEL

As a result of a recent Sport Department re-structure, Rob Leggett will be moving from the Sport Development Department to the Sport Competition Department to support Sean Muir, National Manager, Road. We are recruiting currently for a replacement with the capability to move upwards within coach education, provide technical cycling coaching input as well as manage the administration for the Sport Development Department.

In addition, Neil Ross (former Australian National Women's Track Endurance Assistant Coach and former Canadian National Coach), has taken over from Emma Rickards (maternity leave) and began as the National Coach Development Coordinator on 1 July 2012. Neil brings a wealth of coaching and coach education experience to the department and links the High Performance Department more closely with Sport Development through his High Performance Coach Development role.

COACHING

Coach Survey

The department conducted a coach survey earlier this year to ascertain the level of coach education activity at club and state level. The coaches' 'needs and wants' were also identified to allow for improved servicing of coaches along with more effective communication with the development staff at state/Territory level.

Coach Education Review

In line with the participation audit, the department is planning to conduct a coach education audit to ascertain the level of coach education activity at club and state level. The coaches' 'needs and wants' will be also identified to allow for improved servicing of coaches along with more effective communication with the Coaching and Development Staff at State/Territory level.

AustCycle

The Sport Development Department is establishing a clear strategic direction that integrates AustCycle into Cycling Australia's (CA) Coaching Pathway, whereby teaching safety through bike handling and traffic skills is the entry level (first step) to introducing and growing community participation in cycling.

Recent developments with the CA Participation Plan, discussions with the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) and internal consideration to change the scope of the CycleSkill course to re-include entry-level road environments, have all contributed to a review of the coaching pathway and in particular the role AustCycle has now and in the future.

CA and AustCycle are pleased to announce the development of a new NCAS accreditation, entitled AustCycle Skills Coach. The AustCycle Skills Coach is a new and improved one-day, entry-level cycling accreditation developed, implemented and managed in partnership by CA and AustCycle.

This high quality course is a blend of the existing Cycle Skills Coach Accreditation and elements of the Level 1 AustCycle Teacher Accreditation Program, creating a new and improved entry-level cycling coach who is accredited with the following remit:

The AustCycle Skills Coach will be able to coach basic cycling skills and safe cycling manoeuvres to beginner and intermediate riders in traffic-free and low traffic environments.

In essence, the AustCycle Skills Coach accreditation will provide both CA and AustCycle with increased capacity to deliver entry-level cycling programs in both the community and club contexts.

Road and Track

To link directly with the new AustCycle Skills Coach, a new entry-level road and track skills coaching course is currently in the development phase. It will be aimed at people who want to develop their road and track skills, and advance riders to their first road and track club races.

Mountain Bike

A new entry-level MTB coaching course is currently in the development phase. It will be a MTB-specific adaptation of the current CycleSkill coaching course and is aimed at those who want to develop and advance their rider's mountain biking skills.

BMX

At the start of 2012, an introductory level BMX coaching course was launched and has been extremely well received by clubs nationwide. It is aimed at those who want to coach children and beginner level adult BMX riders to develop and advance their riding skills on a BMX track.

Professional Development Opportunities (PDO)

PDO's delivered at National Championships during the year were:

- Junior Road Nationals – Pat Jonker: Analysing Course Profiles;
- BMX Nationals – Brian Kirkham and Luke Madill: Travelling for Racing;
- Various rider workshops at the National Junior Track Series rounds; and
- Anti-doping rider education workshop at U15/U17 Road Nationals.

The department is planning to incorporate webinars as part of the National Coach PDO calendar for 2013, targeting Level 1 and 2 coaches across all disciplines.

Coaches

A total 368 coaches were either newly accredited or re-accredited in 2011-12.

eLearning

CA's long-term eLearning vision is the creation of engaging online learning with, and for, affiliates that complements offline learning activity. CA and its affiliates will benefit in many ways, including:

- cost savings;
- an improved offer to learners and increased opportunity for learning;
- self-paced progress for the learner who has limited time;
- learning content at the point of need;
- ability to refresh skills at any time; and
- recruitment and retention of coaches and commissaires.

The ASC recently agreed to provide National Sporting Organisations (NSO's) with access to their eLearning portal. As well as managing the relationship with Canopi (the IT consultants) and providing guidance, training and in-kind support to the NSO's, the ASC provides us with options to customise a range of other courses it has developed for sport: Beginning Coaching General Principles; Play By The Rules; Member Welfare Course (in development); High Performance Goal Setting; High Performance Decision Making (in development).

PARTICIPATION & DEVELOPMENT

Alexandra Bright, National Participation Coordinator, has been driving a number of key initiatives in conjunction with the ASC, our affiliates at all levels, and the coaching and development team.

Beginners

CA has ongoing involvement in the development of the AustCycle National School Riding Program (ANSRP).

Road & Track

There is ongoing development of introduction to road and track racing programs and two new club-based participation programs aimed at providing new club members with the skills to contest their first road or track club race. Furthermore, production of a National Sign-On Day Research Report and consultation with SSO Executive Officers and CA internal departments for the delivery of a National Sign-On Day in November 2012 has been completed. Based on feedback, a nationally targeted date will not be pursued, but a Come and Try Cycling Club Manual to assist clubs with the delivery of Come and Try days for new members is in the final stages of development.

Juniors

CA had a successful delivery of the inaugural 2011/12 National Junior Track Series (NJTS), with an average of 110 riders (U15 and U17) contesting each round and 264 riders in total taking part in the NJTS. An NJTS Working Group has been formed for the 2012/13 series. This season's series includes the introduction of Madison (includes Madison orientation training and racing for U17 riders), three rounds extended to two days of racing and an exciting and updated schedule of events from 2011/12.

Serious Recreation

A Silver Calendar of CA sanctioned participation rides is now on the CA website, listing rides available to silver and gold members. An electronic calendar listing process and a silver calendar email address are in place to manage all calendar enquiries and requests.

Inclusive Cycling

A Para-cycling survey was conducted following the 2011/12 National Hand-cycling Series (NHS) and the 2012 National Para-cycling Championships. Key results included a list of coaches who currently coach Para-cyclists, feedback on the delivery of these events, interest and access to track cycling, interest in the expansion of the NHS to include all Para-cycling classifications and feedback on inclusion and access to racing opportunities. A NHS committee has been formed to oversee the 2012/13 NHS. Round dates for 2013 are being confirmed and communication is in place to align Australian Paralympic Committee Talent Search Days with the NHS to increase event exposure and participation in the coaching clinics (being held at each round). For the 2012 membership and beyond, Para-cycling membership is offered to people with a disability outside of the traditional Para-cycling pathway (deaf/hard of hearing and those with an intellectual disability). CA supported the 2011 Global Games (international multi-discipline event for people with intellectual disabilities) though staff attendance, insurance and the provision of clothing for team members.

Women

Consultation for the National Sign-on Day Project highlighted that targeting women and juniors as part of new member initiatives is important. Through Key Result Area 2 (Road & Track), these programs will have the flexibility to be delivered as targeted women's initiatives. Support to the CA 'Women & Wheels' media project through the Marketing/Communications Department has been provided, including a women's survey (cycling and BMX) focusing on questions about what women wished they knew when they first started cycling, what advice they would give to women getting started and who inspires them to cycle as well as content support for the educational videos (available on YouTube and the SBS Cycling Central website) being filmed as part of this project.

Industry Partnerships

Progress continues to bring organisations within the cycling community closer together. Work continues to form National Advocacy Partnerships, as well as discussions with the State/Territory Departments of Sport & Recreation to further replicate the integration process at state/territory level.

BMX & Freestyle BMX

BMX Event Training (BEM) was delivered to all NSW clubs and will continue to be rolled out in other states. Production of a new TV advertisement for the 2012 BMX National Sign-on Day was completed. 61 of 108 BMX clubs took part in National Sign-on Day, with over 750 participants and 171 new members signing up. Delivery of the new Beginner BMX Coaching Course commenced in January and has been highly successful. Development of the Online Level 1 BMX Club Officiating Course has seen 400 officials complete the training. The Freestyle BMX Coaching Course has been redeveloped and reduced to a half-day interactive course. Projects for 2012/13 have been condensed to BEM training, Freestyle BMX and BMX National Sign-on Day.

Mountain Bike (MTB)

The MTB Dirt Schools Program has been developed and is a ten-session MTB program for high school students. The program was launched at the Sydney Bike & Lifestyle Show and expressions of interest are now open for schools to purchase the program. MTBA will be holding a participation activity in October as part of the IMBA 'Take a Kid Mountain Biking Day'.

Acknowledgements

The large increase in the number of coaches, coach servicing and the other significant developments during the past 12 months could not have been achieved without the contribution of the presenter/assessor workforce and the staff from CA, BMXA, MTBA and each SSO across road, track and BMX. Thank you to everyone who played a role in the progress made during the past 12 months.

COMMISSION REPORTS

Road Commission

Projects and Events

2012 has seen major improvements in many facets of our national road cycling scene. The introduction of live television for the first time during the Road National Championships in Ballarat was a resounding success, made possible with CA's partnership with Subaru.

The launch of Australia's first Pro Tour Team on the world stage, GreenEDGE, means that there is now an uninterrupted pathway from grassroots to World ProTour for both men and women in this country.

The popularity of teams racing at National Road Series (NRS) level continues to increase across the board. The 2012 NRS season saw 23 teams register for the men's series (compared with 16 teams in 2011) and 11 teams register for the women's series (compared with six teams in 2011).

The Herald Sun Tour faced challenges with changes to the international calendar. Both the Herald & Weekly Times, owners of the event, and Cycling Australia have worked hard to preserve this iconic Australian event, which will now be held as part of a summer of cycling in January 2013.

The Sport Department has also recently committed to an increase in support of the National Hand-cycling Series. The focus will be on raising the profile and organisation at events, while also increasing the number of competitors and individuals trying the sport.

Even though our road riders missed out on medals during the London 2012 Olympics there was a strong showing by both the men's and women's teams. Australian riders' focus then shifted to the Road World Championships in the Netherlands where, although missing out on gold, we were one of the strongest teams with multiple medallists.

The GreenEDGE pro teams confirmed their strong starts to their debut seasons with both men's and women's teams also receiving medals in the team time trial.

Development

The development of a National Road Series standards document, which outlines the minimum standards an event must meet to be included on the NRS calendar, was one of the major developments undertaken by the Road Commission in 2012. Consultation included the first-ever promoters forum with current NRS promoters, national and international promoters, state associations and the Road Commission meeting to discuss event safety, promotion and ensuring the future success of road racing in Australia.

"Cycling's focus on providing the best events and participation experience possible for our members and spectators means we need to continue to improve and lift our game, especially when it comes to organisation of road cycling events. The work with our states, organisers and teams to develop the NRS standards has been vital to ensure we continue to improve the organisation of our top events" (Stephen Hodge, Chair Road Commission)

The annual review of the Road Nationals in Ballarat resulted in a decision to make the first change to the course for several years. The Cycling Australia Board approved a change to both the road and ITT circuits that should provide more opportunities for exciting and open racing, while maintaining a significant section on the iconic climb of Mount Buninyong. The ITT course will now include Lake Wendouree and the Avenue of Honour on a closed circuit in the centre of Ballarat.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

The Road Commission would like to extend its thanks to promoters, team managers and state representatives who assisted in the consultation process for the NRS Standards document. The members of the Commission have again devoted a significant amount of their personal time to contribute to the Commission's activities throughout a busy year.

Commission Members

Chairman: Stephen Hodge (resigned 19/10/12); Members: Matt Bazzano; John Craven; Rik Fulcher; Kipp Kaufmann; Michael Hands (co-opted); Donna Rae-Szalinski (co-opted)

Coach: Dave Sanders

CA Coordinator: Sean Muir

Road Commission

Track Commission

2011-2012 has been a big year for track cycling, from hosting the World Championships in April through to the wonderful performances of our elite athletes at the Olympic and Paralympic Games in London. Whilst we have tremendous strength in our elite ranks, there are challenges to overcome with growing grassroots participation on the track and attracting spectators back to track cycling.

Major Events

2012 UCI Track World Championships

Melbourne hosted a fantastic World Championships at Hisense Arena in April. This was the third time the elite track worlds have been held in Australia and the Championships provided a great opportunity for our elite cyclists to finalise their Olympic preparation on 'home turf'. Once again our track cyclists were the leading nation with six gold, six silver and three bronze medals. Special thanks must go to the organising committee, volunteers and everyone who made this such a great event.

Australian Championships

The decision was made to conduct the Para-cycling and Omnium Championships to coincide with the Madison Championships at DISC in December 2011 due to the timing of the Para-cycling Track World Championships in February 2012 and the capacity program for the riders at the elite & U19 Championships. The event was well supported and will be staged in the same format for the 2013 Championship later this year. Congratulations to Sue Powell (ACT) for being named the Para-cycling Champion of Champions.

For the first time, the final two night sessions of the Elite & U19 Championships were broadcast live on SBS2. While this created a few challenges (including a lightning strike to the Adelaide Superdome, which saw SBS briefly go off air during the broadcast) we look forward to the live broadcast again in 2013. Congratulations to Nettie Edmondson (SA) and Taylah Jennings (QLD) who were named the elite and U19 Champion of Champions respectively. Congratulations also go to the SA home team who won the Robina Joy Trophy as the winning state.

The U15/U17 nationals were held in conjunction with the Austral Wheelrace at DISC in Melbourne with the Championship scratch races staged on the night of the Austral carnival in front of a capacity crowd. This initiative was well supported by the teams who enjoyed the extra competition on the final day. Congratulations to Cameron Scott (NSW) who was named the Junior Champion of Champions and NSW, which was awarded the Ray Godkin Shield for the winning state.

National Junior Track Series

It was very pleasing to see the support the inaugural National Junior Track Series received with 264 riders competing over the five rounds with an average of 110 riders at each round. Congratulations to all involved in getting this series off the ground; we look forward to an even bigger series for the 2012-2013 season.

Performance highlights

Obviously the highlight on the track in 2012 was Anna Meares' gold medal performance in the women's sprint at the London Olympic Games – an outstanding achievement given the pressure of riding against England's 'Queen Victoria' (Pendleton) in her final competition.

Our riders were also successful at the Paralympics winning three gold medals: Kieran Modra and Scott McPhee (Tandem Pursuit in world record time), and Michael Gallagher (C5 Individual Pursuit), and Sue Powell (C4 Individual Pursuit), the latter two setting world records in qualifying rounds.

Our junior riders continue to amaze us with their performances. This year the team was the most successful ever, winning nine gold, four silver and four bronze medals, and again topping the medal tally at the Junior Track World Championships in Invercargill, New Zealand.

Congratulations to all riders who were selected to represent Australia in 2012; whether a medallist or not, it is an honour to wear the green and gold.

The year ahead

The Internationale Cycling Union's (UCI) decision to change the dates of the 2013 World Championships from late March to mid-February will potentially have a significant impact on the Australian track calendar. A strategic discussion on the future of the Australian track calendar is required; however, we await further advice from the UCI on the direction they are taking track cycling before commencing this process.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

I would like to congratulate the athletes, coaches, promoters, state associations and all the volunteers for their contribution to the high ranking our track cyclists have obtained.

Thanks also to my fellow Commission members for their continued contribution. In particular I thank Rob Bates who stepped down from the Chair of the Commission after seven years. Rob put a huge amount of his time into this role and we appreciate his efforts.

I also sincerely thank Lyriane Beuzeville for her ongoing management of the Commissions operations and efforts associated with track.

Projects & Events

Junior Gearing

Proposal in brief – remove the ‘blocking off’ of gears for U15/U17/U19 road riders. To achieve this, it was proposed that all riders must convert to running a minimum 14 cog (14-23 or 14-25) cassette and alter chainring configuration to align with set roll-out distances. Issues were identified with this and following further consultation with several interested parties a modified proposal was developed and agreed with the Technical Commission. The final junior gearing change agreed on and to become effective 1 October 2012 is: Increase the U17 rollout from 6.5m to 7m and prohibit the blocking off of gears at National Junior Road Championships. Since this decision was released at the end of August, we have received mainly positive support for the initiative.

Coaching Awards

The discussion came about due the lack of response to the call for nominations from the SIS/SAS's. There was a proposal to introduce three coaching awards to include Non-program Coach of the Year, Program of the Year and SIS/SAS of the Year. This has created a ‘grey area’ and therefore the need to tidy up the current process. This was causing the Coaching Commission a dilemma based on Australia’s growing success. Existing criteria were revised and new selection criteria developed, in particular for ‘Program of the Year’.

Development

It was noted and discussed that there was a skills gap with riders at SIS/SAS level, in particular females and athletes transferring from other sports. As a result, a set of skills testing protocols were developed to ensure quality of riders (and safety). This is currently in the development stages.

Satellite Coach Funding allocations have been changed to an annual process to reduce unnecessary administration.

Basecamp has been introduced as the key communication tool for the Commission. It is used for file-sharing in the ‘cloud’, agenda compilation, allocation of tasks and all discussions outside of face-to-face meetings.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

The Commission has recently lost the services of Emma Rickards who has taken maternity leave; however, we look forward to working with Neil Ross who will cover Emma’s role until she returns.

Finally, I would like to thank the members of the Coaching Commission for their significant contribution over the past 12 months.

Athletes Commission

2012 once again has been a wonderfully successful year across all disciplines of our sport. From the Track World Championships held in Melbourne, Mountain Bike World Championships, Road World Championship, BMX and Para-cycling events. Furthermore to the events week in and week out across the world in all disciplines, Australian riders are always at the forefront. In short our future looks extremely positive and our athletes’ results and international respect continue to grow.

The medals won by our Olympic and Paralympic teams were a magnificent achievement and have once again made Australia proud.

The Commission would also like to congratulate Anna Meares OAM and Stuart O’Grady OAM on their recent appointment to the Australian Olympic Committee’s Athlete Commission. Both this commission and the Board of Cycling Australia strongly supported their nominations and know they will add significant value in their roles.

The Commission continues to look out for the ongoing interests of the athletes in areas such as selection, safety and future development. As Chair, I continue to use the appointment on the Board of Cycling Australia to directly look after the interests of the athletes amongst the ongoing management of our sport. In addition to having the opportunity to contribute to all business conducted by the Board, in 2012 I had particular involvement in the review of the courses for the Road National Championships, the review and appointment of new independent selectors for national teams, the ongoing track season review as well as the appointment of selection appeal panels.

The members of the Athlete Commission continue to work within their particular disciplines to keep abreast of any issues the athletes may have. This work is much appreciated by me as Chair in helping the Commission to conduct its role. The dedicated Commission e-mail address, athletes.info@cycling.org.au continues to be the main avenue for contacting the CA Athletes Commission and a dedicated page on the CA website provides further information and contact information.

I take this opportunity to thank to Commission members for their contribution and feedback that enables my position on the Board to be effective.

Technical Commission

Technical Commission

The Cycling Australia Technical Regulations have been reviewed and a number of changes have been approved by the CA Board. The online version and a printed edition, which is provided to all National Commissaires, was updated and distributed in July.

The Technical Commission has been communicating with the Coaching Commission on a review project regarding junior gearing. This has now been completed with considerable input from all levels of our sport including athletes, parents, coaches and officials. It became clear that any changes made would not achieve 100% support but, at the time of publishing, we have only received very minor negative comments with a large majority offering positive support and understanding regarding this initiative.

Training & Development of officials

CA has experienced growth in its accredited track and road commissaires at an average of 15 new officials per month, but these numbers do not represent positive growth as they are offset by a percentage of non-active officials. As at September 2012, we have a total 630 currently accredited road and track cycling commissaires with a breakdown as follows: 511 Level 1, 64 Level 2, 46 Level 3 and 9 UCI. However at least 40% of these numbers are inactive as officials, while they remain on our list as current members.

Road & Track Commissaire levels:

As we look to grow our membership we also need to grow our accredited official numbers and provide progression paths. CA has developed a Level 1 online training program that gives prospective officials the opportunity to learn and gain confidence to move forward in a convenient, flexible program. We rolled out this program for BMX entry level officials training and it has achieved enormous support and positive feedback with more than 400 new officials completing the program in the first year.

BMX Officials:

The current procedure for an interested person contacting a State Association office to request the Level 1 training materials is relatively inefficient, inflexible and a barrier to increasing the number of officials. By providing an online theory component it allows the participant to complete this section in their own time whilst being easily assessable. We plan to streamline the practical assessment component by providing direct communication to assessors through a regional network.

Both Queensland and Victoria ran a Level 2 workshop in this past year and we will be encouraging all states to conduct regular State Level 2 officiating workshops to fill in this gap and support a succession plan.

We conducted a National Level 3 road & track training workshop at the end of September with 12 participants.

In June, we finalised the Cyclo Cross Technical Regulations to support the National Cyclo Cross series. We have now developed an online training module for the training of current road and mountain bike officials to also accredit them as Cyclo Cross officials.

In March this year, we ran an International Cycling Union (UCI) Elite National Commissaire training course with 15 participants with seven passing the training course to be accredited as Elite National Commissaires. We anticipate that the UCI will be requesting nominations for the UCI International Road and/or Track Commissaire training in 2013, although this may depend on the new requirements for currently active UCI International Commissaires to choose between two disciplines or Doping Control accreditation.

Masters Commission

The masters community comprises more than 50% of the Cycling Australia membership with approximately 8,500 'gold' racing members and 3,500 'silver' participation members (excluding masters age 'elite' members). Membership in both classes is trending upward with participation memberships showing increasing scope for further growth as better organised recreational and challenge events are offered and general membership benefits increase, as does the prominence of the Cycling Australia (CA) brand.

Track Racing

Masters' track racing remains strong across Australia and our elite masters were some of the best performing athletes at the International Cycling Union (UCI) Track Cycling Masters World Championships in Manchester in October 2012.

Due to the withdrawal of the initial host state, our 2012 National Masters Track Championships were run at a less than optimal time in February as opposed to our usual late March / April timeslot. This, and other factors, contributed to a smaller participation than last year; however, the standard of racing remained high.

A Masters Team Pursuit National Championship was introduced for the first time and will remain as a stand-alone event run by NSW for the next few years. We thank Cycling NSW for organising the championships at relatively late notice and their commitment to this new event.

Our 2013 track championships will be held in Perth in mid-April, strategically placed alongside the UCI World Cycling Tour, the Perth Track Cycling Grand Prix and other participation events to give members a real cycling intensive holiday opportunity.

Congratulations to all who represented Australia at the UCI World Masters Track Championships in Manchester, United Kingdom. Australians once again performed admirably and, given the tyranny of distance, third on the medal table was a brilliant result.

Road Racing

Again this year, Australian promoters hosted two UCI World Cycling Tour events in Perth in March 2012 and Amy's Grand Fondo in September 2011. Congratulations to both promoters. The Masters Commission encourages members to support these very high quality cycling events specifically organised for masters cyclists. From these events many cyclists qualified for and participated well in Australian colours in Pietermaritzburg, South Africa, in August. The results are contained later in this annual report.

Australian Masters Road Championships

Just shy of 500 athletes descended on Goulburn, NSW, from 3-6 October for the Australian Masters Road Championships. Another well organised and officiated championship was punctuated with many brilliant athletic performances and many long rivalries and friendships were re-ignited.

The event will return to Goulburn again in October 2013 and we can only assume that it will be even better through the learnings from this year and the ongoing support of the local shires and businesses that assisted with the event and made the athletes and officials feel most welcome.

Road Participation

The Masters Commission also welcomed the introduction of the CA Silver Calendar, a calendar of participation events for our silver members. The vast majority of participants in these types of events are masters age cyclists. This list of CA approved events heightens the standard of events available to our masters members.

Future Events and Developments

We are pleased that the CA Board has approved an increase to the number of awards available to masters cyclists at the 2012 Cyclist of the Year Awards. Acknowledgement of the male and female road, track and mountain bike cyclist of the year will be awarded from which the overall Masters Cyclist of the Year will be selected.

September Strategic Planning meeting

The Masters Commission met for a full day strategic planning workshop in Sydney with many initiatives tabled with the intent of improving the delivery of benefits to our masters members. Those ideas are being refined and feedback is being sought from the membership to assist us to prioritise those initiatives.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

I thank the members of the commission for lending their experience to masters cycling in 2012.

Special thanks to Rob Ingall and Joanne Cameron whose positive input into masters cycling is unknown to many out there riding in events that Rob, Jo and the CA staff coordinate.

Para-cycling Commission

Projects & Events

The 2011-2012 Para-cycling season saw some remarkable results for Australian Para-cyclists. Sue Powell continued her amazing career by winning both the C4 Road Race and Time Trial at the Para-cycling Road World Championships in Denmark and Jayme Paris won her respective events at the same Championships. Felicity Johnson and Stephanie Morton were crowned dual World Champions at the Los Angeles Para-cycling Track World Championships, winning both the B Women 1K Time Trial and Sprint. Simone Kennedy, Alex Green, David Nicholas and Michael Gallagher all became World Champions, while Sue Powell also impressed.

The London Paralympic Games saw Sue Powell continue her stellar 2012 season by winning a gold and silver medal. Michael Gallagher and David Nicholas both took home a gold and bronze medal. Felicity Johnson & pilot Stephanie Morton, Kieran Modra & pilot Scott McPhee and Carol Cooke all won gold for Australia. Nigel Barley, Simone Kennedy and Bryce Lindores & pilot Sean Finning won silver, and Alex Green and Jayme Paris capped off a wonderful Paralympics by winning bronze medals.

Development

A more active role from Cycling Australia (CA) in coordinating the 2013 National Hand-cycling Series (NHS) will ensure the series adopts a more professional approach. A NHS Committee working group has been established. Event entries will now be taken through the IMG database and an updated NHS section of the CA website will ensure any Para-cyclists looking to take part in the series have all of the necessary information readily available. Aligning APC Talent Search Days and Come and Try Days with rounds of the NHS will add to the exposure of the series leading into 2014. A 2014 Para-cycling Series is in the early stages of development to include all Para-cycling classifications.

We have updated the Para-cycling section of the website, which now includes a step-by-step guide on how to get classified in cycling. A development and participation section has been placed on the homepage of the CA website, which includes information sheets and resources on inclusion and Para-cycling. We will continue to compile resources for the website, including the creation of an Inclusion/Para-cycling information video.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Special thanks must go to Jenni Banks for filling the vacancy on the Para-cycling Commission. Jenni's knowledge of Para-cycling will ensure the future of the sport is in safe hands.

Rob Leggett, Alexandra Bright and Sean Muir have contributed significantly to the NHS and their hard work has not gone unnoticed.

Cyclo-Cross Commission

It has been a huge year for the development of cyclo-cross in Australia; from the launch of Australia's first National Cyclo-cross Series (NCXS) through to the establishment of a Cyclo-cross Commission and the UCI expressing interest in the discipline's development in Australia.

Projects & Events

National Cyclo-cross Series

It was astonishing to see the support of the inaugural National Cyclo-cross Series (kindly sponsored by Champion System and SRAM) with over 100 riders competing over the six rounds, with an average of over 60 riders at each round.

Rounds 1 & 2 were held in Melbourne (July), Rounds 3 & 4 in Adelaide (August) and Rounds 5 & 6 (September) in Sydney. Congratulations to all involved in getting this series off the ground. We look forward to an even bigger series for the 2013 season.

To further compliment the launch of the NCXS, highlights of each round were broadcast on SBS during the Cycling Central program. Congratulations to Victorians Lisa Jacobs (Carnegie Caulfield CC / VIS) and Adrian Jackson (Merida Flight Centre) for winning the inaugural Women's and Men's NCXS respectively.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Cycling Australia and Mountain Bike Australia would like to thank the staff and members of Full Gas Promotions, Dirty Deeds Cyclo-cross (Brunswick CC), Port Adelaide CC and Manly Warringah CC. In particular, the NCXS could not have happened without the hard work of Kristjan Snorrason, Andrew Blake, Nik Cotterell, Gemma Kernich, Neil Ross and Rob Parbery.

A special thank you is also extended to the naming sponsor support of Champion System and SRAM.

AFFILIATE REPORTS

Cycling ACT

Governance

At the last elections, two long serving members of the Cycling ACT Committee retired. We thank both Tim Ward and Mark Phelan for their significant contributions over many years to cycling in the ACT. Tim Ward was a founding member of the ACT Cycling Federation and had been a serving member of the committee since its inception.

Membership

In the past 12 months, Cycling ACT has welcomed two new affiliations from Australian Defence Cycle Club and Australian National University Cycle Club. As a result of these affiliations, Cycling ACT has seen a growth of over 10% over the last year. These new affiliations are a significant step forward, and whilst this development is challenging some of the dynamics from what has been a relatively static situation for a number of years, it is a great catalyst to redefining the organisation as it moves forward.

Sport

This past year has also seen Cycling ACT hold its inaugural state Track Championships at Dunc Gray Velodrome. Operating in an Omnium format, these championships were a great success thanks to outgoing President Jim Veal's vision and hard work. ACT riders have once again been prominent at both the national and international level. Sue Powell continued her world championship successes by winning gold at the velodrome in the Paralympics, while Michael Rogers and Chloe Hosking competed in the road events at the Olympic Games. Alex Bird took out the men's sprint title at the Australian Track Championships.

Other prominent cyclists this year have included Michael Matthews, Adam Phelan, Mitchell Lovelock-Fay, Rory Sutherland, Tom Palmer, Gracie Elvin, Jessie MacLean, Miffy Galloway, Allison Rice, Ben Hill and Nathan Haas. For a small community of just over 800 members, we continue to punch well above our weight thanks to a great supporting network of coaches, club officials and volunteers.

Key objectives for the year ahead

All the cycling organisations within the ACT are currently involved in an ACT Government review to identify better ways that we may operate through possible commonality of services and resources. With all organisations operating in a common geographic area, the ACT probably provides a better opportunity for greater integration of a range of cycling bodies than most other states, and work on this integration will continue into next year.

Governance

In May 2012, Cycling NSW (CNSW) club delegates elected Ray Godkin and re-elected Jeff Maloney to be directors for two years until May 2014. Unfortunately, in June 2012, Joe Jones resigned as a director of CNSW. Joe contributed well to the Board activities and we look forward to seeing him involved in other ways in the future.

The CNSW Board recently endorsed an updated strategic plan. The CNSW 2015 Strategic Business Plan establishes the direction CNSW intends to take over the next three years by continuing the transformation of the management and role of CNSW into a more robust business and professional sports administration entity delivering a safe, professional and fair environment in which CNSW sanctioned events are promoted and conducted.

Financially, CNSW is in a sound position with increasing levels of sponsorship for events, continuing funding grants for athlete development programs and increasing participation by riders at events.

Membership

In 2012, CNSW membership continued its trend of growth (approx. 5%) with numbers currently at more than 7850. This number is made up of: 47% masters; 26% recreational; 13% elite & U19, 12% juniors and 2% volunteers and officials.

February 2012 saw CNSW and Bicycle NSW sign a Memorandum of Understanding to jointly promote and grow cycling participation in NSW, and identify synergies and joint initiatives wherein both parties can leverage off the business strengths and core competencies of the other party to promote cycling membership.

Sport

2012 was a significant year for cycling during which CNSW saw fit to review its strategies and ensure opportunities were leveraged off the increased levels of media coverage and public interest. More effort was put into establishing a National Road Series (NRS) tour, growing the number and size of the cyclo sportif activities supported and ensuring that the requirement to deliver track racing was not lost.

In late 2011, CNSW was able to engage

Santos Ltd as a major sponsor for an NRS event to be conducted in NSW. In June 2012, the inaugural Santos North Western Tour was conducted as part of the Subaru NRS for both men and women. It took place over the same period as the traditional 'Sundowner' and Gunnedah to Tamworth events, and was supported by 144 male and 52 female riders over five stages. The rider support for the two traditional events remained stable.

2012 also saw further development of the cyclo sportif style events to become a 'weekend of cycling', which included several race events on the Saturday. As a consequence, the Blayney to Bathurst cyclo sportif weekend attracted more than 2,300 entries this year. A similar series of race events, a criterium and a hill climb event on the Saturday supported the inaugural Xstrata Great Hunter Cycling Classic cyclo sportif event conducted on the Sunday; there were more than 525 race entries for the weekend. These cyclo sportif weekends are successfully targeting the 'grassroots' level of participation and supporting the establishment of seven of these events across the State by 2014 remains a strategy of CNSW.

At a National level in 2012, CNSW successfully hosted the Australian Masters Track Championships, a round of the National Junior Track Series and the Australian Masters Road Championships.

The performance of NSW athletes continues to excel at both the national and world levels. The success of Tirian McManus winning gold and bronze at the 2012 UCI Junior Track World Championships in New Zealand is very pleasing – it is wonderful to see another of our U19 athletes establishing his position on the world stage. Other CNSW riders competing on the world stage in 2012 included Kaarle McCulloch, Amanda Spratt, Alexandra Green, Simone Kennedy, Jayme Paris, Ashlee Ankudinoff and Caleb Ewan. A further three NSW riders have also been selected in the 'long lists' for the 2012 UCI World Road Titles in late September.

CNSW continues to support the development of junior athletes through CNSW teams competing in a variety of international junior events, including the Yunca Tour of Southland (NZ), New Caledonia Development Tour and the Junior Trans-Tasman Challenge (track festival). CNSW juniors claimed 14 medals (nine gold) at the Australian Junior Track Championships and NSW riders won the 2011/12 National Junior Track Series in the JM15 and JM17 categories. Cameron Scott, Travis Smedley, Jack Edwards and Josie Talbot were the standout riders.

CNSW continues to partner very closely with NSWIS and currently a total 39 riders have scholarships for 2011-12 (13 of whom are new recipients of a scholarship).

Key objectives for the year ahead

In 2013, CNSW has a number of key objectives to achieve, including continuing the membership growth trend (targeting 8,500), further developing the focus on the participation of women, establishing an event promotion capability to support the conduct of key CNSW owned events and focusing more closely on the development and engagement of our volunteers and officials.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

The Directors, Chief Executive and staff of CNSW would like to express their sincere gratitude to all the volunteers, commissaires and sponsors without which CNSW would not be able to facilitate the many quality events conducted by our affiliated clubs and promoters for the benefit of both racing and social riders.

Finally, Aleece Longbottom and Kurt Polock will both be leaving their roles at CNSW in late 2012. Both staff members have been a source of energy, experience and knowledge in our office and will be missed. We wish them all the best in their future endeavours.

Strategic Plan

Last year the Board initiated a Futures Forum to discuss the way forward for the sport in Queensland. A workshop was held and strategic conversations took place with a select group of passionate followers and participants of the sport, including Bicycle Queensland. The attendees included corporate executives with a variety of business experience and skills, and their points of view were very well accepted.

The information received at the forum provided a basis to develop a strategic plan for the future. A questionnaire was then made available for all members to complete. The questionnaire invited comments on issues the workshop identified as areas that needed attention. The number of responses received was above expectations and provided very good information for the Board to consider.

The three year Strategic Plan for the sport in Queensland was then formulated and provided to all clubs for final input/approval. Strategic Pillars have now been established with each assigned to a member of the Board. The Pillars are: Membership; Community Partnerships; Governance and Capability; Events and Delivery; Funding and Resources.

Membership

Membership of the Association continues to increase with an overall rise of 12% in the last twelve months. It is interesting to note the membership numbers in different age categories and the percentage increase of each club across the state. The clubs with large numbers should be congratulated on the programs they have in place to attract and, more importantly, keep new members. The sport is indebted to the many volunteer club officials and the services they provide.

This year, Cycling Queensland (CQ) has 31 clubs affiliated. A new level of club membership was recently introduced to cater for those cycling groups that initially find it difficult to meet the strict affiliation requirements that are in place. These clubs are recognised as Tier 2 clubs and are not necessarily committed to competitive cycling but have a desire to be part of CQ and Cycling Australia (CA), and enjoy certain benefits that are available as members. This initiative has seen two new Tier 2 metropolitan clubs affiliate so far; however the Tier 2 status of membership should have greater appeal to other groups of cyclists in regional Queensland.

Sport

Athlete Performances

Queensland cyclists continue to perform at the national and international level. It is always pleasing to read the results of the Australian Championships and see the number of times our riders are mentioned. More so we are thrilled to see their names on results of the World Championships and international events.

Last year Taylah Jennings and Emily Roper won gold medals at the Junior Track World Championships and Michael Hepburn won gold at the Elite Track World Championships. And I'm pleased to report that both Taylah and Michael backed up and won gold at the 2012 Championships and Emily has been selected to compete at the Road World Championships.

Other Queensland riders who received a mention in the 2011 results at international events and are part of the 2012 national teams are Jay McCarthy, Jordan Kerby, Dave Edwards, Shara Gillow, Para-cyclists Dave Nicholas, Bryce Lindores and Jarrod Moncur.

Although she now lives in South Australia, we still claim Anna Meares as a Queenslander and we are very proud of her performances at the very highest level. She certainly is a great champion and a credit to the sport in this country.

Junior Development

CEO, Geoff Rynne, and the staff have negotiated with and had commitment from coaches to participate and run junior development programs as part of the athlete pathways and high performance programs. Throughout the year, they worked closely with the Queensland Academy of Sport and the National Talent Identification personnel to develop support programs for the riders in the under 15 and under 17 age groups through a number of avenues including the CA High Performance Program and participation initiatives.

The National Junior Track Series has been well supported by the under 15 and under 17 riders and we extend our congratulations to our riders for their excellent performances. We also offer our thanks to the coaches and team officials who have contributed to their success and to the organisers of the series.

The Junior Development Program will be expanded in the coming year as arrangements are in place to organise junior development camps.

Volunteers

The Association continues to struggle to find sufficient numbers of volunteers. Improvements in the benefits provided to the volunteers by way of incentives and rewards are regularly being addressed to encourage them to become involved and stay in the sport. We are currently tapping into the university programs to involve people with specific talents to assist the office staff and help to organise events. Staff members have attended a course in regard to volunteer management and are putting into practice some of the knowledge gained.

A new Technical Commission has been implemented and discussions have been held with the Commission for a change to the commissaire appointment process. Part of that process will be proactive monitoring of the activity levels of all accredited commissaires to ensure compliance with the NOAS requirements.

It is also important to recognise the work of the volunteer coaches who assist with state team preparation for the National Championships and the coaches at club level who spend many hours coaching their athletes for state championships and other events. The work of the coaches is also very much appreciated.

It must be noted that the volunteers are not just commissaires and coaches but any parent or supporter of the sport who is ready and able to work at an event in any capacity and should be justifiably recognised.

Events

The clubs and private promoters who organise open road events must be congratulated for their hard work. They are working with new requirements to improve traffic management and create safer events and are working hard to ensure that local events continue at safe levels.

Track cycling across the state continues to flourish with increasing entry numbers particularly in regional areas. The Chandler facility is showing its age and the cost to maintain the velodrome has an impact on the users' ability to cover the high rental fees. The state track championships regularly suffer because of the weather, adding more weight to the proposal for the State Government to build an indoor facility.

Throughout the year, CQ organised many state championships in all disciplines including Para-cycling events. CQ also hosted the National U19 Road Championships, the Australian Para-cycling Road Championships and the Oceania Para-cycling Road Championships.

A State Road Teams Series organised by CQ has proved very successful with the registration of 16 teams competing in five events in the south-east corner of the state. The increased traffic management costs mean that the future conduct of the series is dependent upon major sponsorship funds being found.

The only National Road Series event in Queensland was held in Toowoomba. The Toowoomba Cycling Club, with support from many local sponsors, was responsible for the successful promotion of an excellent event.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

We extend our thanks to the Queensland Government Department of Sport and Recreation that provides the necessary funding for the sport to operate. We also extend our appreciation to the Queensland Academy of Sport.

In the last year, we have been fortunate to attract sponsorship in various levels of cash or kind. We now enjoy partnerships with City Subaru (as an extension of the Subaru sponsorship with CA), Triple Play Clothing and Gold Cross Cycles. We extend our appreciation to all our partners and sponsors and look forward to growing these relationships and developing others in the future.

Finally, this report would not be complete without recognising the very significant role the Queensland member clubs officials play in the administration and development of the sport throughout the year. As we move forward there will be increased pressures to address the demands that will come about with the requirements relating to control and management of road races that will be placed on the sport by government authorities. The role each club plays in this and dealings with local authorities will be critical.

The successful outcomes by Cycling Queensland would not have been achieved without the enthusiastic support and commitment of the members of the Board and the dedication of the staff for which we are extremely grateful.

Cycling SA

Membership

Cycling SA's membership remained steady during the year and was consistent with the usual trend of spikes in September/October and again in March/April. These spikes are attributable to specific events on the racing calendar. The introduction of Silver Ride licenses for Cyclo Sportif has seen this become one of our fastest growth areas with an average of 160 riders attending each Cyclo Sportif event. During the year, a new series was launched specifically for women. Hosted by the Skinny Lattes Cycling Club, the Women's Challenge Series is helping to drive new female membership. The Masters category remains the largest membership at 40% of the total.

Sport

Cycling SA's Elite Teams Series developed further during the year, from a 12-round criterium series to a 13-round series including crits, road races, Team Time Trial (TTT) and Individual Time Trial (ITT) and also including two crits on closed roads during Tour Down Under (TDU) festivities. The new model was an outstanding success and attracted extraordinary crowds to some events, in particular the TDU-associated events, the ITT up Adelaide's famous Norton Summit climb and the TTT that was held immediately following a Cyclo Sportif event.

Cycling SA has been leading a lobby group to develop Victoria Park as a cycling hub and crit venue and this project will continue over the ensuing year.

Key objectives for the year ahead

The Strategic Plan seeks to attract and retain juniors and women to the sport; to continue lobbying to achieve a cycling hub at Victoria Park; to continue lobbying for the redevelopment of Hanson Reserve outdoor velodrome so that racing can return there; and to secure a new major sponsor.

Membership

Member numbers in 2012 of 192 were still down on our peak of 301 in 2009 and the trend is towards participation in recreational cycling rather than organised competitive events. There are strong recreational groups such as Women on Wheels to whom we need to be identifying benefits that would entice them to join CA. Furthermore, the Darwin Cycling Club conducted a very successful Gran Fondo event that attracted over 500 participants. However, road closures and permits to conduct events are becoming increasingly restrictive and expensive and with very small clubs this is pricing weekly road racing out of the capacity of the Darwin Cycling Club.

Two tandem track bicycles were provided to the Alice Springs Cycling Club for use by athletes with intellectual disabilities. Two riders joined in with regular club rides and training sessions that culminated in their inclusion in the NT Track Championships.

Sport

Coach Development

In November 2011, an AustCycle course was conducted, which five people undertook and four completed.

Throughout February/March, two CycleSkill courses were delivered flexibly, which resulted in 12 participants obtaining their qualification. This was followed by a combined Level 1 track, road and MTB course conducted by Brendan Moriarty, which ten coaches attended. Cycling NT sent invitations and information to the BMXA and MTBA clubs and subsidised their fees. Cycling NT continues to work towards building a positive relationship between the different codes of cycling in the NT with varying degrees of success.

Officiating

National Commissaire Trevor Owen heads the NT Technical Commission and is located in Darwin. Cycling NT supported Trevor to attend the junior hill climbing event at Mt Buffalo in order to give him the necessary opportunities to maintain his certification. Trevor continues to work with two Level 1 Commissaires who are due to complete their Level 2 in September when he is in Alice Springs. Cycling NT is funding a Darwin based Level 1 commissaire to officiate in the Alice Springs Masters Games so Trevor has access to major events to maintain his currency.

Junior Development

The underpinning junior development programs are running well under the coaching of Tim Ellison (Darwin) and Aaron Hughes (Alice Springs). A highlight of 2012 was the five day junior residential track camp conducted in April at the Alice Springs velodrome. We were again fortunate to have the services of Cam McFarlane from Victoria, coupled with the expertise of our developing local volunteer coaches led by Aaron Hughes and me in Alice Springs, and Nerida Godfrey from Darwin. The camp culminated in the NT Track Championships and NT juniors competed creditably in the Victorian Christmas Carnivals.

Tim Ellison continued to conduct the camps based NTIS program until January when he resigned. Bec Thyne replaced him as the Head Coach for the NTIS. We continue to work towards ensuring all coaches in the program hold a minimum of a Level 1 coaching qualification. There have been changes to the NTIS program due to reduced funding but also a lack of suitable athletes.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

I would like to acknowledge the financial support provided by the NT Government through our annual peak body funding as well as the support from Cycling Australia, particularly from Brendan Moriarty and Alex Bright.

I would also like to acknowledge the hard work done by our committee: Stuart McDonell, Judy Buckley, Aaron Hughes, Trevor Owen, Tim Ellison and me.

Governance

Cycling Tasmania (CT) has made progress towards achieving our strategic goals with key outcomes including:

- Regional representation at board level to cover the state (including NNW and Southern areas)
- Employment of an Executive Officer (casual employee)
- Naming rights sponsor – St Lukes Health
- Increased membership and growth in the events calendar

Membership

The employment of a casual Executive Officer has enabled us to make membership a priority.

The number of road and track participants has increased by 14% to approximately 550. A healthy number (approximately 435) of riders have MTB licenses and can now be included in grant applications to Sport & Recreation Tasmania.

We amended our membership fee structure in a bid to attract additional members and to retain existing members. This strategy has seen significant gains with two MTB groups expressing interest in affiliating with Cycling Tasmania.

A Code of Conduct brochure was developed and posted to our website as well as being distributed to members. The focus of the brochure is on training protocols and general road etiquette and it is considered a valued and informative publication for new and existing members.

Sport

During the reporting period CT have conducted a range of events including a round of the National Junior Track Series, a round of the U19 selection road race series and a short but successful major track series along with various state calendar events. We conducted a Cycle Skills course; a level two commissaires' course, numerous Come & Try days for all disciplines and provided support for state road and track teams to compete in National Championships.

Tasmanian cyclists Richie Porte and Matt Goss were prominent in the Tour de France this year while Georgia Baker claimed two gold medals at the Junior Track World Championships in New Zealand and was selected in the national team for Road World Championships. Macey Stewart and Lauren Perry won gold at the junior track nationals. Tasmanian cycling was also represented in London with Matt Goss and Amy Cure selected in the Australian Olympic Team. We also congratulate National Commissaire Garry House who was selected as an official at the track worlds in Melbourne. Mark Matthews was recently appointed to the role of Development Officer.

Key objectives for the year ahead

Cycling Tasmania has identified coaching, commissaires and risk management as key target areas for 2012 -2013. We plan to conduct a level one coaching course for road/track and MTB and to roll out the national risk management strategy across Tasmania.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

We acknowledge and thank our sponsor St Lukes Health for its support and thank all Board members, Executive Officer Collin Burns and administrator Robyn Bailey. We also thank the Department of Sport and Recreation for its continued support of our healthy lifestyle activities. We also thank our affiliated clubs and the hardworking committees and volunteers who deliver safe competition events for our members.

Governance

Cycling Victoria (CV) is engaged in completing the 2013-2016 Strategic Plan that will drive the future of the sport within the state.

Membership

CV membership levels rose with the highest increase being Gold Race and temporary memberships.

Sport / Coaching & Development

CV has concentrated on the development of programs and policies around women's cycling and this has seen increased participation across all sectors of the sport.

CV has developed a much stronger development pathway through the establishment of four Regional Academies of Cycling. This is further underpinned by the creation of the Victorian Development Squad that provides racing and training opportunities for junior under-17 and under-15 riders.

This year CV received the Best Development Activity award from Vicsport.

Marketing & Communications

The portfolio of Marketing and Communications continues to grow for CV with our website receiving more than 50,000 hits a month. Our following in social media is also growing with the number of followers increasing by more than 15-percent a month.

CV will focus on developing more video and imagery of clubs, events and programs in the next year.

Major events conducted

Victoria hosted 94 state, national and international events in 2011-2012. Melbourne played host to the 2012 UCI Track Cycling World Championships while some of the world's best riders competed at the Austral Wheelrace and Bendigo Madison.

On the road there has been an explosion of participation event entry numbers at record levels. Highlights were Cycling Australia Road National Championships (elite, junior, masters and hill climb) and five Subaru National Road Series events.

The 'Challenge Series' grew in last part of 2012 with a number of promoted events becoming partners with CV to enrich the Silver Ride member experience.

Significant results/achievements

Victorian riders continued to excel on the international stage. On the track, Shane Perkins won the team sprint world title in Melbourne and a sprint bronze medal at the Olympic Games. Victorian juniors collected ten medals at the Junior Track World Championships, an unprecedented effort.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Cycling Victoria would like to thank the tireless volunteers and clubs whose ongoing support drives the sport. We also thank our key partners Cycling Australia, BMX Victoria, the Victorian Institute of Sport, Vichealth, Sport & Recreation Victoria for their continued support.

Governance

The 2011-12 reporting year commenced with the completion of a constitutional and governance review process, the election of new members to the WACF Board, and the successful return, after a two year hiatus, of the Tour de Perth. WestCycle, the overarching body spanning all facets of cycling, was established in 2012 and is already contributing to the development and advocacy of cycling in WA.

In the first quarter of 2012 David Armstrong reluctantly relinquished his role on the WACF Board resulting in my appointment as Chairman. The Board was further strengthened with the appointment of two new independent members.

This year, as part of the governance review, we have completed a review of the federation by-laws and established advisory committees in key areas to assist and advise on initiatives aimed at further developing the sport in Western Australia.

Membership

Cycling in WA continued its resurgence in 2011-2012. Membership has increased by more than 30% in the past 18 months; revenue by 65% and our domestic racing calendar is the fullest it has been for several seasons. The profile of and interest in the sport has never been higher, and we anticipate another year of double-digit growth in 2012-2013.

Sport

Cycling WA's Be Active - Cycle Instead bike skills program, utilising AustCycle, has made us the state leader in delivery of community and schools based bike development programs.

Around 80 programs and 1,500 participants have gone through various programs over the past 12 months.

At the end of its first year the Cycling WA Junior Development Program is now established as a key component of the athlete development pathway in WA. Many athletes involved in the program won medals at national level on both the road and track.

Our elite athletes were well represented on the international stage through Cameron Meyer, Scott Sunderland, Luke Durbridge, Michael Freiberg, Josie Tomic & Mel Hoskins who continued to shine on road and track across the globe. Scott, Mel and Josie were selected in the Olympic Games team and our congratulations and recognition also go to BMX cyclists Khaleen Young and Lauren Reynolds for their selection in the team.

Key objectives for the year ahead:

- The completion of a state government supported review into club and sport based cycling facilities including the need for safe, off road criterium and road circuits together with the provision of facilities for our clubs.
- An increased focus on participation particularly across the junior, female and commuter/serious recreational demographic via a range of initiatives.
- Ensuring the financial viability of Cycling WA. Whilst our financial position has improved immensely over the past two years, it remains a key focus to secure a strong balance sheet to underpin the sport's future in WA.

- Increased operational integration with BMX and MTB, that we hope will result in greater efficiencies, increased profile for the various facets of the sport, and shared resources.
- Regional expansion of the Be Active bike skills program.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

I would personally like to thank our stakeholders for their support over the past year and the thousands of participants, coaches, volunteers, and officials all of whom contribute so much to our sport.

I would also like to take this opportunity to recognise and thank my fellow Board Members together with Cycling WA chief executive Garry Chandler and his team, for their terrific efforts in promoting and developing the sport in Western Australia.

BMX Australia

This report covers some of the main points which have been foremost in the sport over the past 12 months and will also touch on some initiatives. This year directly after the National titles in Mt Gambier we said goodbye after four years to General Manager, Nicola Tyre. Nicola's work ethic was of a high standard in the period she worked with BMXA and she implemented many of the board's initiatives which are in play today.

Interviews were conducted and I was pleased to have the ASC representative James Selby in attendance. The successful applicant was Mark Louis. Mark took up the position of BMXA General Manager on 21 May. I believe with Mark's background he will be an asset to our team.

Events

Before going on with my report I would like to take this opportunity to thank the BMXA board and staff and also the Mt Gambier club and all the volunteers for all the hard work that was undertaken at this year's Nationals. The National titles held in Mt Gambier were a great success in both areas of finance and delivery. Included in this must be the legacy that was left for the BMX club - a much improved facility than they had before. The Mt Gambier Council expressed their pleasure with the amount of families and finance the event brought to the Mt Gambier local business area.

The great success of this event also highlights the hard work done over the past six years by the board and staff in the development and implementation of the current Nationals concept. As for the current events portfolio it is clear we have a great product in the BMX Nationals which has been developed and now this can be fine-tuned by the office event staff with some involvement of board.

It's now time to look at where BMXA is not achieving its events goals and this is in the area of international events. The time has come for the Events Director to work on a written strategic plan and implement this plan and approach governments and councils to acquire their partnership and bring international UCI events to Australia on a regular basis. This needs to be a priority for this portfolio.

There have been several meetings with BMXQ already setting in place the cornerstone for next year's Nationals. So far everything is looking positive and BMXQ seem to have a great team on board.

Media

Again having the Nationals broadcast on SBS is another initiative the board set for itself some four years ago and I feel it is giving our sport exposure however I do believe we need to look to the future and go down the track of main stream television. This will help in getting the sport even more exposure to the Australian community.

Our Communications Coordinator has done a terrific job since coming on board. I feel media is heading in the right direction for the first time but we have a long ways to go in the journey before catching up with main stream sports like the AFL. If you look at the above HPP picture it shows how far we have come towards being more professional.

National Sign on Day

The National television advertising was a great success not only for the purpose of getting bums on seats but again this advertising has had a two prong effect in that it was a great tool to raise the profile of the sport in the Australian community. Again this year radio was an important part of our advertising campaign. This was another great initiative which has come out of the BMXA board and office team.

I would like to see this great initiative expanded to take in all cycling disciplines. This I feel would be a good milestone for integration.

Chandler sport complex

As I have stated before I have had the pleasure of working with the Queensland State Government to bring this complex to its completion. After the state government committed $4.8 million dollars to build this world class facility it is finally finished and is a brilliant facility for BMX. Now this venue is completed BMXQ have successfully bid for three Nationals to be held there in 2013, 2015 and 2017.

I would like to see more facilities like this one developed around the country. I am very keen to work with other state governments; there have been a few councils and state governments come and look at the Chandler complex with a view of possibly replicating this facility in their state.

Commonwealth Games

I have brought to the table in the past the BMXA board's endeavours to move the sport of BMX into the Commonwealth Games. As I have mentioned before documents were completed and they were forwarded to Mike Hooper, the CEO for the Commonwealth Games Federation. We have also had Mike Victor on our side. Mike is the ex-President of CA and is also Vice President of the Australian Commonwealth Games Association. Mike went to St Kitts where a CGF meeting was held and did a presentation on BMXA's behalf to the entire Commonwealth countries; at this stage I am still hoping for a positive outcome.

Integration

Integration with Cycling Australia (CA) came to a stop earlier this year due to issues with the service agreement. However, the current internal changes that have taken place within CA have been very productive and I now feel that together with CA and the ASC we can work to place integration back on the rails and move forward towards the end game.

The ASC have been very supportive of the direction the BMXA board has taken the sport over the past six years along with the KPI's and milestones which have been met. One thing clear in this process is that BMX needs to keep control of its own direction of the sport in any integration process.

Marketing

There is an amount of interest in BMX from outside parties in the form of partnerships. This is across the sport generally and includes the HPP. I am very excited to explore this further with hopefully a long term association with major companies and main stream media. We have attended a meeting with a major marketing company and if all the fruits come to bear it should be a great partnership.

HPP

Our HPP has delivered for the sport at this year's 2012 world titles with both the men and women achieving great success. Athletes and coaches alike need to be applauded for this great achievement. As I hoped this has continued through to the London Olympics with Sam Willoughby winning a silver medal and other BMXA athletes achieving semis and finals. Another milestone for the sport of BMX in January was that we achieved AIS backing and now our athletes can receive AIS scholarships and access to the AIS. I do believe we need to look at how the HPP is structured for the next Olympics so as the best results can be delivered. This is where I feel it is important for BMXA to have representation on the CA HPP management committee.

Freestyle

There needs to be a review of freestyle BMX and its path. In the past this portfolio has been handled by the Vice President and I feel it's time we brought this back. I would like to see a strategic plan developed and put forward from the VP for the board's approval. This paper should be on how we can develop the sport of freestyle further over the next two years.

Reedy Creek

I have had many meetings with council about the proposed centre of excellence. Even though the development has been stalled due to court action by the current residents the council has reaffirmed their commitment for BMX to develop the site when it becomes available. This development is one of the most important projects BMXA needs to achieve for the future development of athletes.

Officiating & Coaching

We now have the syllabus for coaching and officiating up and running. It's my belief there needs to be controls in place with signing off from the office and the NOD to any programs being delivered. This is not only to keep ownership but to keep a track on who is running programs so there is no crossover.

Finance

As for the current financial status of the BMXA organisation if one was referring to a person health check you would have to say it's very healthy. The Finance Director has undertaken to look into term deposits and other banking requirements for the future and will report back in due course on recommendations.

Mighty Elevens & NZ test team

I recommend BMXA continues to underpin BMX NSW with its current financial support for the next two years. I believe this along with the test team is an important part of development of our younger athletes, along with the test team they go hand in hand. Just a quick thank you to Andy Mellish and Steve Dinmore for their continued work with these athletes.

Probikx Champbikx Series

Finally this series after many years of hard work has reached the goals by creating the pathway for our up-and-coming athletes to be identified for HPP and again I must mention Andy for he has put in the hard yards when the series was getting off the ground. I believe this year's Nerang event was in a one word description a cracker, the best one I have had the pleasure of attending. The track presentation also how well the event was run and not forgetting the media which was superb.

Fund raising & special schools

I have had the pleasure of attending a few special schools to talk about BMX, even though these children can't ride bikes they do follow BMX and our elite athletes and are fans of the sport. We as an organisation need to recognise this and cater for such fans of the sport.

During the year it was brought to my attention that one of our young athletes was terminally ill and his family was doing it tough, mum had to give up work to look after her son. BMXA did fund raising and there was a cheque presented to the family at a BMX event which was well received. We also arranged for the Olympic team to sign a jersey for young James and the presentation was done by the whole team.

License Structure

There needs to be a review of the BMX license structure, this review should take into account families with more than three riders, the fourth rider being free. This review needs to include a loyalty program - one year free after five years of continued license is achieved by any one member. The review also needs to address the cost of a sprocket license. I feel it's time for the sprocket license and club license to be cost compared. The opportunity is now to do this restructure with the introduction of the Mini Wheeler license to BMX.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank my fellow board members for the time they have given and this includes our valuable staff who have worked hard sometimes under difficult conditions

Membership

The membership of MTBA continues to grow at greater than 10% per annum however we still suffer a high exit rate of approximately 50%. MTBA have developed a new strategic plan and member retention features prominently in that plan. It is vitally important that MTBA offers value to all mountain bikers, and is seen to offer value.

The servicing of members has improved with the office amalgamation with Cycling Australia in Sydney.

Sport

Adelaide hosted the final national championships of their 3-year arrangement in 2012 and future national championships and series will be delivered under a new arrangement with Cycling Australia. The first event under this arrangement will be in January 2013. The series will be held over a relatively short period, and use some iconic mountain bike venues Buller, Bright and Thredbo, with the National Championships returning to Mt Stromlo in Canberra and Oceanias being held at Glenorchy in Tasmania. There have been various comments on the series, particularly the concerns about its constrained geographical nature, and the MTBA Management Committee is addressing those concerns. I would be the first to admit that the 2013 national series is not ideal, but I believe it represents a balance between the sporting and business requirements of the season - something MTBA has struggled to achieve in recent years. I do, however, look forward to making the series more easily available to all mountain bikers in Australia in coming years as the new model develops.

It has been an exciting time recently for Australian Mountain Biking on the world stage. Dan McConnell and Bec Henderson had a great Olympics and the Australian team did well at the world championships with Connor Fearon and Danielle Beecroft winning bronze medals in the Junior Downhill and the Aussies emerging as the overall top-ranked country in Elite Men's DH following Mick Hannah and Sam Hill's 4th and 5th place results.

The Australian Women's MTB Marathon Champion, Peta Mullens, convincingly won the 2012 Tour de Timor - in which over 20 nations competed, and our Men's MTB Marathon Champion Andy Blair is in Europe about to start the World Marathon Championships.

Key objectives for the year ahead

There are potential changes in the pipeline for the way that MTBA is led and managed. We will shortly be proposing some changes to the MTBA constitution to permit a more streamlined nature for an MTBA Board, and proposing a change to the way that some of these Board positions will be filled - a mix of people the members elect, plus appointments to fill specific skill sets. If these changes are accepted by the memberships, they would come into effect at the Annual General Meeting in December 2012.

I look forward to the changes to cycling in Australia and the work being done as part of the Cycling Integration Study. It is important that all cyclists in this country, no matter what their level, have their needs addressed by a cohesive national body.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

I would like to thank all of MTBA - our members, the staff, the Executive and the Management Committee for their assistance in what has been achieved in 2012, and planned for our future.

AustCycle

Over the past year, AustCycle has made significant progress in the growth and delivery of cycle training programs to the community. The main focus during this time has been on building the established national network of Providers and accredited Teachers that deliver cycling training programs that introduce, restart or increase cycling participation in the community.

To reach these goals AustCycle had to increase the community's access to accredited AustCycle Teachers. This saw the delivery of over 24 AustCycle Teacher Accreditation Program (ATAP) level 1 courses nationwide, training over 200 Teachers. These accredited Teachers are responsible for conducting a range of community programs, from learning to ride, introducing riding in traffic, commuting or simply providing a safe environment for getting back on the bike.

Our involvement with both Federal and State Government projects also enabled 13 of these courses to be conducted regionally during this period. This has seen the benefits of cycle training extend into regional and remote regions of Australia. The ATAP courses engage a wide variety of people including health professionals, local cyclists, school teachers, bike shop owners and council employees who all share an interest in increasing community participation in cycling.

The last twelve months also marked the second year of implementation of the Healthy Communities Initiative (HCI) in 92 locations across Australia. This project has seen AustCycle working with various sectors of the community such as seniors, refugees and minority groups, as well as those with diabetes, mental health issues, chronic disease and disabilities. The aim of the project is to help the above groups gain the skills and confidence to cycle safely and independently. AustCycle has heard many personal stories from these groups about how riding has made a positive and significant impact on their health and wellbeing. To date AustCycle has delivered cycling programs into 35 locations involved in this project, with further expansion of programs planned for 2013.

AustCycle has also embarked on an extensive evaluation process to study adult participation in cycle training. With close to 2000 participants involved in the evaluation, and 12 months remaining on the project, the evaluation is providing much needed information about the role cycle training has in giving more people the skills and confidence to cycle. The data collected nationally over the last six months have shown that:

- 73% of program participants are female;
- 36% of program participants are aged between 45-59 years old;
- 96% of program participants saw an increase in riding skills through participation;
- 95% of program participants learned new riding skills through participation;
- 99% of program participants felt more confident about cycling after participating; and
- 42% of program participants found bike-handling skills the most challenging part of training, such as riding in a straight line, braking, cornering and changing gears.

With funding support from the NSW Office of Environment and Heritage (OEH), AustCycle has been able to increase the number of cycle training programs available to members in the community over the last three years. These programs have allowed councils, community groups, workplaces, health organisations and education bodies to encourage and promote cycling, and this year's programs have also included children, which resulted in families being involved in one out of four programs delivered. The funding from OEH has also helped to expand the network of AustCycle accredited Teachers across NSW, with subsidies to train additional community members across NSW.

Development has also commenced on the AustCycle National School Riding Program (ANSRP). This program involves a series of practical skill development courses designed specifically for delivery within a school environment. The ANSRP is designed to help and encourage children to ride their bikes safely and confidently in a range of situations, and is due for release in 2013. The resources will help school communities be active and healthy, and encourage ongoing participation in cycling.

The last six months has seen AustCycle working closely with Cycling Australia to review and improve the coaching education framework for cycling. AustCycle's focus has been on improving the consistency and quality of the education that is provided to the community.

This collaboration will see some important changes in the courses available over the next 12 months.

AustCycle is very grateful for the funding support it receives from the Department of Health and Ageing, and the NSW Office of Environment and Heritage, as this funding is a significant enabler in promoting cycle training to the community and in getting more Australians cycling safely.

Finally, I would personally like to thank the AustCycle Board for their continued support and encouragement, and the AustCycle staff for their ongoing commitment and enthusiasm in establishing AustCycle nationally. I would also like to acknowledge our licensed Providers and the accredited Teachers who conduct programs across Australia as they do a tremendous job.

Amy Gillett Foundation

Governance

The 2011-2012 Financial Year represented a year of continuing growth and evolution for the Amy Gillett Foundation (AGF), despite the reported financial outcome. The AGF moved from cash accounting to accrual accounting this financial year. A financial loss was recorded for the first time in the AGF's history, the result of accruing all 2012 Amy's Gran Fondo revenue to fall due in the 2012-2013 Financial Year. Equity remains at $383,000, which shall realise a healthier position during FY2013.

In March 2012, the AGF developed a manifesto for safer cycling which will underpin its mission and vision over the coming three years:

Mission: safe bicycling in Australia
Vision: zero bicycling fatalities

Policy Agenda

The AGF continues to influence the policy agenda for bike safety. The harsh reality is that the risk of serious injury for a bike rider is 34 times that for the occupant of a car. The AGF has gained representation on the NSW Road Safety Council, the Advisory Committee for the Victorian Bicycle Strategy, the 33900 Road Safety Collaboration amongst other leading policy-based organisations to deliver increased focus on vulnerable road users.

Our advocacy efforts are achieving results. In August, the Victorian Government recognised the risk-to-life impact of 'dooring' by car occupants in Victoria by significantly increasing the maximum penalty and on-the-spot fine.

Amy Gillett Foundation Research Scholarship

Dr Marilyn Johnson graduated after completing her PhD entitled 'Cyclist Safety: An Investigation into the interaction between cyclists and drivers on the road', the result of a 3-year Scholarship with the Monash University Accident Research Centre. Post graduate research projects involving cyclist-driver interactions in other major cities (the PhD study was based in Melbourne) are currently being undertaken to expand our understanding of the circumstances contributing to collisions.

AGF Safety Programs

With the support of VicRoads and the Transport Accident Commission, the Foundation is currently developing the "A Metre Matters" Mark II safety campaign, soon to be available to all councils nationally to bring the campaign to life in their shire. Remembering Amy For a Reason continues to be delivered by Mary Safe to nearly 15,000 school children across 250 schools nationally (primarily in South Australia). The AGF is currently reviewing an expansion of this program, and possible alignment with AustCycle to bring together practical bike safety skills and bike/road safety education.

In September 2012, we launched our Ride Rules campaign as part of the Ride Right program. Ride Rules is a series of bike rider safety themes with a primary action associated with each theme. Each Ride Rule uses satire and facts to help improve bike riders' awareness and understanding about how they can improve their safety and improve other road users' attitude towards bike riders.

AustCycle

AustCycle has now delivered two years of the three-year Healthy Communities Initiative (HCI) program funded by the Australian Government Department of Health and Ageing (DoHA). AustCycle is Australia's only fully national accredited bicycling education and safety training program. AustCycle now has registered providers and teachers in all States and Territories of Australia, with State Government programs supporting AustCycle in WA and NSW. Over 13,000 adults and kids have benefitted from AustCycle bike skills training over the past two years.

Cycling Australia and the AGF must drive the commercialisation of AustCycle to cement its viability in the absence of ongoing Government funding beyond the 3-year DoHA program (ends 30 June 2013).

Amy's Rides, Amy's Gran Fondo and other events

Cycling Australia (CA) is now the AGF's primary Event Management provider, a result of the deeper association between our two organisations. In 2011-2012, AGF participation rides were held in Adelaide (Amy's Ride: Nov 2011), Perth (AGF Community Ride: Nov 2011), Geelong (Amy's Ride: Jan 2012), Tasmania (PMM Community Challenge: Jan 2012) and Canberra (Big Canberra Bike Ride incorporating Amy's Ride: Mar 2012).

Amy's Gran Fondo

The inaugural Amy's Gran Fondo delivered jointly by CA and the AGF represented the arrival of the 'Gran Fondo' – a competitive mass participation event in Australia. Held on fully closed roads and holding UCI World Tour status, Amy's Gran Fondo is 'one of a kind'. The event has helped the AGF connect with all levels of cyclist, enhanced the Foundation's reputation for safety and professionalism in everything it does, and established Cycling Australia and event presentation partner Big Fish Your Pond as benchmark organisations for mass participation cycling event organisation and delivery.

The AGF was recognised as the Official Charity in a number of community events across Australia.

Amy Gillett Foundation Cycling Scholarship

2011 Junior World Champion Australian female cyclist Jessica Allen is the recipient of the 2012 Amy Gillett Road Cycling Scholarship, delivered in partnership with the AGF, Cycling Australia and Australian Institute of Sport (AIS).

In her first year as a 'senior' Jess gained invaluable experience living, training and competing in Europe with the Jayco-AIS Women's Road Cycling team for nearly three months. Competing in some of the biggest one-day races and tours in the World, Jess acquitted herself admirably as a domestique, showing the tenacity and spirit that will serve her well in years to come.

The AGF is immensely proud of all seven Scholarship holders. Except for Amber Halliday who was seriously injured in early 2011, they are all still competing at the highest level internationally.

National Cycling Community Galvanisation

From an outside perspective, the bike community is seen as a myriad of organisations, each with their own mission and purpose. While each organisation is working to deliver great outcomes for cycling, as a whole there was not the level of co-ordination and singular overarching vision across cycling, that maximised what the bike community could achieve. From a safety standpoint, we saw that more could be achieved by joint pooling of efforts, than individual organisations “going it alone”. Fortunately this view was shared by a number of other organisations in the bike community nationally and during a six month process in 2011, this group met and explored how best to align purpose and share common ground. The discussions did not deliver common agreement across all parties.

However we collectively achieved a much better understanding of how the different cycling organisations can work together, and realised a far closer alignment between ourselves and a number of other key cycling organisations. We have also as a community collectively planted the seeds of what might be a future galvanisation plan down the track.

The immediate work on galvanisation has now concluded with commitment from a number of cycling organisations to continue progressing opportunities to work together for the good of the community. From a safety standpoint, we will continue our work and align, where possible, with other cycling and road safety organisations to maximise its impact.

Our Relationship with Cycling Australia

Beyond AustCycle and events, the past year has been one of establishing even greater alliances with Cycling Australia with a view to connecting the whole of cycling from grass roots participation through all levels, ‘tribes’ and disciplines to the elite cycling community. Safety is an underlying ‘must have’ theme however someone chooses to ride their bike.

As the CEO of the AGF, I serve as a member of the Cycling Australia Board in my own right as a former elite cyclist and business executive, and as a valuable governance link between the organisations. Likewise, Charlie Farren is Cycling Australia’s representative on the AGF Board.

In November 2011 the AGF moved to a shared office environment with Cycling

Australia’s Events and Commercial teams, alongside GrassRoots and the Cycling Promotion Fund/Bicycles Industry Australia and the Retail Cycle Traders’ Association. Both our organisations also share an accounting resource and a joint legal services arrangement.

The AGF wishes to thank the Cycling Australia Board, management and staff, and all their affiliations and partners for their continued support of the AGF throughout 2011-2012.

Performance Highlights

The standard of all cycling competitions in London was at a level never seen before and our athletes did not disappoint. Veteran Stuart O'Grady had an incredible ride, featuring prominently from start to finish in the men's road race to place sixth. Sam Willoughby's silver, Australian BMX's first-ever Olympic medal, was a nail biting and exciting moment. But quite simply, of the many hard fought medals in London, Anna Meares claiming gold in the women's sprint was arguably the most satisfying performance by an Australian athlete.

Cycling Medal Tally = 6 (1 gold, 2 silver, 3 bronze)

Track

Gold – Women's Sprint (Anna Meares)

Silver – Men's Team Pursuit (Jack Bobridge, Michael Hepburn, Rohan Dennis, Glenn O'Shea)

Bronze – Men's Sprint (Shane Perkins)

Bronze – Women's Team Sprint (Anna Meares, Kaarle McCulloch)

Bronze – Women's Omnium (Annette Edmondson)

4th – Women's Team Pursuit (Josephine Tomic, Annette Edmondson, Melissa Hoskins)

4th – Men's Team Sprint (Shane Perkins, Scott Sunderland, Matthew Glaetzer)

5th – Men's Omnium (Glenn O'Shea)

5th – Women's Keirin (Anna Meares)

5th – Men's Keirin (Shane Perkins)

BMX

Silver – Men's SX (Sam Willoughby)

5th – Women's SX (Caroline Buchanan)

Road

6th – Men's Road Race (Stuart O'Grady)

6th – Men's Road Individual Time Trial (Michael Rogers)

Acknowledgement & Thanks

The financial and in-kind support by our many significant partners over the past four years has been simply staggering – in particular, the commitment made by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), Australian Institute of Sport (AIS) and Jayco has been pivotal in the success of Australian cycling.

The athletes and various staff members' dedication and excellence that they bring day in and day out to their profession has been inspirational. Win, lose or draw, we should be very proud.

Training & Preparation

In cooperation with the Australian Paralympic Committee (APC) and the Australian Institute of Sport (AIS), the program effectively utilised the AIS in Canberra for a holistic sports medicine camp. Every potential team member along with several identified potential athletes had individual appointments or reviews to address their personal preparation (medicine, nutrition, biomechanical, physiotherapy, psychology and recovery).

As part of the team's preparation towards London, the endurance group again embarked on an European training and competition block which included the Rome Road World Cup and the Segovia Road World Cup. The initial group trained in Italy and utilised the facilities of the European Training Centre before competitions in Switzerland, Italy and Spain.

The UCI initiated a come and try day for Brands Hatch, the venue for the Paralympic Road events. It was planned that following the Segovia World Cup our Paralympic road riders would attend the training at Brands Hatch. In cooperation with the APC and the AIS we were able to do individual road course profiling and video for the athletes to personally utilise in their home based ergo sessions. I am sure this initiative proved very successful as we review our performances from the ITT's:

Gold: Carol Cooke (Trike)
David Nicholas (C3)
Silver: Sue Powell (C4)
Nigel Barley (H3 Hand-cycle)
Bronze: Michael Gallagher (C5)

In preparation for London, the APC conducted a team staging in Cardiff, Wales. To ensure best preparation prior to entering the village they coordinated a parallel staging for our cycling team utilising the Newport Velodrome and local accommodation. With Cardiff only 20 minutes away, we were able to fully utilise their support staff.

Because of the identified lack of training environments for our two selected hand-cyclists and trike rider around Newport and the village, they returned to the area in southern France where our team trained before the Segovia World Cup for their final training and staging preparations prior to joining the remainder of the team in the village.

Performance Highlights

Australia qualified 12 Paralympic slots, 6 men and 6 female (6 single bikes, 3 tandems, 2 handcycles and 1 trike) and achieved: 6 gold, 4 silver and 4 bronze medals and broke five world records.

Track

Gold – Sue Powell (C4) 3km IP (WR), Felicity Johnson/Stephanie Morton 1km (B) Tandem, Michael Gallagher (C5) 4km IP (WR), Kieran Modra/Scott McPhee 4km IP (B) Tandem (WR)
Silver – Simone Kennedy (C3) 3km IP, Bryce Lindores / Sean Finning 4km IP (B) Tandem
Bronze – Jayme Paris (C1) 500m TT (C1-3 factored), Alex Green (C4) 3km IP

Road

Gold – Carol Cooke (T2) Mixed ITT, David Nicholas (C3) ITT
Silver – Sue Powell (C4) ITT, Nigel Barley (H3) ITT
Bronze – Michael Gallagher (C5) ITT, David Nicholas (C3) Road Race

Acknowledgement & Thanks

Sincere thanks to Bernard Schreiber and his team from SCODY for their ongoing support of the program and their development of the competition garments we used at the Paralympics.

All athletes and staff are extremely appreciative of the APC's management and staff for their tireless work regarding every aspect of preparation towards and in London. Jason Hellwig and his team associated with operational matters are to be congratulated on their outstanding contribution towards the overall success of the team in London. Thanks and recognition for Alison Campbell; her attention to detail and subsequent action in identifying issues of athletes proved invaluable for several of our highest achievers.

A big team thank you to Danielle Gillis, HPP coordinator and Murray Lydeamore who throughout 2010, 2011 and 2012 was Team Manager and with his appointment as Paracycling Section Manager ensured continued efficient and effective managerial operations with both CA and the APC for all Paralympic requirements.

Training & Preparation

The endurance team prepared in Adelaide, whilst the sprint team held their final preparation camp in Sydney, at the Dunc Gray Velodrome – the rationale being to create a close camp environment, since the sprint team are based in Adelaide year round. Both preparation camps were well staffed and resourced, and considered successful, with the convenience of a short commute into Melbourne for both groups. Our team accommodation in Melbourne was optimal being opposite the MCG and a short walk/ride to the Hisense Arena. Every effort was made to make the most of the luxury of a home World Championships.

Performance Highlights

Spurred on by a vocal home crowd, the team's overall performance in Melbourne was exceptional. Of the many medal winning rides, standout results included

- gold in the men's team sprint, a title that had eluded us since Manchester in 1996
- Anna Meares bouncing back after defeat in the sprint to claim gold in the women's Keirin and 500m time trial in world record time
- Glenn O'Shea's display of his versatility to claim gold in the men's Omnium
- Cameron Meyer's great win in the men's points race
- the women's team pursuit back on the dais with silver after breaking the world record

Medal tally = 15 total with seven in Olympic events* (six gold, six silver, three bronze)

Training & preparation

The preparations for the road teams for the World Championships were varied and specific to each of the categories. Junior Men prepared in a series of events in Switzerland, Germany and Belgium over 6 weeks leading into the Worlds. The Junior Women completed a four week stint in Holland and Belgium. The U23 men prepared throughout the European racing season between March and September, while the Elite men and women were all with their respective road teams, prior to gaining selection for the World Championships.

Performance highlights

The silver medal winning performance by Rachael Neylan in the Women's Road Race was a highlight for the Australian team in 2012 and was the first medal by an Australian woman at a World Championship since 2005. Rohan Dennis and Damien Howson rode impressive individual races in the U23 mens time trials to run 2nd and 3rd respectively. Caleb Ewan demonstrated his potential in the sport with a blistering finish to earn a silver medal in the Junior men's road race, and was also well supported by the results of fellow juniors Alex Morgan (4th in the time trial) and Emily Roper (4th in the time trial). The blue ribbon men's road race event on the final day event was another great race and the Australian team performed admirably with four riders going into the final climb. A medal eluded them; however 6th place by Allan Davis was a very solid performance on the day.

This year was the first time that a World Championship medal was on offer for the Team Time Trial, for mens and womens professional teams. Australian owned teams Orica GreenEDGE (Men) and Orica AIS (Women) took out bronze and silver medals respectively, a great result for the two teams and Australia in their first year of existence in the pro peloton.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Cycling Australia thanks major supporters the Australian Sports Commission, the Australian Institute of Sport, Jayco Australia and all our partner sponsors and state institutes of sport for their contributions toward the National team in 2012. Additionally, the support by Team Orica-GreenEDGE must also be acknowledged, through their provision of resources, heavy and light vehicles and expert staff for the World Championships, bringing a very high level of professionalism to the National Team of Australia environment.

Training & Preparation

Athletes continued their home based training prior to a ten day pre worlds training camp in Adelaide which was an excellent opportunity for the athletes to avail themselves of the high performance environment and services offered whilst enjoying the opportunity of training alongside other national track endurance and sprint team members.

All travel arrangements were planned to ensure arrival into Los Angeles was timed to optimise recovery and adaptation to changed time zones. All aspects of travel and accommodation met athlete requirements and ensured individual preparedness to perform at their best.

Performance Highlights

The team achieved 8 gold, 3 silver and 3 bronze medals and broke one world record, but very importantly gained valuable qualification points towards qualification places for the Paralympics.

Gold:

The 2012 Australian junior track team ended the Championships as the most successful in junior history with a medal tally of nine gold, four silver and four bronze medals. Once again, Australia was ranked the number one junior track nation in the world at the conclusion of the Championships.

Training & Preparation

The Worlds campaign, handling 23 athletes and staff across the two disciplines of endurance and sprint groups, was a challenging task but with all staff and athletes working well together, the process was a smooth and well-drilled team experience with relatively few problems. Any challenges were met head on by staff and riders, and dealt with efficiently to ensure the riders had the best opportunity to race, develop their qualities and be on their best form for the World Championships.

It must be stressed that the junior elite program is considered an important feeder system for our national elite teams. The worlds are the icing on the cake to reward the athletes for their input. In the bigger context the junior elite program serves as a great talent identification and feeder role for Cycling Australia. A number of athletes from the 2011 junior team have already been selected for senior teams for various camps, races and experiences.

Performance Highlights

The results from the worlds can be found in another section of this report; however, the following is a summary of the Australian team's results:

- Jack Cummings: 1st Team Pursuit; 4th Individual Pursuit
- Trent Derecourt: 8th Points Race
- Emerson Harwood: 2nd Sprint; 2nd Keirin; 2nd Team Sprint (WR in qualifying)
- Evan Hull: 1st Team Pursuit (rode qualifying); 6th Scratch Race; 8th Madison
- Tirian McManus: 1st Team Pursuit; 3rd Omnium
- Alex Morgan: 1st Team Pursuit; 3rd Individual Pursuit
- Jacob Schmid: 1st Sprint; 1st Keirin; 2nd Team Sprint (WR in qualifying)
- Zac Shaw: 1st 1km TT; 2nd Team Sprint (WR in qualifying); 3rd Sprint
- Miles Scotson: 1st Men's Team Pursuit; 6th Madison
- Georgia Baker: 1st Team Pursuit (WR); 1st Scratch Race; 4th Individual Pursuit
- Taylah Jennings: 1st Omnium; 1st Points Race; 1st Team Pursuit (WR); 4th 500m TT
- Allee Proud: 3rd Team Sprint; 7th Keirin; 9th Sprint
- Kelsey Robson: 1st Individual Pursuit; 1st Team Pursuit (WR)
- Caitlin Ward: 2nd Sprint; 3rd Team Sprint; 6th Keirin; 7th 500m TT

Every performance was well deserved and rewarding, but a couple of highlights from the many that occurred over the five days of competition were:

- The clean sweep of the men's sprint medals by Jacob Schmid, Emerson Harwood and Zac Shaw – a rare performance at world level.
- The domination of the women's Omnium by Taylah Jennings for the second year in a row, winning all 6 events, something I doubt we will witness again for a long time at a World Championship.
- The women's team pursuit performance in setting a new world record and winning the gold medal, a very special effort by Georgia, Taylah and Kelsey.

Finally a stand out for me as Manager was a bittersweet moment, when the men's team sprint team broke the world record in qualifying, then was disqualified in the final for an irregular change and not notified until they were lined up for the medal presentation. Despite the huge disappointment, the three men held their heads high on the podium, and then dominated the sprint events in the following days. All three will be stronger for the experience in their senior years to come.

Acknowledgement & Thanks

I would like to thank Cycling Australia for its support and contribution to this very successful trip. I would also like to thank AIS Administrator Danielle Gillis and all associated staff at the AIS in Adelaide for their enormous effort in preparing for this Junior World's campaign.

I am also grateful to the Australian Commonwealth Games Association for its significant long-term financial contribution to the Australian Junior team.

Congratulations and a huge thank you to the dedication, passion and support of the entire team staff. The success and enjoyment of the trip was just as much the result of your contribution as that from the athletes.

Finally, I congratulate the athletes and their national and state based coaches on how they prepared and presented for the national team camps and World Championships. I would like to thank and congratulate all the team members' parents for their support – you should all be very proud.

World Championships – General

Australia selected 33 athletes to contest this year's MTB XCO, DHI & Trials World Championships with 30 entering and 29 competing in the finals. Jenni King was nominated for selection but failed to accept. Tracey Hannah was selected for Elite Women's DHI but was withdrawn some weeks prior to competition due to injury. Richard Levinson (4X) was selected and accepted nomination, but withdrew just prior to departure due to lack of fitness. Rebecca Henderson was selected and accepted the nomination, but fell during the first practice session and was unable to compete due to injury.

Leogang (DHI) and Saalfelden (XCO & Trials) in Austria were ideal locations for the World Championships with the DHI course testing, but were not as technically difficult as in 2011 in Champéry Switzerland. The XCO course was fast and not exceptionally technical. It provided more than adequate opportunity for overtaking and was relatively short in length.

The Downhill and Four Cross were held the week prior to the Trials and Cross Country events in the same region but in a different location. The Trials events were held prior to the XCO events, after the DHI events and again in a separate location to DHI or XCO. Trials were held in the city of Saalfelden, a popular location, which attracted large numbers with the finals and was held under lights and undercover in the city plaza.

This presented some interesting and at times difficult administrative and logistical issues. The overlap between the completion of the DHI events and the return of the athletes to Munich airport, the commencement of the Trials events and the arrival and commencement of the XCO athletes meant that the Trials riders were substantially left to fend for themselves, justifying the appointment of Cam Driessens to the position of Manager for the Trials team.

Performance Summary

The Australian Team finished second on team points in the Junior Downhill (by one point to France) and first on the teams points in the Elite Men's Downhill – a remarkable performance on the world stage.

In the XCO Australia was not as highly ranked with the national ranking of third in the Men's Cross Country Eliminator and fourteenth in the Teams Relay providing the best ranking for Australia and reflective of the position in which we find ourselves.

The highlights of this year's World Championships were the performances of Connor Fearon (3rd) and Jack Moir (5th) in the Junior Men's DHI World Championship, Danielle Beecroft (3rd) in the Junior Women's DHI World Championship, and Michael Hannah (4th) and Sam Hill (5th) in the Senior Men's DHI World Championship. Michael Hannah also attained the fastest time on the official times section. With five Australians in the top 20 of the Elite Men's Downhill, this ranks as one of Australia's better overall performances in Downhill at the World Championships.

Our 4X representatives rode well with Blake Nielson being forced to ride the qualifier with a severely corks thigh – an injury that subsequently lead to his withdrawal – and Graeme Mudd performing exceptionally well in the quarters and semis, but unlucky not to have progressed to the medal round in the final, ultimately finishing in seventh position.

Our XC riders performed below expectations, with Dan McConnell's placing of 27th in the Elite Men's and Ben Bradley's placing of 28th in the Juniors the exceptions.

The Observed Trials contenders had mixed results with Janine Jungfels performing well but finishing below expectations (6th) whilst her male counterparts performed above expectations but were outside of the finals contention. Janine is definitely a potential medallist in this discipline.

Results

Based on the finishing places for our top three placed athletes at the 2012 Worlds Australia, as a nation Australia continues to be ranked highly in Downhill format:

- Elite Men: 1st
- Junior Men: 2nd

In the Cross Country formats Australia ranked:

- Elite Men: 16th
- Under 23: 22nd
- Junior Men: 17th
- Team Relay: 14th
- Eliminator Men: 3rd

Below is a complete list of how our athletes performed in Austria.

- Women: Rowena Fry (24th).

Congratulations to all the team for their fine performances and to the staff for their stewardship.

Acknowledgements & Thanks

Congratulations and thank you to all the Australian staff and riders who attended in Austria. In particular, to our DH coach Jared Rando who in 2012 provided an excellent environment leading up to and including the World Championships and can take a great deal of credit for the Australian Junior DHI team's performance.

Thank you to the MTB Selection Committee and the MTBA Management Committee for their contribution towards the Team.

BMX World Championships Birmingham, Great Britain 24 – 27 May 2012

Team

Elite Men: Anthony Dean (SA); Brian Kirkham (SA); Sam Willoughby (SA); Khaleen Young (WA)
Elite Women: Caroline Buchanan (ACT); Melinda McLeod (QLD); Lauren Reynolds (WA)
U19 Men: Corey Frieswyk (QLD); Bodi Turner (VIC)
U19 Women: Rachel Jones (NSW)

Staff

Training & Preparation

Due to the timing of major events in an Olympic year, the High Performance (HP) National BMX team's World Championships preparation was split between Australia and Europe. Paul Sales, Assistant Coach, conducted an U19 SX camp based on the Gold Coast, while elite riders prepared under the supervision of Head Coach, Wade Bootes, competing at the UCI SX round in Papendaal, Holland, followed by three days' familiarisation on a revised London Olympic SX track.

The HP National team was not complete until arrival into Birmingham, less than a week out from world's competition. Nonetheless the team got on well and was a tight-knit unit throughout the Championships.

Performance Highlights

The tight indoor track caused many thrills and spills, but fortunately our riders escaped serious injury. It was clear after the Time Trial (TT) qualification that all our U19 and elite riders had the speed to make the final, if they could get a clean run. Needless to say the end results did not necessarily accurately reflect the true performance of several of our riders.

Caroline Buchanan's gold in the elite women's TT Superfinal was a stunning lap, while Sam Willoughby claiming overall victory in the elite men's SX final was a demonstration of sheer class by the 20-year old. The revelation of the Championships was Anthony Dean, placing fourth in the elite men's SX world title to cap off a terrific meet.

Medal tally = 2 gold

Elite Men

Gold – SX Final (Sam Willoughby)
4th – SX Final (Anthony Dean)
6th – Time Trial Superfinal (Sam Willoughby)

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF AUSTRALIAN CYCLING FEDERATION INC.

We have audited the accompanying financial report, being a special purpose financial report, of Australian Cycling Federation Inc., which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2012 and the statement of comprehensive income for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the governing committee's declaration.

Responsibility of Those Charged With Governance

The governing committee is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report and has determined that the basis of preparation described in Note 1 to the financial report is appropriate to meet the requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act 1991 (ACT) and financial reporting needs of the members.

The governing committee's responsibility also includes such internal control as the governing committee determine is necessary to enable the preparation and fair presentation of a financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the association's preparation and fair presentation of the financial report in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the association's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by those charged with governance, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF AUSTRALIAN CYCLING FEDERATION INC.

Independence

In conducting our audit, we have complied with APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial report presents fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Australian Cycling Federation Inc. as of 30 June 2012 and of its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with the accounting policies described in Note 1 to the financial report and the financial reporting requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act 1991 (ACT).

Basis of Accounting

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 1 in the financial report, which describes the basis of accounting. The financial report has been prepared to assist Australian Cycling Federation Inc. to meet the requirements of the Associations Incorporation Act 1991 (ACT) and the financial reporting needs of the members as determined by the governing committee. As a result, the financial report may not be suitable for another purpose.
