MESSAGE FROM THE AUSTRALIAN SPORTS COMMISSION

The Australian Sports Commission (ASC) congratulates our National Sporting Organisations (NSOs) on their achievements this year. In particular, we congratulate all of our athletes who represented Australia in the Rio Olympic and Paralympic Games. You did so with great distinction. The country is proud of your commitment and dedication, and the manner in which you conducted yourself throughout the campaigns.

In the aftermath of the Games, the Board of the ASC has re-committed to the core principles of Australia's Winning Edge, the ASC's ten year plan for high performance sport introduced in 2012. The four key principles are: high aspirations for achievement; evidence-based funding decisions; sports owning their own high performance programs; and a strong emphasis on improved leadership and governance.

We are confident these principles serve the long term interests of the sporting sector.

We will also use the experience of the last four years to seek to improve implementation of Winning Edge in ways that will benefit the sector.

The ASC is equally committed to increasing community participation in sport, particularly amongst our children and youth. We have been pleased this year to see our flagship participation program Sporting Schools reach over 4,300 schools in partnership with NSOs.

Innovations by the ASC this year included the release of our Integrity Guidelines for Directors and Leaders of Sporting Organisations, which provides directors with comprehensive and practical guidance for the first time on anti-doping, sport science and medicine, illicit drugs, match-fixing, child protection and member protection – vital issues for maintaining trust and respect in the sporting sector.

We also staged our inaugural Athlete and Coaches Forum, giving Australia's elite athletes and coaches the opportunity to share their experiences and enhance their leadership capabilities.

And we were delighted to see fruits of our efforts to improve female opportunity in sports, with improved elite and participation opportunities in women's sport, better media exposure, some outstanding new commercial deals, and an increase in female representation at NSO board level from 27 per cent to a 39 per cent across the top 23 NSOs.

Looking ahead, ASC priorities include:

- further institutional and governance reform in sport, with an emphasis on increased national integration and alignment
- increased funding for sport, including new non-government sources of funding
- further embedding sport in schools' educational programs
- improved national coordination of sports infrastructure spending, and
- Improved use of data and technology in sports.

Reforms like this are often hard to achieve but have profound long term benefits. The evermore competitive environment in world sport on display in Rio highlights the critical importance of further reform if Australia is to maintain its proud reputation and traditions as a sporting nation.

It is appropriate to use this opportunity to recognise and thank the efforts of the ASC's outgoing CEO Simon Hollingsworth, who has led the Commission very capably and with considerable effect for the past five years.

The ASC thanks all of our sector partners for your effort and contribution to Australian sport. We look forward to continued success and progress together.

JOHN WYLIE AM
Chair
Australian Sports Commission

STRATEGIC OVERVIEW

Cycling holds an advantaged position within the Australian sporting and recreational landscape.

More than three million Australians ride a bike, with more than two million riding every month. Cycling is a sport, and a lifestyle, on the move.

As the national body responsible for the sport of cycling in this country, Cycling Australia is recognised by the International Cycling Union (UCI), the Australian Government, the Australian Olympic Committee, the Australian Commonwealth Games Association and the Australian Paralympic Committee. Our vision is to be the world's leading cycling nation while affirming our leadership of cycling in Australia.

While the challenges should not be underestimated, nor should the opportunities.

Our strategic focus will be to improve our global competitiveness, diversify our revenue streams and build a solid base for future investment. It will target growth of our membership base with a particular focus on servicing our racing members while at the same time expanding our recreational membership base.

We will also focus sharply on women and our youth, a strategy that supports our performance, engagement and participation initiatives.

Our athletes, past and present, are central to our organisation and play an extremely important role in showcasing our sport globally and at home. From BMX to track, dirt to road, their performances delight and inspire the many millions who ride a bike.

The growth of cycling is a shared responsibility and Cycling Australia aims to unify the important industry and sporting partners, collaborate with member states and clubs and protect, promote and uphold the values of cycling while looking to strengthen cycling's voice on important advocacy matters.

Our aim is to represent every cyclist – young or old, weekend riders or household names, commuters or racers.

ONE SPORT

1. Road Cycling

Road comprises one-day races and stage races, contested as massed start races or time trials (with individuals or teams starting at regular intervals). The one-day road race and individual time trial are both Olympic events.

2. Track Cycling

Track cycling Track cycling events take place in a velodrome and can be broken down into two categories: sprint events (individual and team sprints, kilometre [500m for women] and keirin) and endurance events (individual and team pursuit, points race, Madison and Scratch race). In the Omnium, several specialties of both families are grouped together. Individual sprints, Team sprints, keirin, team pursuit and the Omnium are Olympic events.

3. Mountain Bike

Mountain bike includes endurance races (cross-country Olympic, cross-country marathon and cross-country eliminator) and downhill events (downhill and four-cross). Cross-country events are held on hilly, technical circuits. Downhill racing involves fast and extremely spectacular individual time trials. Four-cross is an event that sees four riders race head-to-head on a shorter track. Cross-country is an Olympic event.

4. BMX

BMX is a spectacular sport that takes place on a 350- 400m track featuring a mix of bumps, berms and flat sections. The riders start from an eight-metre-high ramp (Supercross format) that launches them with considerable speed. Jumps throw the riders up to five metres into the air. BMX also has a Freestyle variant, comprising several disciplines, where riders are judged on their style, as well as the difficulty and originality of the figures they perform. BMX Supercross features in the Olympic Games.

5. Para-Cycling

Para-cycling is practised by athletes with disabilities. It includes both road events (road racing, individual time trial and team relay) and track events (sprint, time trial, individual pursuit and Scratch race). Depending on their impairment, athletes join one of the following groups: conventional bikes with minor adaptations, handbikes, tandems or tricycles. Each of these groups is divided into different classes in line with the severity of the riders' impairments. Para-cycling features in the programme of the Paralympic Games.

6. Cyclo-Cross

Cyclo-cross races take place on circuits of around three kilometres, on a variety of surfaces (roads, paths, bush tracks, fields), that the riders negotiate several times. The courses usually have many small climbs and may include artificial obstacles, requiring constant changes in rhythm. Sometimes the riders have to carry their bikes over certain sections.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

I commence my final report as President of Cycling Australia (CA) by stating that it has been a privilege to serve as President for the past two years.

When I joined the interim board in April 2014, CA was in serious financial trouble. The reality was we were in 'survival and turn-around' mode and desperately needed to consolidate before we could progress.

It is satisfying to be able to report that we are making considerable progress in a number of areas that will bring us closer to the level of professionalism and financial stability that the sport deserves.

Our immediate challenge was to ensure CA possessed a professional and astute skills-based Board, and we are pleased this has been achieved.

We have also adopted the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) Governance Principles including Audit & Risk, Remuneration, and Nominations Committees. In addition to this, we have commenced discussions with State Associations about building the foundations of a governance model that features shared services and greater unity.

I am happy to report that our financial management reporting and processes have greatly improved. We have converted to a company limited by guarantee and adopted accrual accounting, and in addition, we have improved our regular reporting to provide greater management visibility and stakeholder transparency.

The introduction of more rigorous profit and loss and cashflow budgeting models has been extremely valuable and, importantly as we move forward, we do so on the back of two years of modest net profit returns.

With the tremendous support and assistance of the ASC, we have conducted a complete review of our business with a focus on our existing and prospective customer bases. In particular, we have worked closely with the ASC on the Gemba and Repucom research projects.

While we are proud that our business is now in better shape and we continue to progress further in other areas, we still face many challenges, not least the financial requirements to deliver high standard programs, a situation faced by other Olympic sports.

There has been some disappointment that over the last two years we have not been able to exceed our modest expectations, and we are aware CA still faces an extremely challenging financial position.

Despite this, I am confident that our new commercial Vision and Strategic direction – Strategy 2020 – will provide focus and results.

Our partnership with GTR Events has resulted in CA exiting high risk, non-core event delivery activities whilst protecting key cycling events and brands.

On the bike, our major challenges in 2016 were the Rio Olympic and Paralympic Games.

Our performance at the Paralympics Games was outstanding and we are very proud of all of the CA family who contributed to the great results. While I am reluctant to highlight individual performances, I acknowledge the outstanding achievements of Carol Cooke AM who won both time trial and road race gold in Rio.

At the Olympics, we suffered a number of unfortunate setbacks and as a result we did not meet our expectations. However, I was extremely proud of the way our riders, coaches and support staff dealt with adversity and fought hard for success.

To summarise our performances in Rio, it is impossible to improve on the words of the incomparable Anna Meares – "Unfortunately life delivers highs and lows, the Olympic Games is the Olympic Games. I always try to win and so does every other bastard too."

At this point I would also like to acknowledge Anna's outstanding career. She captured the affection of the nation for many years, most recently when she had the honour of leading the Australian Olympic Team into the stadium for the Opening Ceremony of the Rio 2016 Olympic Games. She has retired as the most decorated female track cyclist in history and her legacy will be felt for years to come. We thank her for her commitment to excellence and to our great sport.

In reviewing the year, it is also important that we reflect on the outstanding achievements of our cyclists at World Championships with medals in Para-cycling, Track, Road and BMX.

I would also like to congratulate Peter Bartels AO, whose contribution to our sport was recognised with the prestigious 2016 UCI Merit Award in Doha, a wonderful endorsement by the international body.

On a sadder note, the cycling family and the Victorian cycling community in particular mourned the loss this year of CA and CV Life Member Alf Walker, a true pioneer in the sport. A legend of the Brunswick Cycling Club, Alf had time for everyone, from young kids starting out to our Olympic athletes, and he is sadly missed.

I thank CEO Nick Green who has led a wholesale restructure including the relocation and consolidation of the head office to Melbourne. We now have a new executive leadership team that has the firepower to implement the new strategies and reshape the culture of CA.

I would also like to recognise Tracey Gaudry who continued to represent us extremely well as Vice President of the UCI, with her influence across a wide range of areas having been most valuable for CA.

I thank my fellow Directors for their efforts and hard work during my tenure on the Board and I wish them well in their future endeavours to inspire Australians to ride with us.

Finally, I congratulate the State and Territory association presidents who are a committed and enthusiastic group of volunteers who make a major contribution to the sport.

I have enjoyed meeting many cycling people – you are extremely committed and loyal to your sport. I thank you for the warm welcome you have given me and I will watch your progress and success with interest.

At the time of writing this report, the identity of the next CA President is not known. It is a challenging role at a difficult time, but one that is very rewarding. I wish him or her great enjoyment and success.

CEO'S MESSAGE

I'm delighted to present my second CEO's annual report for Cycling Australia in 2016. I'll commence by saying thank you for all the hard work and solidarity of the entire Cycling Australia family during the 2016 Rio Olympic and Paralympic Games.

Every four years the Olympic and Paralympic Games become a key focal point for our organisation, requiring significant energy and commitment to prepare and send our team.

Importantly, the 2016 Games provided an amazing stage to showcase cycling and our fantastic athletes. We celebrated many triumphs with Anna Meares claiming her fourth consecutive medal over four Olympic Games, the first Australian athlete in Olympic history to achieve this feat, as well as Carol Cooke's dual Gold medals in the T2 Road Time Trial and the T2 Road Race.

The results in Rio will be talked about for many years. Although we saw some world-class performances, our team experienced many near misses and challenges – notably illness, multiple crashes and a mechanical fault all contributing to a shortfall on our overall expectations for Rio. Nevertheless, our vision remains focused on being the best cycling nation in the world.

Our performances in Rio captured the attention of the nation either through the coverage by Australia's Olympic network partner or via Cycling Australia's digital and social platforms. Our social media platforms are reaching new audiences and there were more than four million impressions during the Games period. Our social reach has grown significantly over the past 12 months to almost 100,000 followers across all of our platforms.

Post-Olympic Games we have taken time to reflect on how we can improve. Among our athletes, staff and coaches, complemented by our medical, tactical, mechanical and conditioning personnel, we have some of the most passionate and capable people in the world. However we remain committed to continually getting better and learning from the past.

Our review will continue to raise our high performance ambitions and will also include a search to replace Kevin Tabotta who departed Cycling Australia as high performance director in early November 2016. I thank Kevin for his leadership and wisdom over the past nine years in this role.

Since the Games the cycling family has also experienced some challenges. Sam Willoughby's training accident in the US has impacted us all and we continue to support Sam and his family during this extremely tough time. Sam has sustained serious spinal injuries and will require all his resilience, strength and courage through the recovery period. Our sport was also rocked by the doping admission by Para cyclist Michael Gallagher, a constant reminder for us all to be diligent in the fight against doping.

During the year I was pleased to launch our 2020 Strategic Vision. This road map for success will unite our team around a common goal and create focus for our success over the next four years. As an organisation, we are meeting our challenges head on, driving improvements and very much looking to shape our organisation for the future. Whilst we have made some good progress, particularly with regard to our organisation internally (people, culture and clear direction), there is still a lot of work to do. However, with a new leadership team and a clear vision and focus, I am excited by the challenge of what we might achieve.

Over the next four years our key focus areas are our members and the community (including leading and supporting key advocacy initiatives), commercialising cycling to support the growth and development of cycling in Australia and achieving great outcomes on the national and international sporting stage as well as strong governance.

We have already made strong headway into many of our strategic platforms. Cycling's future is with new audiences and our youth. We have focused on growing these areas and have achieved sound progress with our Let's Ride and She Rides programs, introducing cycling education and participation programs to more than 5000 newcomers in 2016.

Our membership platforms have enjoyed a year of small yet simple improvements while we develop aggressive plans for more material changes and become a customer-focused organisation that meets the needs of the modern racing and recreational members. Given this, I am encouraged that we have maintained a vibrant racing community and that our recreational membership has increased by 29 per cent over the past year.

Throughout the year our many loyal sponsors and supporters have contributed enormously to Cycling Australia and our cycling family. Our partnerships, forged over many years, provide the backbone of support across all of our business areas. I also welcome new partnerships with Swisse and Flight Centre who, along with our existing partners listed in this annual report, are valued contributors to cycling in Australia.

Cycling Australia has worked hard over the past 12 months to ensure cycling is accessible across all disciplines. Our strong relationship with the International Cycling Union (UCI) and the Oceania Cycling Confederation (OCC) has ensured that Australia has secured UCI-sanctioned and recognised events across Road, Track, MTB and BMX.

In particular we are delighted with the following:

- The elevation of the Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Race to a World Tour event
- Successfully hosting the 2016 UCI MTB World Cup in Cairns
- Delivering two UCI elite women's sanctioned events
- Staging the 2016 UCI World Grand Fondo Championships in Perth (and we thank the Western Australian Government for overseeing the delivery of this important championship event in their region)
- Attracting many of the best cyclists in the world to Australia such as three-time Tour de France winner Chris Froome to the Jayco Herald Sun Tour
- Expanding and supporting successful Gran Fondo events, including incorporating a Gran Fondo with our iconic Road Nationals and maintaining two ongoing UCI Gran Fondo qualifying races for the avid amateur cyclists from 2017.

These events attract the best athletes, driving visibility for our sport across a number of broadcast and digital platforms. They provide valuable support for our industry and contribute significant economic and tourism benefits to the local economies.

In addition, we witnessed a highly successful year of international racing at the elite level, with the stand-out results being Matthew Hayman winning the prestigious

Paris-Roubaix and Caroline Bucannon a dual world champion across the BMX Elite Women's time trial and MTB Four X.

Domestically, our Road (Ballarat, Victoria) and Track (Adelaide) Nationals continue to attract strong audiences and viewership via our broadcast partners Nine Network and Fox Sports. The National Road Series (NRS), however, experienced a difficult year with gaps in funding and commercial and administrative support. A review panel comprising key stakeholders has made a number of important recommendations to ensure the series meets the challenges ahead.

We continue to enjoy productive and progressive relationships with the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) and the Australian Institute of Sport (AIS). There are many benefits across a number of areas of leadership, governance, participation, finance and high performance. As we close out the Olympic quadrennial support from the AIS, it is important to note that the Australian cycling team boasted more than 45 elite world podium finishes across all high performance disciplines. We can be proud of our contribution to the ASC's Australian Winning Edge high performance targets and will now refocus our ambitions towards Tokyo 2020.

Our financial position and governance reforms have made good progress over the past 12 months. We have improved considerably our financial reporting, resulting in a clean audit and an annual surplus for the second year in a row. While our immediate financial position remains positive, our focus on new revenue streams is imperative in attracting the investment necessary to support and advance cycling in Australia.

CEO'S MESSAGE

We have enhanced our professional and astute skills-based board that has provided strong direction and leadership and adopted the Australian Sports Commission's (ASC) governance principles – including the appointment of Audit and Risk and Nomination and Remuneration committees and restructured all the various committees and commissions into five key commissions – Technical, Sport, Women's, Coaching and Advocacy. All commission members have been appointed and have commenced leading and advising Cycling Australia on important initiatives across these platforms.

Our State and Territory associations continue to work in collaboration with Cycling Australia to address a number of focus areas across our strategic platforms. We have enjoyed alignment on a number of projects and will continue to explore efficiencies and a model that features shared services and greater collaboration.

As we seek to establish this model of collaboration with our associations, we are keen to make more material progress with both MTBA and BMXA. While solid dialogue exists with MTBA on a number of levels, both entities remain largely independent in the belief that their respective disciplines are better off. I believe a collaborative approach and unified voice has considerably more benefit to every cyclist – young or old, weekend riders or household names, commuters or racers.

Recently, Malcom Speed AO flagged his intention to step down as president of Cycling Australia following the 2016 Annual General Meeting. Malcolm has led our organisation through a challenging period. His experience and wisdom have ensured he leaves us in a far stronger position than when he started. I offer my thanks for his leadership. I also look forward to the continued contribution of the remaining board members and a new chairman in 2017 and beyond.

Finally, I offer my gratitude to the staff of Cycling Australia. As previously noted, together we have created a sharp focus and a clear vision for the future. All senior appointments have been made and we place pressure on ourselves daily to achieve outcomes for the cycling family.

I'll continue to ride for pleasure and I hope you all do the same.

HIGH PERFORMANCE UNIT

HIGH PERFORMANCE

Recognised as a Foundation Sport under the Australian Winning Edge (AWE) strategy and funded accordingly by the Australian Sports Commission (ASC), the CA HPU partners with the National Institute Network (NIN, that is, AIS and SIS/SAS) to collaboratively develop and deliver athlete scholarship programs to produce consistent and sustainable podium performances on the world stage, with an emphasis on Olympic events. Relentless in the pursuit for excellence, the HPU strives to provide world's best coaching, sports science and medicine, welfare, specialist service staff, equipment and technology to support Australian cyclists across Para (Track and Road), Track, BMX and Road.

Ensuring optimal Olympic and Paralympic athlete qualification was a primary objective in the early part of the year, which was achieved. Our focus then centred on final program preparations for the 2016 Rio Olympic and Paralympic Games. Note that the AWE Benchmark Event (BME) targets for 2016 were as under:

- 2016 Rio Olympic Games target: 5–7 medals (2–3 Gold)
Actual: 2 medals (1 Silver, 1 Bronze)
- 2016 Rio Paralympic Games target: 9–11 medals (4–5 Gold)
Actual: 13 medals (3 Gold, 7 Silver, 3 Bronze)

Performance Highlights

While we were unable to achieve our targets in Rio, the medal table is not an accurate reflection of the performances and commitment of our athletes, and we are extremely proud of all their achievements. Anna Meares leading the Australian Olympic Team into the Maracanã stadium for the Opening Ceremony was a suitably fitting acknowledgement for one of the greatest ambassadors of our sport and our nation.

Rohan Dennis was denied a certain medal when his handlebar extension broke, forcing a bike change in the final stages of the men's Individual Time Trial. In arguably the best Team Pursuit contest in history, our men claimed a stunning Silver medal. They were the fastest ever Australian team, breaking the previous world record in a heart-stopping race right to the line. Anna Meares went on to claim a Bronze medal in the Women's Keirin, and in doing so became the first Australian to claim a medal in four consecutive Olympic Games.

Our Paralympic team showed tremendous resilience in Rio, bouncing back from a well-publicised adverse analytical finding (doping violation) by Michael Gallagher on the eve of the Paralympics which rocked the team. It was testament to the leadership of Peter Day and the APC that the team was able to regroup and go on to exceed their overall medal ambitions.

- 2016 UCI Road World Championships, Doha, Qatar, 9–16 October: 2 Bronze medals – Elite Women's TT; U23 Men's TT and top 10 finishes in Elite Men's RR (4th); U23 Men's RR (6th); Elite Women's RR (7th); Junior Women's TT (9th); Junior Men's RR (10th).
- 2016 Rio Paralympic Games, 7–18 September: 3 Gold, 7 Silver, 3 Bronze (13 total), exceeding Australia's overall medal target, winning six medals on the Track (1 Gold) and seven medals on the Road (2 Gold), very narrowly missing a C5 Road Race Gold due to a crash metres from the finish line.
- 2016 Rio Olympic Games, 5–21 August: 1 Silver – Men's Team Pursuit, and 1 Bronze – Women's Keirin (2 total). 4th Men's Team Sprint, 4th Women's Team Sprint, 4th Men's Sprint, 5th Men's Road ITT, 5th Women's Team Pursuit (heavy fall in training three days prior to competition), 6th Men's BMX, 7th Men's Omnium, 8th Men's BMX, 8th Men's Sprint, 8th Women's Omnium, 9th Women's Road ITT, 15th Women's Road Race, 16th Men's MTB XCO (with wheel change). Across all discipline events Australia finished 13th overall on the medal tally.
- 2016 UCI Junior Track World Championships, Aigle, Switzerland, 20–24 July: 1 Gold, 3 Silver, 2 Bronze (6 total).
- 2016 UCI BMX Elite World Championships, Medellin, Colombia, 25–29 May: 1 Gold, 2 Silver (3 total). Gold in the Women's and Silver in the Men's Time Trial and Silver in the Women's Main Final.
- 2016 UCI Para-cycling Track World Championships, Montichiari, Italy, 17–20 March: 14 medals (4 Gold, 5 Silver, 5 Bronze), placing 3rd nation.
- 2016 UCI Track World Championships, London, UK, 2–6 March: Australia finished 3rd nation overall with five medals (2 Gold, 2 Silver and 1 Bronze).

- U23 World Tour Academy (WTA): Victories in GP Poggiana and GP Capodarco, Italy. Second and 3rd overall Tour of Ireland. Stage win, three stage podiums, overall Mountains and Teams Classification, 5th and 7th overall in the Tour de l'Avenir, France (U23 Tour de France). ITT stage win and 2nd TTT at Olympias Tour, Holland.
- Orica-AIS Women's Professional Road Team: 5th on UCI World ranking, with 23 wins and 33 podiums for the season from 80 race days.

Sadly, following his exciting quest for Rio Olympic Games glory, Sam Willoughby had a training accident in the USA on 10 September. Sam suffered serious spinal injuries and has a long road to recovery ahead which will require all his sporting courage plus the support of the cycling community.

Facilities

The CA HPU Headquarters and Administrative hub are based at the Adelaide Super-Drome, with a lease agreement in place with the Office for Recreation and Sport (ORS) South Australian through to 2020.

All HPU programs are camps-based. Adelaide is the primary Daily Training Environment (DTE) for track sprint and endurance programs. BMX operates from the AIS Pizzey Park on the Gold Coast, Queensland, accessing Australia's only international-standard BMX SX track at Chandler, Brisbane. The AIS European Training Centre (ETC) in Gavirate, Italy, remains our road/endurance programs international headquarters, providing a high-performance centre of excellence which many of the European-based athletes, programs and staff benefit from, thanks to the ongoing terrific support of the AIS. The Jayco-AIS World Tour Academy spent the first three months of its European campaign based in Oudenaarde (Belgium), preparing its U23 male athletes with a series of tough Northern European races before relocating back to the AIS ETC in Italy for the second half of the season.

Initiatives and Plans

- As we now enter into a new quadrennial cycle, the CA HPU programs have commenced phase one of what will be a very thorough and comprehensive review process. It will include both internal and external consultation to reconsider and reset our strategy and the best system structures to position Australian Cycling for ongoing sustainable success on the world stage.

Staffing

HPU personnel are uniquely skilled and committed. The extent of HPU program operations is quite extraordinary when you consider the logistics and personnel commitment involved to attain world best practice while ensuring a minimum duty of care is prioritised across men's and women's Track, BMX, Road and Para-cycling programs. There is no 'off season' and we are active in numerous time zones constantly, and in an Olympic year the demand on our personnel and resources is further stretched and amplified. It is both motivating and a privilege to work alongside so many dedicated individuals who share a passion for our sport, supporting our athletes to achieve their best, behind the scenes or in the field of play.

As is the nature of elite sport, and particularly at the end of an Olympic cycle, we will see several valued long-term employees moving on. These fine people include Sonya Simpson (11 years), Ian McKenzie (15 years) and Kevin Tabotta (20+ years). CA thanks them for their contributions to the growth and success of Australian cycling.

Acknowledgements

The HPU is underpinned by many stakeholders and major partners who provide significant financial support, namely JAYCO (the Ryan family), Subaru, NIN (AIS and SIS/SAS), ACGA, AOC, APC and ASC. Additionally, there are many loyal sponsors and partners including but not limited to Bike Technologies (BT), Santini, Vittoria, Scott, Shimano, Swisse, Bont, Kask, Singapore Airlines, MorganBlue, Premax, Training Peaks, Elite, Giro, Monash University, Edith Cowan University and Adelaide University. Your shared vision to see Australian Cycling aspire to be the world's leading cycling nation is deeply valued.

Rest assured the HPU will embrace the challenges ahead and seek to find every opportunity as we reflect and reset our systems and strategic plan for the 2020 cycle. We look forward to an ongoing close collaboration with our excellent stakeholder network to continually improve our high-performance ambitions.

Finally, we must acknowledge the stellar career of Anna Meares OAM. Anna has been the stalwart of the Australian cycling team for 15 years, leading by example and consistently medalling at all major events. Her achievements over that period are simply too numerous to record here. In addition to her outstanding performances, Anna has been a fantastic leader and ambassador for the sport both on and off the bike. We wish her all the best in her retirement and hope to see her continued involvement with cycling in the future.

PARA-CYCLING HIGH PERFORMANCE PROGRAM

Para-cycling as a discipline within Cycling Australia's High-Performance Unit works co-operatively with the Australian Paralympic Committee. With the Rio Paralympics being the priority focus for the 2016 program, the Montichiari Track World Championships were specifically targeted as the last opportunity to secure Paralympic qualification points prior to the 27 March cut off.

Performance Highlights

The team met expectations in the Montichiari Track World Championships winning 14 medals (4 Gold, 5 Silver and 5 Bronze). This was an overall great team performance and importantly added valuable qualification points towards athlete slots for the Paralympics.

Having qualified 13 Paralympic slots for Rio Paralympics, six female and seven male (8 Single Bikes, 3 Tandems, 1 Trike and 1 Handcyclist), the team exceeded overall medal expectations in winning 13 medals (3 Gold, 7 Silver and 3 Bronze) but this was short of the anticipated 4-5 Gold.

A fourth Gold was denied us when dangerous riding caused the serious fall of Alistair Donohoe when in a commanding position in a two-up sprint in the final 20 metres of the C4-5 combined Men's Paralympic Road Race.

Carol Cooke defended her London Paralympic Time Trial title and then went on to become a dual Gold medallist when she also won the T2 Road Race. David Nicholas won Gold in the C3 Individual Pursuit. His dedication and commitment were rewarded when he presented fully prepared physically and mentally to go one better than his Silver at the world track championships. David qualified fastest and raced for Gold winning against the defending world champion.

Other medallists were Alistair Donohoe C5 and Kyle Bridgwood C4 winning Silver in both their Individual Pursuits and Road Time Trials. Sue Powell C4 had two fantastic rides to take Silver in the Individual Pursuit and Bronze in the Road Time Trial. Amanda Reid C2 in her first Paralympics won Silver in the 500m Time Trial and Stuart Tripp H5 rode the race of his life taking Silver in the Road Time Trial when only beaten by 2.4 sec by legendary Alex Zanardi. Kieran Modra and Dave Edwards BM took an unexpected Bronze in the Road Time Trial after what was a disappointing performance in their Individual Pursuit. Jess Gallagher and Maddie Janssen BW secured Bronze in the 1K Time Trail. This was a fantastic result for Jess who only crossed to Para-cycling after being a Winter Paralympian in Sochi 2014.

Camps and Rio staging

Following the Australian Para-cycling Road Championships a training camp was held in Adelaide prior to departure for the Montichiari World Track Championships. This was a great opportunity for all the Rio Long Squad athletes to come together for vaccination updates, screenings, clothing fitouts and preparations towards Rio.

Tom Skulander led a road-focused trip to Belgium and Germany during May and June for Carol Cooke and Stuart Tripp as both needed training and racing exposure. This was singularly the best decision for our Trike and Handcyclist as it greatly contributed to their overall Rio preparation.

An altitude camp was facilitated for several of our endurance track cyclists in Livigno prior to our final staging camp in Montichiari. Our planned track bookings ensured more than adequate track time and Montichiari provided a familiar training environment with temperatures and weather similar to Rio, a great location for road training, good climbs and flats for ITT efforts and recovery rides in a country that is very rider friendly on not overly busy roads.

The team used a timely and comfortable coach transfer to Rome for the flight to Rio which saw our Para-cycling team the first Australian team to arrive at the Paralympic village with seven days to settle in prior to competition. Because of the identified lack of training circuits that would be available for Carol (Trike) and Stuart (Handcycle) in Rio, they completed their training in Italy and joined the team five days before their competition, a strategy that worked really well for them both.

Staffing

All program staff continued from the Track Worlds with their full commitment through to the Paralympics with a deliberate strategy of continuity that would ensure an ease of understanding and working for all the athletes and staff.

Acknowledgements

All athletes and staff are extremely appreciative of the Australian Paralympic Committee management and staff for their tireless work in every aspect of assisting with preparation both before and in Rio. Kate McLoughlin and everyone associated with operational matters must be congratulated on their outstanding contribution towards the overall success of the team.

We recognise and thank Kevin Tabotta who ensured our Paralympic team was supported with equipment, clothing, helmets and staff to the same standard as the Olympic Team. A big team thank-you is extended to program co-ordinator Rik Fulcher and Murray Lydeamore who as our Paralympic Team Leader ensured continued efficient and effective managerial operations with both Cycling Australia and the Australian Paralympic Committee regarding our requirements, which did have another dimension due to the added security issues surrounding our time in Rio.

I would like to recognise the support of SIS/SAS and their coaches as the Para-cycling program strived to deliver AIS/ASC Winning Edge targets and thank the high performance management team and all staff who assisted with the operations of the Para-cycling program.

Thanks to the various state associations, their commissaries and volunteers for conducting events for Para-cyclists. Without your continued commitment there would be little to no competition opportunities for Para-cyclists.

SPORT

January 2016 saw Ballarat play host to the Cycling Australia National Road Championships with four days of racing for the elite and under-23 men and women. Amateur and recreation cyclists for the first time were able to take on the tough Mt Buninyong course with the inaugural Gran Fondo National Championships staged on the Saturday ahead of the first of the road races.

Sunday's live national broadcast commenced with the Women's road race where Amanda Spratt claimed her second road title. This was followed by the memorable solo breakaway by Jack Bobridge who also claimed his second road championship, leading the race from start to finish.

The national road championships continue to be the marquee event for Cycling Australia. Showcasing the sport of cycling, it drives tremendous economic results for the Ballarat region and a huge thank-you needs to be extended to the City of Ballarat for their continued support as well as the Ballarat community and in particular the people of Buninyong who welcome us back each year.

January and February were jam-packed with three UCI-sanctioned events. The UCI World Tour Down Under started the international cycling season and was followed by the one-day classic, the Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Race (CEGORR). Both races along with the Herald Sun Tour continue to attract the best international riders, placing Australian cycling on the international map for four weeks.

The Subaru National Road Series in 2016 provided tremendous racing for Australia's finest men and women. Each event of the series was featured in weekly highlights packages on the Subaru Full Cycle television show that continued to rate strongly throughout the year and provide a platform to promote the peak domestic road cycling series. There remain many challenges for the NRS and the current review will provide direction for the series into 2017 and beyond.

The Cycling Australia Elite Track Nationals were held at the Adelaide Super-Drome – home of the High Performance Unit – and delivered world-class racing as many athletes vied for Olympic selection.

The Super-Drome also provided the backdrop this year for Bridie O'Donnell to claim the world hour record by riding 46.882 kilometres in 60 minutes, surpassing the previous record by 609m.

The UCI Gran Fondo World Championships were held in Western Australia during September and saw athletes from across the globe descend on Perth and Rottnest Island, the host of the Individual Time Trial. It truly was world-class racing which saw the finish of the road race include gruelling laps in the Perth hills before a finish in Kalamunda.

The UCI MTB World Cup returned to the Cairns region in April following the successful 2014 event. Cross Country racing and Down Hill action thrilled thousands of locals and visitors to far north Queensland with the courses behind James Cook University amongst the World Heritage-listed rain forest living up to its world-class reputation. International riders will return to Cairns again in 2017 when Cycling Australia will host the UCI MTB World Championships.

A huge thank-you is extended to all our state federations that continue to host Australian championships throughout the year. Cycling Australia looks forward to strengthening this relationship in 2017 and by extension our gratitude includes the volunteers, officials and staff who make all of the events possible.

PARTICIPATION

She Rides

The third year of She Rides has continued to build on the success of the program. Participation numbers have remained strong, with 828 women participating in Basics, Confidence or Together programs in 2016.

She Rides has undergone structural changes in 2016, most significantly the operational responsibility relocating from Sydney to Melbourne. In addition, the management of the marketing function has shifted from an external agency to a dedicated staff resource. The new Digital Marketing and Communications Co-ordinator has facilitated changes in the way we connect with our participants by being more targeted in our approach, as well as allowing us to be more responsive in developing and testing new methods of communicating with our audiences.

The She Rides social media community continues to grow, with a 28.4 per cent lift in our Facebook following on the previous year to more than 7400 followers. Our audience is also responding to the changes we are making in our digital marketing, represented by a growth of 68 per cent in organic engagement with our social media posts between autumn and spring promotional periods.

Our behavioural data continues to tell a compelling story about the effectiveness of the program, with results showing significant increases in reported levels of bike riding skills and confidence. Additionally, the program has influenced a measurable shift in participants' attitudes toward engaging in riding behaviours, specifically riding on shared paths and in low to medium traffic environments.

For the first time, we have also been able to gain an understanding of the longer-term impact She Rides has had on the riding behaviour of past participants, with 65.22 per cent of past Together participants indicating they are still riding at least once a week.

The She Rides program is a well-established and respected product offering in a busy marketplace and 2016 has been a year of change and consolidation of its position. The foundation is now in place with initial work already underway to explore scalable opportunities in 2017 to engage more women in cycling.

Let's Ride

For Let's Ride, 2016 was a milestone year with the national launch of the program occurring in February after 12 months of product development and pilot programming. In the first six months of the program, more than 3300 children have participated in the Let's Ride program, many utilising funding from the Australian Sports Commission's Sporting Schools Program (SSP).

In May, the alignment of Let's Ride with the national Health and Physical Education (HPE) curriculum was finalised and saw the launch of the Ride for Life curriculum resources. This was developed in conjunction with the Australian Sports Commission and one of Australia's leading education consultants, Janice Atkin. The resources have been designed to involve schools in teaching the nation's children how to ride their bikes safely and responsibly.

An event at Croxton Special School in Melbourne's northern suburbs marked the launch of the Let's Ride Legend school ambassador program in September. This program will further engage teachers to become advocates for safe cycling within Australian primary schools. Another highlight for Let's Ride in 2016 was the delivery of a modified Bike Safety Program to more than 800 Aboriginal children in 30-plus locations throughout NSW.

Let's Ride currently has a pool of more than 50 Delivery Centres, or coaching providers, operating in every state and territory. Early pilots for a 4th Gear (youth/high school) program as well as the Let's Ride Club delivery model were run in 2016 in partnership with state federations.

The ambassador program and the alignment with the national curriculum, as well as the network of delivery centres and the standing of Let's Ride as a program of choice for all Australian primary schools that are part of the Sporting Schools program, combine to make a powerful footprint in our quest to engage all children in the skills, fun and sport of cycling.

Kids celebrate completing a Let's Ride program.

Coaching

As a result of the 2015 changes to the national coaching accreditation scheme released by the Australian Sports Commission, Emma Grant, National Manager - Coaching and Development, engaged in a study that highlighted the need for fundamental changes to the Cycling Australia coach education framework to ensure that equal attention was given to both active recreation and sports excellence.

This study presents the results of research showing a clear link between coach education, an improved coaching workforce and increased participation. It indicates that elevated participation rates can be achieved by ensuring that the educational needs of coaches are better understood through active engagement with them and that decisions pertaining to coach education can be best made through direct consultation. It also suggests that a better understanding of fundamental learning attitudes can be attained by questioning the key motivating factors involved.

The report's recommendations proved invaluable when considering the pedagogical processes in education, training and professional development opportunities for coaches. Our focus in 2016 was on developing a coach education framework that caters for participation sport and performance sport equally, piloting coach education programs and mapping curriculum frameworks alongside Cycling Australia's Strategy 2020. This will be the vital link to connect grass roots and high performance that is fundamental to the future growth of cycling.

The accompanying Cycling Australia coach education framework demonstrates the pathway individuals may take and the relevant accreditations that make up this pathway.

We are proud of a number of key accomplishments over the past 12 months:

- Finalisation of the Cycling ACT Strategic Plan 2016-2020
- Establishment of a women's sub-committee which is intended to provide guidance and advice to Cycling ACT and deliver projects relating to female cycling
- Increased transparency of operations, including State team selections and development pathways
- Development of closer working relationships with the ACT Academy of Sport, including appointment of an interim Cycling Program co-ordinator
- Active lobbying of the ACT Government in relation to key road and track cycling infrastructure
- Development of a whole-of-ACT race calendar, as well as the facilitation and streamlining of approvals for road racing.
- Cycling ACT membership has continued to grow during 2016, creeping closer to the 1000 mark with female membership continuing to exceed 20 per cent.

Cycling ACT ran the Junior and Women's Tour in May and assisted Capital Cycling run the National Capital Tour (both NRS and graded racing) in September. We also hosted the Under 19 Road National Championships in July. At the local level, our clubs endeavoured to provide local racing opportunities on an almost weekly basis.

We conducted a very successful women's skills program ahead of the Junior and Women's Tour in May and have recently established a junior track development squad, which will focus on the 2017 Junior Track Nationals in February. The ACT Schools Road Cycling Championships also returned to the capital in 2016 after a few years' hiatus.

ACT-cyclists have continued to figure strongly in the international field:

- Mathew Hayman who won the 2016 Paris-Roubaix.
- Chloe Hosking won La Course by Le Tour de France, the Gran Premio Bruno Beghelli and the Tour of Chongming Island, as well as winning stages of La Route de France, the Tour of Qatar and the Tour of Chongming Island. Hosking was the highest placed Australian in the UCI Road World Championships in Doha, finishing seventh.

- Michael Matthews won a stage in Le Tour de France and both the prologue and a stage in Paris Nice, as well as the Vuelta a La Rioja. Matthews was the highest placed Australian in the UCI Road World Championships in Doha, finishing just outside the medals in fourth.
- Sue Powell in her final year of international competition, won both a Silver (Individual Pursuit C4) and a Bronze (Road Time Trial C4) medal in the Paralympics after winning a Silver at the Para-cycling Track World Championships in the Individual Pursuit C4.
- Rebecca Wiasak successfully defended her Gold medal in the Individual Pursuit World Championships.
- Gracie Elvin won the Gooik-Geraardsbergen-Gooik for the second year running, and then represented Australia at both the Olympics and the UCI Road World Championships.

Canberra's Michael Rogers retired from international competition in 2016. Rogers has been racing professionally since 1999, during which time he has won three World Time Trial Championships as well as stages of Le Tour de France and the Giro d'Italia.

Other ACT cyclists continue to perform well on the international stage with Ben Hill, Kimberley Wells, Nathan Haas and Nathan Hart prominent.

Key objectives for the year ahead

One of the key objectives for 2017 will be the review of the structure of Cycling ACT to ensure we can best support the sport of cycling within the ACT, as well as the long-term sustainability (including succession planning) of Cycling ACT as an organisation.

Acknowledgements and thanks

Cycling ACT thanks all of our members, cyclists, commissaires, officials, volunteers and coaches for their continued commitment, dedication and enthusiasm in all things cycling within the ACT. Thanks are also extended to the ACT Government and ACTIVE Canberra who have provided financial support to Cycling ACT over the last 12 months.

I am pleased to report that CNSW has enjoyed another successful year in 2015-16.

Selected highlights include:

- Membership numbers as at 30 June 2016 are up YOY 7%
- Junior gold race numbers as at 30 June 2016 were 4% up YOY
- Female membership as at 30 June 2016 rose 16% YOY
- Net assets have grown 5% compared to the previous year-end
- Sixty road and track and 19 level 1 cycling coaches qualified during 2015-16
- Re-establishment of a History and Heritage Commission.

At the risk of overlooking the outstanding achievements of many of CNSW's clubs, volunteers and riders, I would like to draw attention to certain topics which deserve special mention.

Juniors: Introducing juniors to cycling and the value of being part of a healthy cycling club is vitally important to CNSW's future. In addition to the work the CNSW team does at the Dunc Gray Velodrome on a regular basis, the efforts of the Dubbo, Wagga, Orange, LACC, Hunter Districts and St George clubs in organising programs for junior riders should be noted. St George was the first club to adopt the CA-led "Let's Ride" program.

Female riders: Another unfolding success story has been the growing number of female riders in CNSW. There are many clubs making concerted efforts to provide an attractive environment for female riders and CNSW's supports these efforts as best we can. Congratulations to Jacquie Bogue, a CNSW Director, who leads our Women's Commission and has helped drive a number of programs to introduce and attract ladies to the CNSW environment, including our new initiative, the #five100 ride program.

Racing: Racing has historically been the heartbeat of CNSW. The strength of our racing culture is underlined by the growing number of NSW riders competing across all age groups at club, regional, state and national level. This year saw our biggest event – the Masters State Road Championships with 450 entrants. Several NSW riders are also competing successfully on the world stage. Caleb Ewan kept many of us up late during the European cycling season while Ashlee Ankudinoff headed off to Rio on the track and Rachael Neylan and Amanda Spratt on the road. They were joined by our Para-cycling contingent of Simone Kennedy, Alexandra Green, Matt Formston, Nick Yallouris and Amanda Reid. Amanda was the only NSW cyclist to win a medal in Rio, a Silver in the Time Trial. Special mention also goes to our World Junior Track Silver medallist, Cameron Scott.

Engagement with Sportif events: CNSW has continued to build its brand presence with various large NSW sportif events. The Blayney to Bathurst mass ride enjoyed its biggest year ever with 1850 entrants including an elite, 120-strong gold wave. CNSW also formed a strong relationship with the state's biggest cycling event, the MS Sydney to Wollongong ride (10,000 riders) which included access to participants for membership sales and hosting of a major criterion.

Pathways: CNSW is aligning the work at Regional Academy level to the elite development protocols at NSWIS and CAHPU to improve the effectiveness of the elite pathway within NSW. An Individual Performance Plan (IPP) will apply a reduced and age/developmental relevant set of performance measures to assist emerging U15-19 elite athletes. Further, CNSW and NSWIS recently launched a road talent identification program to give riders with latent potential a chance to find a pathway through to national squads and beyond.

State Government: Phil Ayres and the board have lifted the level of our engagement with the NSW Government to a new level as evidenced by CNSW's contribution to the creation of the State's minimum passing distance laws. We are also gaining more traction with government on an ongoing basis as part of several working groups focused on general cycle safety and cycling infrastructure projects.

Governance: In 2015-16 CNSW welcomed three new directors to the board and received a large number of applications for a casual vacancy that arose. This reflects the unprecedented level of interest in cycling at present and the recognition that CNSW and the structures that support cycling are subject to the changing needs of riders.

Challenges: CNSW is in good health. That is clear. Looking ahead, however, CNSW has challenges common to other states. These include finding ways to assist clubs with their growth and development, promoting our relevance to the recreational member base, improving diversity and feeding more young riders into high-performance pathways. CNSW intends to address these challenges by, among other things, pursuing existing strategic plans, applying the governance structures we have in place and fostering our strong relationship with Cycling Australia.

Cycling in the Northern Territory has once again seen a growth year. Membership in Darwin has climbed significantly and the Sunbuild Top End Gran Fondo and the new Arafura Fabrications Criterium are the jewels in the crown for Darwin Cycling Club. Alice Springs Cycling Club has had a year of revival, with growth in their flagship participation event, the Kings Canyon Cruise.

The sport has benefited from consistency within Alice Springs, Darwin and Cycling NT by all bodies having stable committees, allowing for clear strategic growth to occur. Following is a wrap-up from around the tracks:

Pedals NT

In their first full year of operation Pedals NT has played a supporting role to grow participation opportunities and identify and develop synergies across the cycling codes. In particular, they have supported cycling by promoting events through the Pedals NT website, giving strategic assistance to the Darwin velodrome development, supporting event management for the Top End Gran Fondo and Mitchell Street Criterium and providing a delivery centre for the 'She Rides' and 'Lets Ride' programs.

Alice Springs Cycling Club

The year 2016 was one of revival for ASCC, with a new club kit, varied and well-attended events and strong commitment from our volunteers. A full events calendar was supported by juniors, seniors and volunteers alike with a combination of social rides, races and two cyclocross series to top it off.

The flagship ASCC social ride, the King's Canyon Cruise, saw growth in participants and support from the Salvation Army and they hope to expand on this again next year. On the racing front, the annual Barkly Challenge saw its biggest turnout in years for two days of racing between Alice Springs, Darwin and Mount Isa cycling clubs. Darwin took the shield home for the first time – a sign of the growing involvement in cycling across all of the NT.

Darwin Cycling Club

By focusing on well-organised racing and social events, DCC has nearly doubled its membership over the last twelve months, reaching close to 150 members. Their calendar included a mix of racing and social rides and was well supported by volunteers, officials and competitors, with events attracting more than 50 participants. Free entry fees have encouraged cyclists to purchase licenses, and the Regional Race license has proven a successful initiative.

Two larger Darwin events - the Top End Gran Fondo and Mitchell St Criterium, have exposed cycling to a large NT audience. 580 people rode in the Top End Gran Fondo, with a variety of distances for all ages and abilities attracting riders from across Australia to the warm Top End conditions. The Mitchell St Criterium was run alongside a running event on the same course, and offered sufficient prizemoney to attract both interstate riders and big crowds. We look forward to working with the NT Government to further expand these events.

Key objectives for the year ahead

Cycling NT is looking to continue to build the capacity of its clubs and increase its market exposure alongside Pedals NT in the recreational market. There are great opportunities in the Northern Territory that, with some further support from CA, could be hugely beneficial for the broader cycling community in Australia.

Acknowledgements and thanks

Thanks must go to the NT Government and the Department of Tourism and Culture who have provided financial support for the sport over the last 12 months. Thanks also to the staff at Cycling Australia who have supported us from afar and provided much needed advice to our largely volunteer-run organisation. Last, but definitely most important, a huge thank-you is extended to all our volunteers, parents, coaches and officials who put in many hours behind the scenes to make sure the sport is moving forward like a well-oiled machine.

The board of Cycling Queensland has met to review the strategic direction of the association over the next three years. A continued focus around governance has been adopted with work being done to update the Technical Regulations and Strategic Plan for 2017-2020.

It is recognised that plans for the future should centre on achieving realistic outcomes while concentrating on the important strategic platforms, which include:

- Participation – Providing the opportunities to learn, develop, ride or race for health, enjoyment and competition.
- Communication – Conveying our message to members, the community and society to promote cycling.
- Collaboration – Working with our clubs and stakeholder community to provide the best opportunity and environment for all cyclists.
- Commercial – Operating with good governance standards and financial principles.
- Excellence – Seeking excellence in competition, our events and operations.

Cycling Queensland has achieved a slight increase in membership numbers with new trends starting to appear over the last 12 months, auguring well for 2017. We are working towards the opening of the Anna Meares Velodrome with the creation of an accreditation scheme and other programs that will drive riding and racing on this world-class facility. The number of cyclists competing on the track is expected to improve greatly with our plans to promote and market track cycling activities to the non-competitive member. In addition, we are partnering with Cycling Australia and GOLDOC to plan for test events for the 2018 Commonwealth Games, and to leave as lasting a legacy for cycling throughout Queensland as possible.

Throughout 2016 our Queensland athletes have been well represented on the international stage, highlighted by some remarkable performances.

Michael Hepburn returned home with a Silver medal from the Rio Olympic Games Teams Pursuit event after winning the Teams Pursuit Gold at the UCI Track Cycling World Championships. After a successful season in Europe, Katrin Garfoot represented Australia at the Games in the ITT and Road Race. Queensland-born Anna Meares has once again brought home an Olympic medal in the Keirin, after also winning a Silver medal at the World Championships in London.

Both David Nicholas and Kyle Bridgwood had great success at the Paralympics, winning a Gold and two Silver medals respectively. Maddie Janssen and David Edwards supported Jess Gallagher and Kieran Modra as pilots on the tandem, with both teams winning Bronze medals in Rio.

The UCI Road World Championships in Doha also saw Lauren Rowney represent Australia in the Elite Women's road race, while Nicholas Schultz competed in the Under 23 Road Race. Harry Sweeny and Jaime Gunning both contested World Under 19 Road Championships. Brooke Tucker and Kristina Clonan competed in the Under 19 World Track Championships, with Kristina receiving a Bronze medal in the Madison event.

We saw a ground-breaking year in the Queensland Road Team Series (QRTS) with the introduction of a Women's Series. Eight Women's and 18 Men's teams competed in the four-round series which was hosted by the Cleveland, Warwick, Murwillumbah and Sunshine Coast regions.

The Queensland Junior Elite Training Squad (JETS) Program has continued to attract support from the young cyclists around the state. There is a growing interest in regional areas – Toowoomba, Bundaberg and Cairns – to adopt junior programs and participant enrolments are expected to increase considerably with the opening of the Anna Meares Velodrome. Working with Cycling Australia, we have also been able to assist in the development and delivery of the Let's Ride 4thGear pilot, where high schools students are being targeted for cycling skills training.

We have created a strong focus on up-skilling our workforce with a host of commissaire and coaching courses held around the state and more dates will be scheduled before the end of the year. The courses have been well received, with members participating from regional areas such as Mt Isa, Townsville, Rockhampton and the Gold Coast.

I would like to acknowledge the dedication and support of all the hard-working officials of our member clubs, along with the commissaires, coaches and volunteers who all played a very significant role in making 2015/16 a successful year. My thanks are extended to CEO Sean Muir and his staff along with the members of the board for a job well done.

It was another sensational year in 2016 for cycling in South Australia which again saw the state buzz with the excitement of events that included the Tour Down Under, Bridie O'Donnell's successful one hour record attempt, the 2016 Omnium and Para-Cycling Track National Championships and the Cycling Australia Track National Championships in a year when our best headed to Rio to represent Australia at the Olympics.

The support and enthusiasm for both the Nationals and the hour record attempt saw the Super-Drome echo with the cheers of the biggest crowds the venue has experienced in many years, giving promoters and organisers a glimpse at the enormous potential the sport has to offer.

The Tour Down Under continues to showcase how cycling can inspire and excite both communities and cyclists at all levels and although the promoter of the UCI Tour Down Under is the State Government, the successful delivery of the event each year draws heavily on the support of many of CSA's stalwart volunteers who fill various roles over the course of the event.

This year also saw the Central Districts Cycling Club run another successful two-day junior tour at Angaston in the Barossa Valley. This well-run event continues to be South Australia's premier junior cycling road tour and attracts junior athletes from most states.

Grant funding from the Office for Recreation and Sport in South Australia enabled Cycling SA to re-establish the SA State Development Squad as a pathway for talented junior riders to develop skills for entry into State Institute programs, as well as launch the Cycling SA School Series (CSASS) as an introduction to competitive cycling for school-aged novice riders.

A strong contingent of South Australian junior riders took up the opportunity to participate in each round of the National Junior Track Series and with the assistance of Cycling Australia Adelaide hosted its own round in January 2016.

Women's cycling in South Australia continues to be well supported with strong leadership from the Skinny Lattes Cycling Club in the delivery of the Women's Series which was boosted in 2016 by great support from Junior Women and a cohort of passionate athletes and ambassadors for the sport.

Road cycling continued to build on its strengths with fiercely contested rounds of the Elite Road and Winter Road Series in a mix of courses that expanded on the mostly criterium-based events in 2015. The Mount Gambier Cycling Club again hosted the 100 Mile Classic and the State Kermesse Championships around the unique Kermesse course in Australia – the rim of the crater of the Blue Lake – while the Adelaide, Kilkenny, Norwood, Port Adelaide and South Coast Cycling Clubs continued their memorial and classic races.

Track racing saw an improvement in participation with the Central Districts, Kilkenny and Port Adelaide clubs run a program of events at the Super-Drome and the South Coast and Whyalla clubs run outdoor events over summer.

The Port Adelaide Cycling Club built on the success of their very popular Cyclocross program CX with another series of events in the Adelaide parklands culminating in the National Cyclocross Championships.

Cycling SA welcomed two new clubs to the federation in 2016, FRA – Power On and South Australia's first school-based club, the Scotch College South Australia Cycling Club. The enthusiasm and energy they've contributed to date will be of great benefit to the federation.

The 2016 Annual General Meeting saw the election of a new president and board with a renewed focus on improving the governance of Cycling SA and revisiting the value it can bring its members.

The board acknowledges the support of its CEO Peter Macdonald and his office team, together with the significant contribution of its volunteers, grant partners and sponsors.

Membership: Our federation has continued to work on increasing the membership with pleasing results over the past 12 months. Overall numbers continue to grow, but the mix tends to change a little with fewer members racing open track events and more riding road and endurance/participation events. There are more Masters registering now and despite significant efforts to increase female participation across the board over recent years, that category of membership has stagnated. For a state our size we should be satisfied we have done all that is possible to attract old and new membership to a range of events across the calendar year.

Sport: We continue to produce high-calibre athletes in both road, track and mountain bike disciplines. We continue to host the Mersey Valley Tour and Junior 19 NRS selection event, now held for nearly 10 years in Tasmania. The Christmas carnivals also attract high-profile overseas cyclists who contest a criterium series as well as track events at the same time in December, an event which continues to bolster our track numbers. Of course the blue ribbon of the elite NRS Tours is the Tour of Tasmania. We hosted the National Junior Track Series round at the Silverdome in December 2015, along with a very successful Junior National Track Championships in February, along with the National MTB Marathon Championships for the first time in Derby.

Highlights of the year are plentiful, but rated performances are James Robinson's Gold medal as part of the Team Pursuit at Junior 19 Worlds, Amy Cure and Georgia Baker representing Australia at Elite World Track Championships and the selection of Hayden Di Coco Grant as a member of the Junior 19 Men's team for World Junior 19 Track Championships, while road riders like Richie Porte continues to be highly rated as one of the best professional road riders on the world circuit. Madeleine Fasnacht's Gold medal performance in the Junior Women 19 National Championships appears to be the catalyst for her selection in the national team for the Junior World Road championships to be held later this year.

The selection of four of our absolute best cyclists in the Australian team to contest the Olympics in Rio would have to be a first for Tasmania in the sport of cycling. Riders Richie Porte, Scott Bowden, Amy Cure and Georgia Baker all gained selection with Cure and Baker as part of the Women's Pursuit squad, Porte to contest the road event and belatedly joined by Bowden, who also contested the Mountain Bike event in the Cross Country.

Unfortunately one could not script what would follow where Porte crashed in the road race suffering serious injury. Bowden, along with more than half the field, failed to finish, while Cure and Baker were involved in a training accident at the velodrome, an incident which clearly made the task of gaining a podium finish much more difficult. We are nevertheless extremely proud to have had four riders represent our state and country on the largest sporting stage in world sport.

Key objectives for the year: We continue to achieve all targets in our Strategic Plan and to get great support and guidance from the Department of Sport and Recreation Tasmania. We have valued working relations with State Government ministers and staff assisting in the A Metre Matters campaign and other programs and issues affecting the sport of cycling in Tasmania. We continue to have a sound working relationship with Tasmania Police who provide great support for road events where a racing envelope is required.

This support is very important when organising major cycling events within the state and should never be underestimated. In this regard we thank CEO Colin Burns for playing a major role in ensuring that this relationship remains a solid foundation in enabling us to reach our targets. We continue to be well supported by our major sponsor St Lukes Health. We have again been successful in overseeing a state road and track roster, have fostered a women's series on the road again this year and staged a couple of NRS events and a national track championship event. It has been a busy 12 months.

Governance: Our board remains stable with all sitting members not being opposed at our recent AGM. We continue to have good representation across the state with particular expertise in areas of marketing, safety, event management and technical skills. We again operated a successful budget within the reporting period, despite the relatively small size of our membership. We continue to co-opt members to the board who can provide a skill set that can help us achieve our objectives. I note from an independent survey done within the reporting period that Tasmania topped the states and territories as to the efficiency of how the federation is managed. That achievement is largely down to our CEO Colin Burns and his energy in ensuring we achieve high standards in whatever we participate in. I also extend my thanks to sitting board members for their contribution over the past year. Unfortunately we did lose a long-serving administration officer within the reporting year as Robyn Bailey retired after more than 21 years of service. We thank Robyn for her contribution in the development of cycling as a major sport in Tasmania.

Victoria continues to be the centre of cycling in Australia and 2016 proved the point with a wide range of exciting developments highlighted by:

- An increase in racing participation by 25%
- More than 15,000 individual participants in riding programs
- A 10% increase in the number of officials and coaches
- Significant increases in riding membership.

In achieving our vision of “Building a Love of Cycling. More People Riding, Racing and Watching” we are focused on increasing participation in all forms in Victoria.

Riding: Riding is a major strategic growth and focus area for CV. This year we saw more than 15,000 people participate in events and programs across the state. Our cornerstone programs key and focus areas were:

- Women: Breeze Rides and Social Spin
- People with a Disability: Try Cycling
- Older Adults: Life Cycle 55+.

The Seight Challenge Series continued with the Whittlesea Challenge, Mount Macedon Challenge and Marysville Challenge. While numbers were steady, a number of new riding events will be launched in 2017 to drive us into new markets.

Additionally, we partnered with Melburn Roobaix, Men of Malvern Ride, Tour Fondo, Sam Miranda Tour and Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Ride to provide a number of opportunities to members to take part in events throughout the state.

With the support of state government, the ‘Building Club Capacity Program’ was launched to increase participation in partner clubs for partnership opportunities in new areas.

Racing: The number of people participating in racing events rose by almost 25 per cent this year with large gains particularly in cyclo-cross and major track events. The continued popularity of the Winter Track series has seen a dramatic increase in the number of new track participants.

To further develop track cycling, we have also announced the formation of a new Track Super Series which will provide team-based racing to track cycling.

The Victorian Interschools Series (VICs) and Victorian School Cycling Championships saw more than 3000 participants in the series in the disciplines of road, mountain bike and BMX. The VICs series has undergone a major expansion in 2016 to include regional competition and all abilities rounds.

Victoria was also pleased to host a number of major races this year including the Oceania Road Championships (Bendigo), Australian Road Championships (Ballarat), Australian Junior Road Championships (Bendigo), Austral Wheelrace (Melbourne), Melbourne Cup on Wheels and ITS Melbourne (Melbourne), Australian Junior Mountain Climb Champs (Bright), Jayco Herald Sun Tour, Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Race (Geelong) and Amy’s Gran Fondo (Lorne)

Marketing and Watching: This year continued to see increases in riding memberships to record levels. However there is still work to be done on racing numbers as they have flat-lined.

Our media reach continues to grow with CV having nearly 40,000 followers on social media across our platforms. Despite this great reach we are now working to strengthen our footprint across traditional media. Additionally, we are currently benchmarking total TV viewership and event spectators with the objective of increasing those watching the sport.

A number of sponsors have joined or continue to partner with Cycling Victoria including Seight Custom Clothing, TAC, Winning Edge, Singapore Airlines, Physiohealth and Crodyon Cycleworks.

People: We have focused on increasing the number of event volunteers, coaches and officials in Victoria with great success over the past 12 months.

Through the provision of online training for officials we have boosted the numbers by 10 per cent. Additionally we are putting in place processes to ease the burden of equipment on officials to ensure consistent delivery of events at all levels.

Our total number of coaches has also increased by 10 per cent, driven largely by new coaches at the introductory levels of the sport.

For the first time we are also measuring the number of event volunteers and will be seeking ways to formalise the support and recognition of this vital resource.

Cycling Victoria thanks the tireless volunteers and the various clubs whose ongoing support drives the sport. We also thank our key partners Cycling Australia, BMX Victoria, the Victorian Institute of Sport, VicHealth and Sport and Recreation Victoria for their continued support.

Over the last 12 months CycleSport WA has become a reinvigorated organisation with extensive planning behind it and is now set to capitalise on the growth in cycling throughout Western Australia.

In the past year CycleSportWA has gone through a phase of reinvigoration, with fresh faces on the board, increased staff levels, significant strategic planning finalised and a renewed focus on giving value back to our members. This year we welcomed Ian Harrison, Rebecca Weadon and David Menarry to the board, each of whom brings unique skills which will see a significant strengthening of the organisation. Special acknowledgement must go to Chris Howard, John Kelly and Shaun Hodges who stepped down from the board. These directors were vital in the establishment of the organisation and navigated CycleSportWA through a significant period of change. The value of their contribution is immeasurable and we thank them for their personal commitment.

If 2014-15 was about financial stability then 2015-16 was all about strategic planning to place the organisation in a position to springboard into the future. Once again we thank our members who have shown considerable understanding over recent years as we set the organisation up for sustainable success. Over the year we have finalised:

- A High Performance Strategic Plan, along with a two-year commitment of a dedicated High Performance Manager within the team
- A State Facilities Strategic review and plan to address the distinct lack of cycling facilities in the State
- A plan to improve relationships between motorists and riders, along with a funding commitment from the State Government to support this.
- A renewed organisation Strategic Plan that will guide CycleSportWA through to 2020.

Our mission is to create a united cycling culture that is successful in the development of safe, supported and inclusive opportunities in recreational and competitive cycling in the state. As we move into a new financial year we are focused more than ever on delivering this objective. The State Government has recently announced a $2.5 million refurbishment of the SpeedDome and we will be holding a State Summer Criterium Series for the first time in many years and we will be looking for opportunities to increase value to our members and affiliated clubs. We have a significant opportunity to grow membership. More than half a million Western Australians ride a bike each week, yet only 2-3 per cent of them are members of a cycling organisation.

Western Australia was represented on the global stage in the 2016 Rio Olympic Games with Lauren Reynolds competing in BMX and Melissa Hoskins and Sam Welsford on the track, with Sam coming home with a Silver medal from the Teams Pursuit. We congratulate Lauren, Melissa and Sam on their achievements.

On a final note I would like to make special mention of one of the most influential people in Western Australia's recent cycling history. Murray Hall has contributed exceptional service to cycling over 20 years and has recently decided to step down from his official commitments in the sport. Not only did Murray win Silver medals at the 1974 Commonwealth Games, he has been a Cycling Australia national selector and sat on the Cycling Australia Track Commission. He also has been an event director, coach, club president and has been the most influential figure in track cycling in the state. On behalf of the cycling community we thank Murray for his contribution to cycling.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership growth is a whole-of-business issue and continues to be a key focus for Cycling Australia with the Board setting a clear and measurable target of 50,000 members by 2020.

An immediate focus was to develop a business intelligence strategy to improve data and reporting capabilities and to ensure that the team is equipped with the right tools to maximise responsiveness to members. Significant work has been done over the past 12 months with technology provider SportsTG to collaborate on tools that provide CA and State Associations with membership information in a more meaningful manner, and reporting that allows better analysis of membership trends.

In 2016 CA also reviewed all its membership collateral and communications to new and existing members, and a new brighter and friendlier 'look and feel' was developed to roll out for the 2017 membership season.

As a sport, we understand that compelling and relevant membership products that appeal to the recreational market are key to CA achieving its mission of inspiring Australian to ride with us. In 2016, activations targeting recreational riders were rolled during the Rio Olympic Games; several corporate offers were developed, and CA joined forces with private promoters to provide protection for participants in their events.

Thanks to the more rigorous reporting available through the new technology platform, membership numbers show only a slight increase on 2015 figures, from 26,724 to 26,778. An additional 5,000 riders availed themselves of CA's day membership in 2016.

In line with the work done in the previous year by the membership working party, CA continues to seek ways to simplify the membership offering and have a consistent national approach where possible. A coordinated approach to membership between the national and state bodies will be crucial to achieving the target of 50,000 members and 2016 laid the foundations for further collaboration in developing products that will appeal to the targeted population of recreational riders.

MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS

The CA media team implemented several new strategies during 2016 to meet the growing appetite for content across its digital channels. With an emphasis on creating a variety of content such as media releases, photo galleries, athlete blogs, rider profiles, exclusive interviews, videos and more, CA has experienced significant growth across all digital channels during the year.

Internationally, this included unique 'behind the scenes' content for all teams including those attending the Rio Olympics, Road and Track World Championships, and World Cups.

At a domestic level, CA managed the media and marketing for all National Championships within Australia, both road and track across all age groups, plus National Series events such as the National Junior Track Series, and provided a comprehensive service to all media outlets.

Since this time, the committee has initiated the recruitment of two additional directors (in October 2015) and reappointed two directors (November 2015) to complement the existing board.

BOARD OPERATION

Since the new board has been in place, from 15 September 2014, the following ASC mandatory requirements have been adopted/progressed:

- An audit and risk committee charter has been completed and approved by the board.
- The conflict of interests register continues to be updated and enforced, noting all directors are independent.
- Eleven directors meetings were held in the financial year ending 30 June 2016. An annual board performance process was introduced in 2016.

COMMISSIONS

AS AT 30 SEPTEMBER 2016

As part of our broader governance review, we undertook a review of the commissions which operate as an important part of Cycling Australia (CA). As a result of that review, there are now five commissions:

- Technical
- Sports
- Coaching
- Women's
- Advocacy.

This saw the existing Road, Track Masters and Para-Cycling Commissions consolidated into a Sports Commission and created the opportunity for shared experiences and learnings. It is consistent with the approach which has been adopted by Cycling NSW. It is not intended to reduce or limit the importance of any specific discipline but to provide a more coherent approach overall. Given the integration of three commissions into one, the membership of the Road, Track, Masters and Para-Cycling Commissions came to an end and on 31 July 2016.

The Membership and Terms of Reference were also updated and are available on the CA Website.

CA was delighted to announce members of the new Commissions and sincerely thank outgoing members for their significant input:

ANTI-DOPING

Cycling Australia's zero tolerance towards doping and commitment to educating our members is an ongoing priority for the organisation.

Testing

CA continues to co-operate and consult with the Australian Sports Anti-Doping Authority (ASADA), the World Anti-Doping Authority (WADA), the Cycling Anti-Doping Foundation (CADF) and the UCI in the fight against doping in cycling.

In 2015-16 one sanction for an anti-doping rule violation was issued to an international rider training in Australia. CA alerted ASADA about the rider in question which resulted in a two year suspension. There are two other infraction cases pending.

It was regrettable that, despite all the education provided, on the eve of the Rio Paralympic Games Michael Gallagher was removed from the Australian cycling team after returning a positive test for EPO. This unfortunate incident was a blow to team morale but their good results were a credit to them. They performed well and represented Australia with honour.

Australia has nearly 80 riders who are in either ASADA's or the UCI's Registered Testing Pool. These riders are required by the respective organisations to strictly maintain their whereabouts details at all times, and failure to do so will result in missed tests or filing failures. Riders at all state, national and international events held in Australia are subject to in-competition testing, as well as out-of-competition testing.

Education

Cycling Australia is committed to the continuing education of its members on anti-doping matters and strongly encourages all members to complete ASADA's online education courses. Meantime, all Australian teams and CA staff members are required to be up to date with ASADA's online education.

In addition to the foregoing, the Olympic and Paralympic teams were required to complete a specific Rio module online education course before the Games.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1: CORPORATE INFORMATION

The financial report is for the entity Cycling Australia Limited as an individual entity. Cycling Australia Limited is a company limited by guarantee, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. Cycling Australia Limited is a not-for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements. The financial report was approved by the directors as at the date of the directors' report.

NOTE 2: SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Basis of Preparation

In the directors' opinion, the company is not a reporting entity because there are no users dependent on general purpose financial reports/ This is a special purpose financial report that has been prepared for the sole purpose of complying with the Corporations Act 2001 requirements to prepare and distribute a financial report to the members and must not be used for any other purpose. The financial report has been prepared in accordance with the recognition and measurement principles of all applicable Australian Accounting Standards and Interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board, and the Corporations Act 2001. It contains the disclosures that are mandatory under the Accounting Standards and those considered necessary by the directors to meet the needs of the members.

The financial report has been prepared on the basis of historical cost. Cost is based on the fair values of the consideration given in exchange for assets. Unless otherwise indicated, all amounts are presented in Australian dollars.

(b) Going Concern

The financial report has been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the continuity of normal business activity and the realisation of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company derived a surplus of $305,622 for the year ended 30 June 2016. As at 30 June 2016 the Company had cash assets of $1,327,130, current assets of $3,424,741 and current liabilities of $5,551,239 and a deficiency of net assets of $2,375,158. The Directors consider the going concern basis to be appropriate based upon operating and cash flow forecasts, and on the existence of secured funding. The forecast also relies on the Company maintaining a reduced cost base. Therefore no adjustments have been made in respect of the recoverability and classification of recorded assets or the carrying amount and classification of liabilities that may be necessary if the Company does not continue as a going concern.

(c) Changes in Accounting Policies, Accounting Standards and Interpretations New/Amended Accounting Standards and Interpretations

(i) Changes in accounting policy and disclosures

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year other than as noted below. In the current year, the Company has adopted all of the new and revised standards and interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (the AASB) that are relevant to their operations and effective for the current annual reporting period. The adoption of these new and revised Standards and Interpretations has not resulted in any significant changes to any of the company's accounting policies.

(ii) Accounting standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective at 30 June 2016

The following standards and interpretations have been issued at the reporting date but are not yet effective.

AASB 9 Financial Instruments

The Standard, applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018, includes revised requirements for the classification and measurement of financial instruments, revised recognition and derecognition requirements for financial instruments and simplified requirements for hedge accounting. The key changes that may affect the company on initial application include certain simplifications to the classification of financial assets and upfront accounting for expected credit loss. Although the directors anticipate that the adoption of AASB 9 may have an impact on the company's financial instruments it is impracticable at this stage to provide a reasonable estimate of such impact.

AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The core principle of AASB 15 is that an entity recognises revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. Accordingly, revenue will be recognised through application of the following five steps:

1. Identify the contracts with the customer;
2. Identify the separate performance obligations;
3. Determine the transaction price;
4. Allocate the transaction price- and;
5. Recognise revenue when a performance obligation is satisfied.

It is anticipated that an adjacent accounting standard addressing Income of Not-for-Profit Entities will be released prior to the end of 2016. That standard may have more direct applicability to the Company. Each of the standards will have effect for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019. The impacts have not yet been assessed.

AASB 16 Leases

AASB 16 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019. The Standard requires lessees to initially recognise a lease liability for the obligation to make lease payments and a right-of-use asset for the right to use the underlying asset for the lease term. The impacts have not yet been assessed.

(iii) Change in accounting policy

During the year the Company changed its policy to account for revenue arising from membership, insurance and licensing fees, and service fees. Previously, these classes of revenue had been recognised when payment was received. The Company now recognises these revenues on an accruals basis, and defers that portion remaining unearned at the reporting date. This change in policy has been applied retrospectively, and the comparative information for 2015 has been restated. In analysing the membership and related data for the purpose of ascertaining the retrospective impact, it has been impracticable to determine with the required level of accuracy the period-specific effects in relation to retained surplus (accumulated deficit) as at 1 July 2014, or the cumulative effect on the financial result for the year-ended 30 June 2015. Accordingly, the impact of the change as at 30 June 2015 has been adopted also as the impact with effect from the beginning of that financial year, being 1 July 2014.

The impact of the change is an increase of $1,073,516 in accumulated deficit as at 1 July 2014, as shown in the table below:

Surplus for the year	305,622	184,524
Accumulated deficit at the beginning of the year, comprising:	(2,680,780)	(2,865,303)
- balance as previously stated	(1,607,264)	(1,791,788)
- effect of the change in accounting policy	(1,073,515)	(1,073,515)
Restated accumulated deficit at the end of the year	(2,375,158)	(2,680,780)

(d) Revenue

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the entity and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is received. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duty.

Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have passed to the buyer and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably. Risks and rewards of ownership are considered passed to the buyer at the time of delivery of the goods to the customer.

Rendering of services

Revenue from the rendering of services is recognised upon the delivery of the service to the customers.

Events revenue

Revenue from organising and hosting events, including corporate partnerships, is recognised in the period in which the events are held.

Sponsorship revenue

Sponsorship revenue is recognised on a straight line basis over the sponsorship contract period, unless the sponsorship is payable on achieving specified milestones, in which case revenue is recognised on the completion of the contracted milestone.

Interest income

Interest revenue is recognised when it becomes receivable on a proportional basis taking in to account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets.

Membership and similar revenue

Membership, insurance and licensing fees, service fees, donations, and other revenue are recognised on an accrual basis as the related services are delivered.

Grants

Government and other funding received or receivable on the condition that specified activities are undertaken are considered reciprocal. Such grants are recognised as deferred income and revenue is recognised as services are performed or conditions fulfilled, being the expenditure incurred relating to the specified grant.

(e) Income tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the company is exempt from income tax.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

(f) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand and at banks, short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less held at call with financial institutions, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

(g) Inventories

Inventories held for sale are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

(h) Financial instruments

Recognition and initial measurement

Financial instruments, incorporating financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs where the instrument is not classified as at fair value through profit and loss.

Transaction costs related to instruments classified as at fair value through profit or loss are expensed immediately.

Classification

The company's financial assets fall into the following categories: loans and receivables, and held-to-maturity investments. The classification depends on the purpose for which the instruments were acquired, at the point of initial recognition.

Held-to-maturity investments

Fixed term investments intended to be held to maturity are classified as held-to-maturity investments. They are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are measured at fair value at inception and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities include trade and other payables, and borrowings.

Non-derivative financial liabilities are recognised at amortised cost, comprising original debt less principal payments and amortisation.

Financial liabilities are classified as current liabilities unless the entity has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

Impairment

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there is objective evidence that a financial instrument has been impaired. Impairment losses are recognised in the financial result as incurred.

Derecognition

Financial assets are derecognised where the contractual rights to receive cash flows have expired or the asset is transferred to another party whereby the entity no longer has any significant continuing involvement in the risks and benefits associated with the asset. Financial liabilities are derecognised where the related obligations are either discharged, cancelled or expire. The difference between the carrying value of the financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the fair value of consideration paid, including the transfer of non cash assets or liabilities assumed is recognised in the financial result.

Fair value estimation

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities must be estimated for recognition and measurement purposes. Unless otherwise disclosed in the notes to the financial statements, the carrying amount of the Company's financial instruments approximates their fair value.

(i) Property, plant and equipment

Bases of measurement of carrying amount

Each class of plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all plant and equipment is depreciated over their estimated useful lives commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

	Depreciation rates	Depreciation basis
Class of fixed asset
Leasehold improvements at cost	10%	Straight line
Plant and equipment at cost	10-33%	Straight line

(j) Intangibles

Event rights

Event rights are initially recognised at cost and then amortised on a straight line basis over their useful life. The balances are reviewed annually and any balance representing future benefits the realisation of which is considered to be no longer probable are written off. Event rights are normally amortised over their estimated useful life of 4 years.

Website costs

Website costs are recognised at cost. They are amortised over their estimated useful lives of 4 years. Website costs are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any impairment losses.

(k) Impairment of non-financial assets

Intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are therefore tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired.

An impairment loss is recognised where the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset is defined as the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and value in use.

The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows which will be received from the assets employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have been discounted to present values in determining recoverable amounts.

(l) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. The amount recognised as a provision is a best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at reporting date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligations, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows.

(m) Leases

Leases are classified at their inception as either operating or finance leases based on the economic substance of the agreement so as to reflect the risks and benefits incidental to ownership.

Operating leases

Lease payments for operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Lease incentives received under operating leases are recognised as a liability and amortised on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease term.

(n) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term employee benefit obligations

Liabilities arising in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and any other employee benefits expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are measured at their nominal amounts based on remuneration rates which are expected to be paid when the liability is settled. The expected cost of short-term employee benefits in the form of compensated absences such as annual leave is recognised in the provision for employee benefits. All other short-term employee benefit obligations are presented as payables.

(ii) Long-term employee benefit obligations

Liabilities arising in respect of long service leave and annual leave which is not expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflow to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date. Employee benefit obligations are presented as current liabilities if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting date, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(o) Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and purchased assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Tax Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST. Cash flows are presented in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis, except for the GST component of investing and financing activities, which are disclosed as operating cash flows.

(p) Comparatives

Where necessary, comparative information has been reclassified and repositioned for consistency with current year disclosures.

NOTE 3: SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES AND JUDGEMENTS

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, management is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF CYCLING AUSTRALIA

REPORT ON THE FINANCIAL REPORT

We have audited the accompanying financial report of Cycling Australia (the company), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2016, the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the directors' declaration.

DIRECTORS' RESPONSIBILITY FOR THE FINANCIAL REPORT

The directors of the company are responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the accounting policies described in Note 2 of the financial report and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

AUDITOR'S RESPONSIBILITY

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial report based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Those standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the company's preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

INDEPENDENCE

In conducting our audit, we have met the independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001. We have given to the directors of the company a written Auditor's Independence Declaration, a copy of which is referenced in the directors' report.

AUDITOR'S OPINION

In our opinion, the financial report of Cycling Australia is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- (a) giving a true and fair view of the company's financial position as at 30 June 2016 and of its performance for the year ended on that date; and
- (b) complying with Australian Accounting Standards to the extent described in Note 2, and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

EMPHASIS OF MATTER REGARDING UNCERTAINTY OF CONTINUATION AS A GOING CONCERN

Without modification to our opinion, we draw attention to Note 2(b) in the financial report, which comments on the company's continuation as a going concern, indicating the existence of a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt about the company's ability to continue as a going concern and therefore, whether it will realise its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business and at the amounts stated in the financial report.

BASIS OF PREPARATION

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to Note 2 to the financial report, which describes the basis of preparation, including significant accounting policies. The financial report has been prepared for the purpose of fulfilling the directors' financial reporting responsibilities under the Corporations Act 2001. As a result, the financial report may not be suitable for another purpose.
