MESSAGE FROM THE # AUSTRALIAN SPORTS COMMISSION

The Australian Sports Commission (ASC) thanks all of our partner national sporting organisations (NSOs) for your continued hard work and commitment to excellence. All of you understand innately the importance of sport in Australian life. It's much more than a source of national identity and pride, it's the fabric that binds us together - a common language for all, with multiplier benefits in health, education, social cohesion and the economy.

There were many great sporting events to celebrate during the course of last year – the launch of both the AFL Women's competition and the National Netball League with prime-time TV coverage, our most successful winter sports season ever on the world stage, and fairytale victories against the odds for Cronulla in the NRL and the Western Bulldogs in the AFL.

Last year's Olympic and Paralympic Games underscored the challenge however for Australia in retaining its status as one of the world's pre-eminent sporting nations, given rising competition from developed and developing nations alike. We must keep innovating, being bold and willing to change both on and off the field if we are to succeed, not just in Olympic and Paralympic sports but across the sporting spectrum.

We appreciate the willingness of NSOs to embrace this challenge. We commend athletes for their dedicated commitment to training ahead of the PyeongChang 2018 Winter Olympic and Paralympic Games, the Gold Coast 2018 Commonwealth Games and, further ahead, the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

One of the most important long-term challenges for our country is to help our children be physically active, to participate in sport and enjoy its lifelong benefits.

The ASC's Sporting Schools program has now reached more than 5,600 primary schools around Australia and has already begun a targeted program for high schools. It is vital to ensure physical education is re-emphasised in the national school curriculum. To this end, the ASC has been doing ground-breaking work on physical literacy for children and youth and we look forward to rolling this out nationally in the year ahead.

As the national leadership organisation for sport in Australia, the ASC was delighted when our new Minister for Sport the Hon. Greg Hunt recently proposed a National Sports Plan, the preparation of which will be led by the ASC. This will create, for the first time, a comprehensive blueprint for Australian sport. It's an outstanding initiative and we thank the Minister for his leadership and vision. We hope all NSOs take the opportunity to contribute their views to the plan.

Most of you will know that this year the ASC welcomed a new CEO Kate Palmer, a talented sports leader, who has quickly built excellent relationships with sports and is embracing the challenges ahead with an inspiring enthusiasm.

Finally, I say a big thank you to the army of volunteers – parents, coaches, officials and administrators - who contribute their time and services for the good of Australian sport. You bring community strength, passion and great value to the identity, productivity, cohesion and health of our nation.

The ASC wishes you every success in the year ahead. We look forward to working closely with you for the common good of Australian sport.

STRATEGIC OVERVIEW

Cycling holds an advantaged position within the Australian sporting and recreational landscape.

More than three million Australians ride a bike, with more than two million riding every month. Cycling is a sport, and a lifestyle, on the move.

As the national body responsible for the sport of cycling in this country, Cycling Australia is recognised by the International Cycling Union (UCI), the Australian Government, the Australian Olympic Committee, Commonwealth Games Australia and the Australian Paralympic Committee. Our vision is to be the world's leading cycling nation while affirming our leadership of cycling in Australia.

While the challenges should not be underestimated, nor should the opportunities.

Our strategic focus will be to improve our global competitiveness, diversify our revenue streams and build a solid base for future investment. It will target growth of our membership base with a particular focus on servicing our racing members while at the same time expanding our recreational membership base.

We will also focus sharply on women and our youth, a strategy that supports our performance, engagement and participation initiatives.

Our athletes, past and present, are central to our organisation and play an extremely important role in showcasing our sport globally and at home. From BMX to track, dirt to road, their performances delight and inspire the many millions who ride a bike.

The growth of cycling is a shared responsibility and Cycling Australia aims to unify the important industry and sporting partners, collaborate with member states and clubs and protect, promote and uphold the values of cycling while looking to strengthen cycling's voice on important advocacy matters.

Our aim is to represent every cyclist – young or old, weekend riders or household names, commuters or racers.

ONE SPORT

ROAD RACING

includes criteriums, one-day races, stage races and time trials (both individual and team). The one-day road race and individual time trial are Olympic events.

TRACK CYCLING

takes place in a velodrome with races including sprint events (team sprint, individual time trial, keirin), endurance events (individual and team pursuit, points race, scratch race, madison and omnium), carnival events (elimination, handicaps and many others). The sprint (individual and team), keirin, team pursuit, omnium and madison are Olympic events.

BMX

is a spectacular sport that takes place on a 350-400m track. The riders begin from a start ramp that launches them at considerable speed as they ride through bumps, berms and flat sections. BMX Freestyle is a discipline where riders are judged on their style and the difficulty of their program. BMX Supercross and Freestyle are both featured in the Olympic Games.

MOUNTAIN BIKE RACING

includes endurance (cross country Olympic, cross-country marathon, eliminator and team relay), downhill (downhill and four cross) and trials. Cross-country events are held on hilly, technical circuits. Downhill racing involves fast and extremely technical courses. Four-cross is an event that sees riders race head to head on a short downhill course. Trials see riders navigate obstacles with riders judged on their ability to negotiate these. Cross Country is an Olympic event.

PARA-CYCLING

is practised by athletes with a disability. It includes road (road racing, individual time trial and team relay) and track events (sprint, time trial, individual pursuit and scratch race). Para-cyclists compete as either (C) conventional bikes with minor adaptations, (H) hand cycles, (T) tandems or tricycles. Each rider is classified according to their impairment. Para-cycling road and track both feature in the Paralympic Games.

CYCLO-CROSS

racers are conducted on circuits of around three kilometres on a variety of surfaces. The courses usually have climbs and obstacles to navigate throughout the event.

CHAIR'S REPORT

Holly Harris in action during the Under 23 Cross Country at the UCI World Championships in Cairns in September.

I am delighted to be presenting my first report as the chair of Cycling Australia (CA), a position I took up in February this year.

My first task is to thank outgoing president Malcom Speed AO, whose role in consolidating the sport's financial position, to the point where we are back in profit, has provided me with a solid base from which to take up the office of chair.

The important task now is for us to stabilise our position into the future and ensure we have a long-term, sustainable financial position, and this is something I will seek to achieve along with our board and executive.

We always want to do better, and that relies on making sure the organisation is effective, that it is running well and that it has a clear strategic direction for the sport across the nation as much as we can.

When I took on the role of chair I talked about how grateful I was to be able to combine my skills with a sport that I love. I was also clear about using those skills to bring about a unified position for the sport, with a clear direction and way forward.

Cycling has enormous potential to collaborate and unite across many platforms, including governance, financial, insurance, commercial and participation, and for many staff, HR and operational efficiencies.

CA is now leading a "One Cycling" model of co-operation with our states/territories (member states), and this has resulted in a new Service Level Agreement (SLA) having just recently been signed.

My desire now is to lead the unification of the sport, incorporating BMXA and MTBA nationally. If we can get unity across the peak sporting bodies in the future, and have a clear, unequivocal strategic direction on which everyone signs off, that would be a great achievement. I have articulated this vision for a unified position to the ASC chair, John Wylie.

The ASC continues to provide great assistance to our sport, and this has been particularly evident over recent months in the tremendous support offered to our new High Performance director, Simon Jones, as he undertook the process of developing a new High Performance Strategy for Cycling Australia.

The new HP strategy was launched in October and was the result of extensive reviews, debriefs, workshops and consultation with athletes, partners and stakeholders.

We are mindful that the new strategy has impacted people who have been part of our High Performance network over many years and I thank them for the terrific service they have given our organisation. I am excited to be part of this new vision for high performance cycling that stakes our claim for future success as we look to the 2018 Commonwealth Games on the Gold Coast and the 2020 Tokyo Olympics.

Alongside the recent focus on delivering the new HP strategy, CA continues to grow its participation programs Let's Ride and She Rides, and to develop our membership strategy, building on the work of the Gemba and Repucom research projects that we conducted in conjunction with the ASC some time back. We continue to focus on lifting the quality of our membership "show bag" and to improve the value proposition for CA membership.

After delivering an outstanding UCI Mountain Bike World Championships this year, CA has been open in declaring our interest in hosting other UCI events, in particular another Road World Championships.

I have some previous experience in this area having chaired the 2010 Road World Championships in Geelong, the first time the championships had been run outside Europe at that stage. It was this event that exposed me to cycling internationally and domestically and I really believe that it was a fantastic event for our country. I was also fortunate to be in Bergen, Norway, for this year's Road World Championships and it was a magnificent spectacle.

Coming off a disappointing Olympic Games in 2016, it was wonderful to see our athletes performing so well on the international stage in 2017. Four podium finishes at the UCI Road World Championships, three at the UCI Mountain Bike World Championships, 11 at the Track World Championships, 14 at the Para Track Worlds and eight at the Para Road World Championships is a superb result for our sport and I congratulate all the athletes who represented the Australian Cycling Team in 2017.

While on the international scene I would like to acknowledge the tireless work of Tracey Gaudry, who until recently held the role of UCI vice-president and whose influence across a broad range of areas has been of great value to CA. Tracey continues to hold the position of president of Oceania Cycling Confederation and we look forward to continuing a productive relationship with her in that role. We were also delighted to see CA board member Leeanne Grantham elected to the Executive Board of the Oceania Cycling Confederation this year.

I would also like to acknowledge Bradley McGee, who was inducted into the prestigious Sport Australia Hall of Fame, a great honour. We are lucky to have Brad working in our organisation as technical director – road where he will provide terrific support to our road athletes.

I thank my fellow directors for the hard work and enthusiasm they bring to their roles. At the time of my own appointment as chair in February, Cycling Australia appointed two new directors – Steven Drake and Duncan Murray – both of whom have brought invaluable cycling experience and knowledge to the board.

Can I also thank outgoing directors Justin Quill and Kevin Russell (November 2016) and Matt Deever (September 2017) for their contributions to Cycling Australia.

My thanks go to CEO Nicholas Green OAM who has provided leadership and direction to the executive team and CA staff. There have been some significant steps forward since Nick took the helm, and I know he is highly motivated to drive us on to even more success.

Finally, many thanks to all the member state presidents for their commitment and the time they dedicate to our sport.

In some of the interviews I gave when starting in this role, I said that I wasn't on the bike as much as I would like – the common lament of a passionate cyclist. My time on the bike hasn't necessarily increased since commencing at CA, but I have greatly enjoyed the past 10 months working in this sport with so many others who are passionate about it, and I am genuinely excited about the future.

CEO'S MESSAGE

I'm delighted to present my CEO's annual report for Cycling Australia (CA) in 2017.

The progress that CA has made over the past 12 months continues to place the organisation in a stronger position to service and grow our industry.

The inclusion of former Victorian State Premier, The Hon Steve Bracks AC, to the position of chair of Cycling Australia in February is an enormous boost to our organisation. In particular Steve is an avid recreational cyclist and brings a powerful network of people and the skills to garner support to achieve our vision.

We were also pleased to welcome 1994 Commonwealth Games cyclist Steven Drake who bolsters the elite cycling knowledge on our board, as well as founding chairman of the Amy Gillett Foundation, Duncan Murray, who holds the position of deputy chair with a keen awareness of advocacy.

Last year we launched our 2020 Strategic Vision, a road map for success and focus for the next four years. This year, the board and executive team met to refresh our objectives and assess our progress against strategic objectives. The 2017 annual report will detail our progress to date.

High Performance

Following our evaluation of the 2016 Rio Olympic and Paralympic Games, we conducted a global search to recruit a new High Performance director to create and implement a strategy for the 2020 Tokyo Olympic and Paralympic Games and beyond. Simon Jones was identified and successfully recruited in April this year. He brings a tremendous amount of experience and knowledge into the organisation with more than two decades of consistent success at the highest level.

Since starting with CA, and following extensive stakeholder consultation, Simon recently announced a new High Performance strategy aimed at Australia regaining its position as the world's leading cycling nation. The plan is anchored by Australia's High Performance objectives, and ambitiously but tactically targets four to six Olympic gold and four to five Paralympic gold in 2020, in addition to eight Commonwealth gold medals in 2018.

Our strategy is ambitious but evidence-based, and has been developed with a principle of putting athletes at the centre. The new framework will result in maximising resource allocation to athletes, and will allow CA to invest appropriately in science and innovation to develop knowledge that will help Australian cycling to be a leader in planning, practice and implementation.

Our success throughout 2017 in Para-cycling, Track, Road and BMX bodes well for a focused and revitalised High Performance strategy for 2020. We now look forward to the Gold Coast 2018 Commonwealth Games and thank Commonwealth Games Australia for their support and assistance in our preparations.

Member state collaboration

Collaboration with our member states has been a focus to ensure a more aligned vision for our sport. I am pleased to report that CA and our member states recently signed a co-operation agreement signalling our focus, strategically and operationally, to ensure a more efficient and aligned cycling service to our sport and our members.

Major events

This year CA hosted the 28th edition of the UCI Mountain Bike World Championships in Cairns and the event was hailed by UCI officials as one of the best they have ever attended. The 2017 World Championships was the culmination of three years' work, building on our hosting of the 2014 and 2016 MTB World Cups, and the bar was well and truly lifted this year. Having three Australian Cycling Team podium finishes (Cam Wright, Junior XCO champion; Mick Hannah, Men's Elite DHI silver; Tracey Hannah, Women's Elite DHI, bronze) made a brilliant event even more special.

CA was delighted to have the support of the Queensland Government through Tourism and Events Queensland, the Department of National Parks, Sport and Racing, and in partnership with Cairns Regional Council, James Cook University and Tourism Tropical North Queensland, and the main sponsors, Let's Go Motorhomes and RockShox in delivering the event. Our special thanks are extended to the team at CA, led by event director Mark Liddle, in delivering an outstanding event for our country.

The CA board has a vision of continuing to support major UCI-sanctioned events and recently I have been open in declaring our interest in hosting another UCI Road World Championships from 2021, as well as other international events that continue to profile our sport and get more people riding, racing and watching.

This was evident back in 2010 when Geelong hosted the championships and more recently with the growing success of the Tour Down Under, Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Race and Herald Sun Tour. These events continue to be outstanding for Australian cycling and I can't wait for our 2018 season to kick off in January.

CEO'S MESSAGE

Sport and Participation

Our Road National Championships (Road Nats) continue to draw strong audiences to see the awarding of the coveted green and gold jersey to the winning athletes. We were delighted that the championships' significance was recognised with a new host city partnership with the Victorian Government and the City of Ballarat to secure the event for Ballarat until 2020. The increased investment from this partnership, and our desire to unify championship events, will see the Road Nats grow and evolve to include the staging of U19, Para-cycling and club categories from 2018. The signing of Federation University as a new three-year naming rights partnership for the Road Nats provides the championship with an extremely solid base to continue its growth.

It was a pleasure to host the 2017 Track National Championships at the new Anna Meares Velodrome. The athletes, coaches, officials and spectators loved the new facility in Queensland. The velodrome is magnificent and we are confident it will host an outstanding Gold Coast 2018 Commonwealth Games track cycling event and other major domestic and international tracks events into the future. This velodrome provides a wonderful opportunity for our sport to have such an outstanding facility with which to develop our young and emerging athletes.

I also praise a number of our member states and cycling clubs which have successfully negotiated increased investment into cycling facilities for club and state activities during the year.

We also saw the hosting of 10 National Championships in road, track and cyclo-cross with more than 2500 participating. We thank our member states for their support in delivering these events which are critical to our membership. Additionally, our position on the international calendar continues to grow with 49 UCI-sanctioned events held in Australia this year.

The Subaru National Road Series saw 40-plus teams contest 11 rounds across Australia. The series received incredible coverage on Fox Sport and Channel 9 through the Full Cycle show. While there were some unfortunate event cancellations, the series has been redeveloped for 2017 with significant changes and improvements to be realised. Our National Junior Track Series (NJTS) continues to strengthen and develop a new generation of top Australian cyclists.

We decided it was timely to take a proactive leadership position and became one of the first nations to introduce disc brakes across all road events. Additionally, the introduction of the use of "on-bike" cameras has helped introduce more people to the excitement of bike racing through the bird's eye view of racing at all levels.

Our dedicated participation programs, including She Rides and our school education program, Let's Ride, have experienced a number of milestones this year. This includes CA welcoming the 10,000th participant in the Let's Ride program and She Rides achieving a national footprint with programs available in each state and territory.

Financial

Our financial and governance reforms have made strong progress over the past 12 months. The net surplus for the year ended 30 June 2017 is modest at $30K. This is masked by a number of expenses incurred this year that relate to a combination of historic decisions and previous cash accounting methodology. If we adjust for these items the underlying surplus is $158K, CA's third annual surplus since I commenced my role in late 2014.

Pleasingly, this reflects all the hard work dedicated to improving our financial and commercial practices and acquisitions and in positioning the business for ongoing growth. Our financial focus for the year included the implementation of a new accounting system, Xero, to support improved reporting and administration, a positive loan restructure with the Australian Sports Commission and member states to align with our current trading expectations, our heightened and ongoing focus on financial risk management to minimise financial shocks as noted in the past and a focus on securing a number of new and extending commercial agreements.

Our professional and astute skills-based Audit and Risk Committee has provided strong direction and leadership on our financial governance and my thanks go to the members, in particular Matt Dever as the departing committee chair.

Commercial

During the year I took over the direct leadership of our commercial and acquisition strategy, resulting in CA welcoming a number of new sponsors during 2017. All of our valuable sponsors and partners are listed in the annual report. However, I wanted to specially welcome our new partners Flight Centre - official travel partner, Science in Sport (SiS) - partner of the Australian Cycling Team, Shine Lawyers - official compensation lawyers for CA members, Federation University - naming rights partner for Road Nats, Juilliard Group - provider of office space for our head office in Melbourne, and the most recent appointment in JLT as CA's new insurance broker to support our insurance needs.

While I note the commercial market remains challenging, I am pleased we have stabilised the business, bedded in our new management team and are now entering our build and growth phase.

International relations

CA enjoys an excellent relationship with the UCI. We have thanked outgoing president Brian Cookson for his contribution over the past four years and welcomed the new UCI president, David Lappartient. Australia enjoys a strong position within the UCI and was represented on its Management Committee by Tracey Gaudry as the UCI vice-president. While Tracey will not retain her position following the 2017 UCI Congress in Bergen, she has an important position on the UCI Management Committee and will continue to represent our region with great distinction.

Vale

We were greatly saddened by the deaths of several members of the cycling family over the past 12 months. CA life member James "Jim" Nevin OAM represented Australia at the 1952 Helsinki and 1956 Melbourne Olympic Games in the road race and team pursuit. Jim passed away in Tasmania earlier this year at the age of 86.

We pay our respects to one of our leading lights, Gary West, who succumbed to MND. Gary was not just an athlete and coach who enjoyed so much success on the international stage, but also a great bloke who was widely loved. He will be missed by so many in our fraternity. Supported by Gary's wife, Debbie, the annual coach of the year award will now be known as the Gary West Coach of the Year in honouring Gary and his enormous contribution to our sport.

Tragically, we also lost two former members of the Australian Cycling Team this year - Olympic gold medallist (Athens 2004) Steve Wooldridge and former Commonwealth Games gold medallist Brett Dennis. We are extremely saddened when a cyclist's life is tragically cut short and we pay our respects to all those who passed in 2017 and our thoughts are with their respective families and friends.

Conclusion

Success in cycling is a team effort in so many ways. That is why CA has established an extremely close working relationship with the Australian Sports Commission and the cycling industry and its supporters. Our team at CA has worked with great spirit throughout the year to progress our objectives against our vision to be the world's leading cycling nation through performance, participation and advocacy. Their commitment and expertise will see CA continue to build an organisation that provides valuable benefits to our members and the sport. I also thank the departing staff members who have each made an enormous contribution to cycling.

I would like to thank CA chair, the Hon Steve Bracks AC, along with the directors and the various committee members for their leadership and hard work over the past 12 months.

While there is still an enormous amount of work to be done, I am proud of our achievements in 2017 and excited by the foundations we have laid for the future.

HIGH PERFORMANCE

High Performance can only thrive when we have people with a shared passion, commitment and aspiration to seeing Australia become the world's leading cycling nation. Our people are working to ensure our athletes are supported by the best coaches and performance staff. Our athlete pathways are underpinned by valued partnerships with the state institutes of ACTAS, CQ/QAS, NSWIS, SAIS, TIS, VIS and WAIS which make up our High Performance Network (HPN).

Following cycling's performances at the 2016 Rio Olympic and Paralympic Games. CA received advice in November 2016 from the Australian Sports Commission (ASC) of a financial reduction to our 2016/17 AIS High Performance grant backdated to 1 July. This was equivalent to 5% for Able and 1.1% for Para. In addition, CA's long-standing sponsorship with Jayco concluded at the end of 2016. This had a significant impact on finance and therefore operations. However, the Ryan family reinvested significantly into a partnership agreement with CA to deliver European-based road teams, Mitchelton-SCOTT UCI Continental Men's U23 and Orica-SCOTT UCI Women's World Tour teams, providing opportunity for Australian athletes. We would like to take this opportunity to thank Gerry Ryan and his family for their outstanding support over many years.

For 2017/18 CA is recognised by the AIS as a Foundation 2 Sport for Able and Foundation 1 for Para and funded accordingly by the ASC under the Australian Winning Edge (AWE) strategy. This significant Australian Government investment is dependent on meeting agreed performance targets at Olympic and Paralympic Games, Commonwealth Games and UCI Elite World Championships.

For the six months between October 2016 and March 2017, Paul Brosnan acted as the national performance director while CA undertook a comprehensive international search to replace the position vacated by Kevin Tabotta. The preferred candidate, Simon Jones (UK), officially commenced as high performance director on 3 April 2017, hitting the ground running with a clear vision for CA and unashamedly ambitious Olympic and Paralympic goals for Tokyo 2020.

Despite being another successful year on the international stage for our athletes, 2017 has been one of transition and change. With the departure and transition of several long-serving employees, and the incoming and ongoing recruitment of new performance staff to align with CA's Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic performance strategy, the past 12 months has seen a period of significant reshaping. This has led to a new look and feel and there is a real sense of momentum and excitement building within CA High Performance, particularly with the Commonwealth Games on the Gold Coast in April 2018.

Performance Highlights

Our athletes are at the centre of the organisation, and the performances by our men and women across all disciplines of cycling, able and para, on the world stage throughout 2017 have been exceptional.

The Australian Para-cycling team spearheaded the 2017 international season with an exceptional performance at the Para-cycling Track World Championships in Los Angeles in March, claiming 14 medals (4 gold).

The Australian Track Cycling team then went on to top the nations medal table at the 2017 Elite Track World Championships in Hong Kong with 11 medals (3 gold), and most importantly with some new and youthful talent.

Mid-year, Australian cyclists were continuing to shine on the world stage. At the Tour de France Michael Matthews claimed the coveted green points jersey in Paris. Caroline Buchanan missed gold by the narrowest of margins and had to settle for silver at the Elite BMX World Championships in Rock Hill USA, and Para-cyclists delivered another eight medals (2 gold) at the Para-cycling Road World Championships in South Africa.

The season was bookended with an overall terrific team performance at the 2017 World Road Cycling Championships in Bergen, Norway, seeing Katrin Garfoot claiming a stunning double medal performance – bronze in the Elite Women’s Time Trial and silver in the Road Race. Rohan Dennis was on track in the Elite Men’s Time Trial for a podium performance when he fell in the wet, while Michael Matthews lived up to pre-race expectations to deliver bronze in the Road Race.

Facilities

The CA HP headquarters and administrative hub is based at the Adelaide Super-Drome, with a lease agreement in place with the Office for Recreation and Sport (ORS) South Australia through until 2020.

Adelaide is the primary Daily Training Environment (DTE) for Track Sprint and Endurance Programs. BMX is located at the AIS Pizzey Park on the Gold Coast, Queensland. The AIS European Training Centre (ETC) in Gavirate, Italy, is our international cycling headquarters, providing a High Performance centre of excellence for our U23 National Men's Road Team/Mitchelton-SCOTT Continental and Orica-SCOTT Women's Road World Tour teams, which CA operates in partnership with GreenEDGE (GE) along with the ongoing terrific support of the AIS.

Staffing

CA High Performance has undergone a major restructure under a new strategic direction for the Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Games. Subsequently there have been a number of long-term employees moving on for various reasons. It is appropriate that a special mention must go to Lyriane Beuzeville, Tom Skulander, Gary Sutton, James Victor and Martin Barras who have each been professionally involved with CA for well over a decade, and we must thank these individuals for their sizable contribution and influence on the growth and success of Australian cycling during their tenure. (Refer to the complete list of CA HP staff on pages 126-127).

Acknowledgements

Gary West was diagnosed with motor neuron disease (MND) on 5 September 2016, and from that moment worked defiantly to raise funds and awareness of MND, cruelly losing his battle to the disease on 20 August 2017 at the age of 57. He was a humble and strong man of integrity whose influence on Australian cycling has been enormous and is well documented, both as an athlete and professional coach. Sadly, CA also lost two other gentlemen and former AIS track and road cycling scholarship holders, Stephen Wooldridge OAM and Brett Dennis in August and September.

CA's High Performance Network (CA HPN) of key stakeholders and major partners, which provides significant human resources, equipment and financial support, ensures our ongoing competitiveness on the world stage.

CA High Performance would like to acknowledge and sincerely thank the Ryan family, Rochelle Gilmore, NIN (AIS and SIS/SAS), CGA, AOC, APC and the ASC. We also very much appreciate the ongoing support from our partners Santini, Bike Technologies (BT), Subaru, Science in Sport (SiS), Vittoria, Scott, Shimano, Bont, Kask, Singapore Airlines, Premax, Training Peaks, Elite Bottles, No Pinz, KWM, Stage & Screen, Monash University, Edith Cowan University, Adelaide University and the Amy Gillett Foundation.

The CA HPN has an exciting and challenging time ahead as we continue to evolve and progress with implementation of a new Tokyo 2020 Olympic and Paralympic Performance Strategy. With the close support of and in collaboration with our HPN, we look forward to the 2018 Gold Coast Commonwealth Games and beyond with great optimism and excitement as we test and refine our systems and operations, ambitiously striving to learn faster than the opposition and target to win on the world's biggest stage.

PARA-CYCLING

HIGH PERFORMANCE PROGRAM

Para-cycling is an integral part of Cycling Australia's High Performance program. We work co-operatively with the Australian Paralympic Committee and our priority is to medal at the Paralympics and World Championships.

In commencing this report, I feel it is important to recognise several athlete retirements, notably Paralympic and World Champions Sue Powell and Kieran Modra and World Champions Alex Lisney and Matt Formston who significantly contributed to the great successes of the program in 2010-2016. Also it would be really remiss not to recognise the contribution of long-time team manager Murray Lydeamore and assistant national coach Tom Skulander who have retired. We extend a big thank you for your overall contribution.

With 2017 being the first year of the Paralympic quadrennial, it was the ideal time to fully review our program and rebuild towards Tokyo 2020.

Performance Highlights

Los Angeles - Track World Championships

While we were aware there was a strong possibility of the championships being awarded by the UCI, we only received official notification seven weeks out from the event. Cycling Australia planned and was always fully committed to supporting a team to these championships but the short lead time did hamper athlete performance programming.

Selectors nominated a mix of proven athletes who were expected to perform and – with several retirements after Rio – looked to the future with selections of several developing athletes who required international classification and would greatly benefit from the experience and performance measuring on the international stage.

Athletes prepared in their home environment under the supervision of their respective SIS/SAS or nominated coaches and all presented medically fit, well and injury free. All aspects of travel and logistics went to plan and were made easier with the championships being conducted immediately after the Track World Cup, enabling our Para program to utilise High Performance key support staff and equipment.

Australia finished third on the medal tally with 14 medals including double gold for Amanda Reid C2 500 Time Trial and 3 K Individual Pursuit. Simone Kennedy and David Nicholas also won gold in their respective C3 3K Individual Pursuits.

Road World Cups

The Australian Para-cycling team also competed in two Road World Cups, Maniago Italy and Oostende Belgium. As the venue for the 2018 World Road Championships, Maniago was of special importance as it allowed the opportunity for athletes and staff to fully scope the course and consider best logistics to appropriately support our 2018 team.

On the open and generally flat course, Meg Lemon C4 and Kyle Bridgwood C4 won gold in the Individual Time Trial and Hannah Macdougall won gold in the C4 Road Race.

In Oostende, Meg Lemon C4 won double gold in the Time Trial and Road Race and Carol Cook T2 won gold in the Time Trial and David Nicholas C3 gold in the Road Race.

Pietermaritzburg - World Road Championships

We journeyed to South Africa for this year's Road World Championships and from an earlier trip we had knowledge of the challenging travel logistics and the lack of road training facilities (dangerous road and traffic conditions) in and around Pietermaritzburg, so planning was to arrive with the minimum time for time zone change adaptation for the athletes.

Carol Cooke T2 was the outstanding performer of our team winning gold in both the Time Trial and Road Race. Carol was really pushed and demonstrated her steely determination in the Time Trial with a winning margin of only seven seconds to her USA main challenger before a convincing win in the Road Race.

It was a fantastic debut for Darren Hicks C2 who won silver by very close margins in his two events. Darren's performances were very promising and should see him pushing for future representation and vying for Paralympic selection in 2020.

Kyle Bridgwood C4 continued to demonstrate his international competitiveness with silver in both his events and Meg Lemon C4 winning bronze in both of her events.

With the Tokyo qualification period commencing January 2018, these championships and several individual performances have allowed coaching and support staff the opportunity to consider individual and program strategies regarding specific event targeting for the Track and Road World Championships, as well as the logistical difficulties of attending them and the Road World Cups in Europe and Canada throughout 2018.

Acknowledgements

I would like to recognise the support of SIS/SAS, their coaches and all individual coaches who support Para-cyclists as the program strives to deliver AIS/ASC winning edge targets. We also thank the High Performance management team and all staff who assist with the operations of the Para-cycling program.

Sincere thanks are extended to the various member states, their commissaires and volunteers for conducting events for Para-cyclists. Without your continued commitment there would be little to no competition opportunities for Para-cyclists.

Staffing

Following the retirement of Murray Lydeamore and Tom Skulander, the program was really pleased to have Rik Fulcher appointed as team manager and welcome Cameron Jennings as assistant national coach.

SPORT

THE 2016-2017 YEAR WAS A BANNER PERIOD FOR RACING IN AUSTRALIA WHICH INCLUDED:

16 UCI ROAD EVENTS

6 UCI TRACK EVENTS

2 WORLD GRAN FONDO QUALIFIERS

18 UCI MOUNTAIN BIKE EVENTS

6 UCI BMX EVENTS

1 UCI WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP (MTB)

1 CYCLO-CROSS UCI EVENT

This incredible calendar of events was highlighted by the UCI Mountain Bike World Championships in Cairns which were heralded as the “best ever” championships. The off-road scene continued to have breakthroughs this year with the first ever UCI Cyclo-cross event hosted at Essendon Fields.

On the road, Australia continues to be the epicentre of the sport in January with the Tour Down Under, the Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Race and the Herald Sun Tour. It is with great excitement that 2018 will see the increased classification of the Women’s Cadel Evans Great Ocean Road Race to a 1.1 event and Women’s Tour Down Under to a 2.1 event.

The national championships calendar continues to be world-class with 10 events hosting more than 2000 participants. The championships were highlighted by the elite championships in Ballarat (road) and Brisbane (track). Ballarat once again turned on a show for the Road National Championships with more than 25,000 spectators and participants, while the new Anna Meares Velodrome in Brisbane welcomed Australia’s finest track riders which provided four days of heart-pounding excitement.

With this increased enthusiasm for our championships, Cycling Australia (CA) was pleased to expand the national calendar in 2018 to include more club-based national programs.

Despite a few event losses in the Subaru National Road Series (NRS), we saw incredible competition over 10 events, spanning 30 days of racing with more than 40 teams taking part in the series. A new strategy for the series will see a clear direction and dates within which the series can flourish. We will continue to focus on the development pathway, supporting event organisers and teams to boost their contribution to the series.

The development of teams in Australia continues to grow with four UCI Continental, one Women’s UCI and one World Tour team. We are working closely with our teams to help them develop as international competitors.

All of this great work would be impossible without our amazing people including volunteers, officials, staff, sponsors, governments and the fans. We thank you all for making the sport so vibrant and exciting.

Coaching

In 2016-2017 we saw the roll out of the CA education framework which has been embraced at all levels of participation in the sport and we have continued to see increases in course registrations and accreditations.

The expansion of the Skills Instructor (Recreational) pathway has been welcomed by all of our partners and provides a key opportunity for the sport to grow.

For the first time in three years CA delivered a Level 2 Coaching Course which saw the next generation of Australian coaches convening in Adelaide to learn from some of the world's best in their specific areas of expertise.

Officials

Supported by a vibrant and active Technical Commission, the development of our officials has increased dramatically over the past year.

CA undertook more than 300 appointments across UCI and National Championship events this year.

A key initiative was the update of the technical regulations resulting in their simplification and modernisation. New inclusions such as allowing disc brakes and on-bike cameras were welcomed widely by the cycling community.

Education has been a key focus this year with the redevelopment of the Level 1 and 2 courses.

Additionally, CA has been working with GOLDOC to deliver a National Elite UCI Commissaire Course for both road and track which will provide significant development opportunities for our officials.

PARTICIPATION

She Rides

For the first time in its four-year existence She Rides has a presence in every state and territory. The missing piece of the puzzle was completed with the addition of two programs in Tasmania in the latter half of 2017. We were also pleased to collaborate with CamelBak as our new hydration partner.

Our focus in 2017 has been to diversify activities with the intention of continuing to engage riders after they conclude their She Rides programs. Expansion of the core program has been focused on regional areas with eight new locations offering courses through the year which drove overall participation to 647.

She Rides' newest program "She Rides On" is currently piloting with a focus on women-only social riding opportunities. This new program empowers She Rides leaders with the flexibility to create a program that utilises the best of their local riding infrastructure and culture to continue to challenge and develop participants' riding abilities.

The She Rides social media channels continue to grow at a steady rate, with a 23 per cent lift in our Facebook following on the previous year to more than 9100 followers, contributing to an overall total of 11,500 followers over all social media channels, including Instagram and Twitter. Social media continues to play a key role in program sales with almost half of all program places sold from social media leads.

The She Rides program continues to provide compelling behavioural data, reaffirming the quality of the product in terms of its ability to produce significantly increased riding skill and confidence levels. The short to medium-term data also indicates that She Rides successfully engages riders in continued riding, with more than 70 per cent of participants going on to ride at least once per week following the completion of the program.

In the latter half of 2017 we also started collecting general health and physical activity data from our participants. Using this data we are developing a holistic picture of the broader impact that She Rides has on the overall health and physical activity patterns of its participants.

Thanks go to our local program leaders and participants for their continued engagement in She Rides.

LET'S RIDE - RIDE FOR LIFE

NOW ALIGNED WITH THE AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL SCHOOL CURRICULUM!

Let's Ride Program conducted by Coach Michael Jordan at Hercules
Road State School Brisbane.

Let's Ride

2017 has been a year of growth for Let's Ride following the official program launch in 2016. In the first nine months of 2017 more than 5000 children from 120 schools have participated in Let's Ride programs.

This is an increase of 77 per cent from 2016, with many of these schools utilising funding from the Australian Sports Commission's (ASC) Sporting Schools Program. The efforts of more than 50 delivery centres operating in every state and territory have played a significant role in the growth of the program nationally. In addition, 200 Indigenous youth participated in Aboriginal Bike Safety Programs in partnership with Roads and Maritime New South Wales.

The program did experience some challenges throughout the year with changes to the ASC funding. However, this became an opportunity to change the product in areas such as price point, delivery centre payments, coaching ratios and the product offering itself. As a result the program continues to grow and flourish.

We have continued to grow the products available with the development of a "learn to ride" product (1st Gear) as well as our high school offering (4th Gear). 1st Gear will be fully functional in late 2017, while 4th Gear will launch in early 2018.

The future of Let's Ride looks bright and the delivery of the program will take a significant step forward in 2018 with greater engagement with member states. In 2017 extensive financial modelling has been conducted with the ASC to move towards a financially viable state delivery model. Additionally, all Let's Ride participants will now receive a complimentary three-month Cycling Australia Ride Membership to encourage participants to continue to "Ride With Us" and further engage with cycling as part of our strategic participation pathway.

We would also like to thank former program co-ordinator Kieran Donohue for his tireless work with the development and management of the program in its infancy.

MEMBERSHIP

Cycling Australia continues to develop its membership strategy, building on research projects conducted by Gemba and Repucom and 2017 saw a small rise in overall membership numbers, driven primarily by an increase in the Ride (recreational) category.

One area that showed a significant increase in 2017 was the number of international licences endorsed by CA, up 165 per cent from 299 to 794. The increase can be largely attributed to competitors travelling to the USA to compete in the BMX World Championships, but it is also indicative of many Australians racing overseas, which is great to see.

A positive step in improving the CA membership value proposition this year was the announcement of Shine Lawyers as CA's compensation claims lawyers. Already Shine Lawyers have been able to assist a number of CA members in claiming compensation, and the dedicated hotline for members' inquiries has been busy. CA and Shine Lawyers will continue to work together to increase awareness of this valuable service and showcase studies of successful claims.

During 2017 CA has trialled several initiatives, all with the aim of offering enhanced member benefits to all levels of membership. A number of special offers were rolled out in conjunction with the magazine Cyclist AU/NZ, a new, flat-rate family membership offering has been finalised, some states are working with retail partners to offer CA membership with bike purchases, and CA continues to work with event promoters to ensure that CA members have discounted entry to some of the country's best Gran Fondos and rides.

Improved reporting appears to indicate that CA is improving its ability to attract new members, but that a high level of churn continues to impact the progress being made in signing up new customers. A key focus for 2018 is on the improvement of the CA technology platform and membership systems, which will alleviate some of this churn. Much of the ground work for this project has already been completed and work will commence in 2018, while CA and its member states will also continue to evaluate the membership proposition to deliver benefits that have a high perceived value for our customers.

Membership fees

In order to provide further transparency around the use of CA members' fees, this year we have included a chart outlining where members' fees are spent. A common misconception appears to be that many members believe their membership fees go towards funding the CA High Performance program. However, this is not the case.

The chart below displays how membership revenue is distributed, with 70 per cent of members' fees covering the following:

Our states, territories and clubs invest their allocation of membership income in a number of areas. This includes state or club-based participation and grass roots programs, noting the amount and focus areas vary from state to state.

A further 15 per cent represents the direct cost of selling and maintaining the membership system. These costs include direct labour, software licence fees, transaction fees and other miscellaneous direct costs. Thereafter six and eight per cent respectively contribute partially to CA's National Sport and Governance costs. National Sport costs do not include High Performance or National Participation programs/costs (such as She Rides or Let's Ride), both of which are fully funded by the Federal Government and/or participant fees.

MEDIA AND COMMUNICATIONS

Some key announcements and a busy schedule of elite, non-elite and participation news resulted in continued growth across all of CA's digital channels in 2017.

The announcement in July that bikes with disc brakes are now permitted at club, state and non-UCI national championship level road races across Australia was welcomed almost unanimously as a great step for the sport, and the story was one of CA's best performed across all channels in 2017.

The release of CA's new High Performance Strategy in October was well covered by cycling and mainstream media, and followed a highly successful campaign for the Australian Cycling Team at the 2017 UCI Road World Championships in Bergen, Norway. Overall, engagement continues to be strongest with sport-based announcements, particularly Australia winning medals at world championships.

While recognition of achievement and appointments within the High Performance sphere continue to generate most interest, the announcement of several new sponsorships in 2017 performed well in terms of reach and engagement, particularly the news that Cycling Australia members now have access to free legal advice via a partnership with Shine Lawyers.

The CA media team continues to develop new and engaging content around its key properties. The growth in social media channels in 2017 can be attributed in some part to Subaru NRS channels responding to a lift in the frequency and variety of NRS content, including live streaming.

CA CEO Nick Green OAM announces a new partnership with Shine Lawyers who became CA's compensation claims lawyers in 2017. Shine Lawyers provide free legal consultation and a 'no win, no fee' service to CA members.

CA's new High Performance Director Simon Jones and athletes were on hand when Santini unveiled the new Australian national team kit at a special event staged in Hong Kong to coincide with the 2017 UCI Track Cycling World Championships. # CORPORATE GOVERNANCE

Cycling Australia is committed to implementing the Australian Sports Commission's (ASC) mandatory governance principles.

Company Limited by Guarantee

Cycling Australia converted to the new structure on 30 July 2014.

Board Composition

Cycling Australia's nominations committee was responsible for recruiting the new board in 2014 with the appropriate mix of skills to meet the organisation's strategic goals. Since this time the committee has initiated a number of changes to continually improve the dynamic and composition of the board. In February 2017 three new directors were appointed to reflect the evolving needs of the business.

Board Operation

Since the new board has been in place (from 15 September 2014) the following ASC mandatory requirements have been adopted/progressed:

- » The nominations committee charter has been completed and approved by the board. This includes a skills matrix that is used to determine opportunities to strengthen the board.
- » An audit and risk committee charter has been completed and approved by the board.
- » The conflict of interests register continues to be updated and enforced, noting all directors are independent.
- » Eleven directors' meetings were held in the financial year ending 30 June 2016. An annual board performance process was introduced in 2016.

Transparency, Reporting and Integrity

Cycling Australia works closely with the ASC to provide information in a timely manner. During 2016 Cycling Australia completed its Strategic Plan.

In April 2017 Cycling Australia appointed Simon Jones to lead the High Performance team. Following Simon's appointment, he has worked with the board to develop a new strategic direction for the team with a keen focus on delivering against the ASC's winning edge program.

ANTI DOPING

Cycling Australia's zero tolerance towards doping and commitment to educating our members is an ongoing priority for the organisation.

A new CA Supplements Policy was released in June. The main changes to the policy included updating the No Needles Policy to reflect that of the current AIS policy and changes to procedure for breach of policy to align with the process undertaken for any type of breach of the CA Athlete Membership Agreement or National Team Agreement. The Supplements Policy is available on the CA website's Anti-Doping page <http://www.cycling.org.au/Anti-Doping-Policy-Information>.

CA continues its ongoing requirement for all national team members across all disciplines to be up-to-date with ASADA's online education prior to being named in an Australian national team.

During the year there was one recorded Anti-Doping Rule Violation by an athlete for the use of a banned substance. The prohibited substance, Higenamine, is in popular dietary supplements and has caught out a number of athletes across a number of sports. ASADA issued two warnings about this substance which were circulated widely through the cycling network. This highlights the importance of checking supplements on the ASADA website before ingesting.

In the six months following the Rio Olympic Games a number of cyclists failed to maintain their Athlete Whereabouts details with the relevant authority which resulted in strikes. Whereabouts are an essential part of being an elite athlete and details must be current at all times, even when the athlete is taking a break following a major competition such as the Olympics. At all times CA is working with ASADA to ensure all cyclists know their obligations and comply with anti-doping requirements.

Anti-Doping testing was conducted at all major national cycling events in Australia. While this is a very expensive part of an event budget it is necessary and will continue to support CA's zero tolerance towards doping.

COMMISSIONS

AS AT 30 SEPTEMBER 2017

CA sincerely thanks the Chairs and Members of our five commissions for their significant efforts in 2017:

- » Advocacy
- » Coaching
- » Sports
- » Technical
- » Women's

Advocacy

---

1. Caroline Finch (VIC) Chair (resigned July 2017)
2. Marcel Lema (VIC)
3. Sean Turtur (SA)
4. Baz Doosey (NSW)
5. Reg Hatch (NT)
6. Karen Phelan - CA GM Marketing & Communications– Secretariat

Cycling Australia's Advocacy Commission recognises its ability to have an influential role in CA's aspirations to be the unifying voice for cyclists, and its members comprise a fantastic representation of experience and expertise on cycling matters. The commission's year was disrupted due to the resignation of the chair, Professor Caroline Finch, whose work commitments at Federation University Australia meant she was unable to continue in the role. Professor Finch brought significant depth to the commission and she will be sorely missed. In line with its work plan, the commission is in the process of developing a range of key policy positions and as a result has undertaken information gathering to build a repository of learned opinion and scientific articles to support the policy statements. Recruitment of a new chair was taking place towards the end of 2017.

Coaching

1. Kim Palmer (QLD) - Chair
2. Sara Carrigan (NSW)
3. Greg Meyland (VIC)
4. Tony Lally (NSW)
5. Katrina Grantham (VIC)
6. Kipp Kaufmann - CA GM Sport - Secretariat

Through the development of a strong work plan the coaching commission has begun to focus on a number of key areas including course content, coaching pathways and re-accreditation. The review and development of the Level 1 course is currently being undertaken. This is a major redevelopment as the course had not been updated since 2010. The commission is also focusing on making the coaching pathway clear for all coaches to better understand requirements. Additionally, the re-accreditation requirements are being redeveloped to help us retain our coaches.

1. John Nicholson – Chair (VIC)
2. Tegan Cox (NSW)
3. Rik Fulcher (SA) (CA employee)
4. Jon Leighton (NSW)
5. Tom Palmer (ACT)
6. Kimberley Wells (ACT)
7. Kipp Kaufmann - CA GM Sport - Secretariat

The Sports Commission has overseen significant transformation in 2017 with the development of many new initiatives which are being launched in 2018. These include the National Junior Road Series, National Para-cycling series and new club championship events at the Road National Championships. The 2018-2020 National Championships bid process has also been a key development for the commission. The commission conducts monthly meetings and provided an oversight and advisory role on the National Championships and National Road Series throughout the year.

Technical

---

1. Peter Tomlinson (NSW) – Chair (from December 2017)
2. Bill Walker (ACT)
3. Greg Bateson (QLD)
4. Karen O'Callaghan (VIC)
5. Janet White (WA)
6. Bill Clinch (NSW) – resigned as Chair December 2017
7. Kipp Kaufmann – CA GM Sport
8. Max Stevens – CA Special Projects, HP - Secretariat

The Technical Commission has undertaken extensive work this year to help improve participation for riders and commissaires. Our focus areas have included regulations, appointments, policy, equipment and training.

In October 2017 we saw the introduction of a new set of technical regulations which are aligned with the UCI and CA policies and much easier to follow for all participants. We will continue to update these on an ongoing basis.

We have also supported the implementation of a new commissaire policy which now clearly outlines the event requirements, commissaire compensation and educational requirements. We have been able to update our equipment and understand where it is located. This has allowed the Technical Commission to begin work on ensuring that CA will have the required equipment for the future. Our training materials have improved with the redevelopment of the Level 1 and 2 courses that are delivered by the states. We are also planning on the delivery (and update) of the Level 3 course in 2018. Additionally, 14 commissaires will undertake the National Elite Road and Track courses in March 2018.

The Technical Commission has also supported the appointments of commissaires to all national and international events throughout the year.

Women's

---

1. Dr Helen Freeborn – Chair (NSW)
2. Reese Masita (VIC)
3. Jim Plouffe (SA)
4. Melissa Robinson (WA)
5. Sam Bolton (WA)
6. Miriam Stanborough (WA)
7. Kate de Beer - CA National Participation Manager – Secretariat.

The Women's Commission has embarked on a number of projects this year spanning media and social media, governance and racing, and events and participation. Following another successful "Summer of Cycling" for female cyclists, the commission saw an opportunity to contribute to the elevation of the representation and acknowledgement of female cyclists and their achievements, particularly across social media. The commission has been working to collate an advice paper on how social media can be better leveraged to boost the profile of our female athletes.

On the track, the commission has been building on the work of the previous Women's Commission in pursuing opportunities to establish equity in the establishment of perpetual trophy races for women where they already exist for men.

Additionally, the commission is in the process of developing an event promoter's guide for the inclusion and representation of women at mass participation cycling events.

The commission has also implemented some key metrics to track the inclusion of women with the Cycling Australia family, including organisationally and at a governance level.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2017

Note 1: Corporate Information

The financial report is for the entity Cycling Australia Limited as an individual entity. Cycling Australia Limited is a company limited by guarantee, incorporated and domiciled in Australia. Cycling Australia Limited is a not-for-profit entity for the purpose of preparing the financial statements.

The financial report was approved by the directors as at the date of the directors' report.

Note 2: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

(a) Basis of Preparation

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards - Reduced Disclosure requirements and the Corporations Act 2001.

The financial report has been prepared on an accrual basis and are based on historical cost. Cost is based on the fair values of the consideration given in exchange for assets. Unless otherwise indicated, all amounts are presented in Australian dollars.

(b) Going Concern

The financial report has been prepared on a going concern basis, which contemplates the continuity of normal business activity and the realisation of assets and the settlement of liabilities in the normal course of business. The Company derived a surplus of $29,992 for the year ended 30 June 2017. As at 30 June 2017 the Company had cash assets of $2,423,443, current assets of $3,809,297 and current liabilities of $5,353,037 and a deficiency of net assets of $2,345,166. The Directors consider the going concern basis to be appropriate based upon operating and cash flow forecasts, and on the existence of secured funding. The forecast also relies on the Company maintaining a reduced cost base. Therefore no adjustments have been made in respect of the recoverability and classification of recorded assets or the carrying amount and classification of liabilities that may be necessary if the Company does not continue as a going concern.

(c) Changes in Accounting Policies, Accounting Standards and Interpretations

(i) Changes in accounting policy and disclosures

The accounting policies adopted are consistent with those of the previous financial year other than as noted below.

In the current year, the Company has adopted all of the new and revised standards and interpretations issued by the Australian Accounting Standards Board (the AASB) that are relevant to their operations and effective for the current annual reporting period. The adoption of these new and revised Standards and Interpretations has not resulted in any significant changes to any of the Company's accounting policies.

(ii) Accounting standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective at 30 June 2017

The following standards and interpretations have been issued at the reporting date but are not yet effective.

AASB 9 Financial Instruments

The Standard, applicable to annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2018, includes revised requirements for the classification and measurement of financial instruments, revised recognition and derecognition requirements for financial instruments and simplified requirements for hedge accounting.

The key changes that may affect the company on initial application include certain simplifications to the classification of financial assets and upfront accounting for expected credit loss. Although the directors anticipate that the adoption of AASB 9 may have an impact on the Company's financial instruments it is impracticable at this stage to provide a reasonable estimate of such impact.

AASB 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers and AASB 1058 Income of Not-for-Profit Entities

The core principle of AASB 15 is that an entity recognises revenue to depict the transfer of promised goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration the entity expects to be entitled to in exchange for those goods or services. Accordingly, revenue will be recognised through application of the following five steps:

1. Identify the contracts with the customer;
2. Identify the separate performance obligations;
3. Determine the transaction price;
4. Allocate the transaction price- and;
5. Recognise revenue when a performance obligation is satisfied.

The adjacent accounting standard AASB 1058 addresses Income of Not-for-Profit Entities. That standard may have more direct applicability to the Company. Each of the standards will have effect for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019. Their impacts have not yet been assessed.

AASB 16 Leases

AASB 16 is effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2019. The Standard requires lessees to initially recognise a lease liability for the obligation to make lease payments and a right-of-use asset for the right to use the underlying asset for the lease term. The impacts have not yet been assessed.

(d) Revenue

Revenue is recognised to the extent that it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the entity and the revenue can be reliably measured, regardless of when the payment is received. Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable, taking into account contractually defined terms of payment and excluding taxes or duty.

Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods have passed to the buyer and the costs incurred or to be incurred in respect of the transaction can be measured reliably. Risks and rewards of ownership are considered passed to the buyer at the time of delivery of the goods to the customer.

Rendering of services

Revenue from the rendering of services is recognised upon the delivery of the service to the customers.

Events revenue

Revenue from organising and hosting events, including corporate partnerships, is recognised in the period in which the events are held.

Sponsorship revenue

Sponsorship revenue is recognised on a straight line basis over the sponsorship contract period, unless the sponsorship is payable on achieving specified milestones, in which case revenue is recognised on the completion of the contracted milestone.

Interest income

Interest revenue is recognised when it becomes receivable on a proportional basis taking in to account the interest rates applicable to the financial assets.

Membership and similar revenue

Membership, insurance and licensing fees, service fees, donations, and other revenue are recognised on an accrual basis as the related services are delivered.

Grants

Government and other funding received or receivable on the condition that specified activities are undertaken are considered reciprocal. Such grants are recognised as deferred income and revenue is recognised as services are performed or conditions fulfilled, being the expenditure incurred relating to the specified grant.

(e) Income tax

No provision for income tax has been raised as the company is exempt from income tax.

(f) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand and at banks, short-term deposits with an original maturity of three months or less held at call with financial institutions, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position.

(g) Inventories

Inventories held for sale are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

(h) Financial instruments*Recognition and initial measurement

Financial instruments, incorporating financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Financial instruments are initially measured at fair value plus transaction costs where the instrument is not classified as at fair value through profit and loss. Transaction costs related to instruments classified as at fair value through profit or loss are expensed immediately.

Classification

The company's financial assets fall into the following categories: loans and receivables, and held-to-maturity investments. The classification depends on the purpose for which the instruments were acquired, at the point of initial recognition.

Held-to-maturity investments

Fixed term investments intended to be held to maturity are classified as held-to-maturity investments. They are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are measured at fair value at inception and subsequently at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30 JUNE 2017

Financial liabilities

Financial liabilities include trade and other payables, and borrowings.

Non-derivative financial liabilities are recognised at amortised cost, comprising original debt less principal payments and amortisation.

Financial liabilities are classified as current liabilities unless the entity has an unconditional right to defer settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

Impairment

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether there is objective evidence that a financial instrument has been impaired. Impairment losses are recognised in the financial result as incurred.

Derecognition

Financial assets are derecognised where the contractual rights to receive cash flows have expired or the asset is transferred to another party whereby the entity no longer has any significant continuing involvement in the risks and benefits associated with the asset. Financial liabilities are derecognised where the related obligations are either discharged, cancelled or expire. The difference between the carrying value of the financial liability extinguished or transferred to another party and the fair value of consideration paid, including the transfer of non cash assets or liabilities assumed is recognised in the financial result.

Fair value estimation

The fair value of financial assets and financial liabilities must be estimated for recognition and measurement purposes. Unless otherwise disclosed in the notes to the financial statements, the carrying amount of the Company's financial instruments approximates their fair value.

(i) Property, plant and equipment

Bases of measurement of carrying amount

Each class of plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair value less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all plant and equipment is depreciated over their estimated useful lives commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

	Depreciation rates	Depreciation basis
Class of fixed asset
Leasehold improvements at cost	10%	Straight line
Plant and equipment at cost	10-33%	Straight line

(j) Intangibles

Event rights

Event rights are initially recognised at cost and then amortised on a straight line basis over their useful life. The balances are reviewed annually and any balance representing future benefits the realisation of which is considered to be no longer probable are written off. Event rights are normally amortised over their estimated useful life of 4 years.

Website costs

Website costs are recognised at cost. They are amortised over their estimated useful lives of 4 years. Website costs are carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any impairment losses.

(k) Impairment of non-financial assets

Intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life are not subject to amortisation and are therefore tested annually for impairment, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that they might be impaired.

An impairment loss is recognised where the carrying amount of the asset exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset is defined as the higher of its fair value less costs to sell and value in use.

The recoverable amount is assessed on the basis of the expected net cash flows which will be received from the assets employment and subsequent disposal. The expected net cash flows have been discounted to present values in determining recoverable amounts.

(l) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured.

The amount recognised as a provision is a best estimate of the consideration required to settle the present obligation at reporting date, taking into account the risks and uncertainties surrounding the obligation. Where a provision is measured using the cash flows estimated to settle the present obligations, its carrying amount is the present value of those cash flows.

(m) Leases

Leases are classified at their inception as either operating or finance leases based on the economic substance of the agreement so as to reflect the risks and benefits incidental to ownership.

Operating leases

Lease payments for operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are recognised as an expense on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease.

Lease incentives received under operating leases are recognised as a liability and amortised on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease term.

(n) Employee benefits

(i) Short-term employee benefit obligations

Liabilities arising in respect of wages and salaries, annual leave and any other employee benefits expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are measured at their nominal amounts based on remuneration rates which are expected to be paid when the liability is settled. The expected cost of short-term employee benefits in the form of compensated absences such as annual leave is recognised in the provision for employee benefits. All other short-term employee benefit obligations are presented as payables.

(ii) Long-term employee benefit obligations

Liabilities arising in respect of long service leave and annual leave which is not expected to be settled within twelve months of the reporting date are measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflow to be made in respect of services provided by employees up to the reporting date.

Employee benefit obligations are presented as current liabilities if the entity does not have an unconditional right to defer settlement for at least twelve months after the reporting date, regardless of when the actual settlement is expected to occur.

(o) Goods and services tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and purchased assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Tax Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the statement of financial position are shown inclusive of GST.

Cash flows are presented in the statement of cash flows on a gross basis, except for the GST component of investing and financing activities, which are disclosed as operating cash flows.

(p) Comparatives

Where necessary, comparative information has been reclassified and repositioned for consistency with current year disclosures.

Note 3: Significant Accounting Estimates and Judgements

In the application of the Company's accounting policies, management is required to make judgements, estimates and assumptions about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and other factors that are considered to be relevant. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF CYCLING AUSTRALIA

Opinion

We have audited the accompanying financial report of Cycling Australia (the company), which comprises the statement of financial position as at 30 June 2017, the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity, and cash flows for the year then ended, notes comprising a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information, and the directors' declaration.

In our opinion, the financial report is in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, including:

- (a) giving a true and fair view of the company's financial position as at 30 June 2017 and of its performance for the year ended on that date; and
- (b) complying with Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements, and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report section of our report. We are independent of the company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional and Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (the Code) that are relevant to our audit of the financial report in Australia. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with the Code.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of Matter Regarding Uncertainty of Continuation as a Going Concern

We draw attention to Note 2(b) in the financial report, which comments on the company's continuation as a going concern, indicating the existence of a material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt about the company's ability to continue as a going concern and therefore, whether it will realise its assets and discharge its liabilities in the normal course of business and at the amounts stated in the financial report. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Directors' Responsibilities for the Financial Report

The directors of the company are responsible for the preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in accordance with the Australian Accounting Standards – Reduced Disclosure Requirements and the Corporations Act 2001 and for such internal control as the directors determine is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, management is responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

INDEPENDENT AUDIT REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF CYCLING AUSTRALIA

As part of an audit in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- » Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- » Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the company's internal control.
- » Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the directors.
- » Conclude on the appropriateness of the director's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial report or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- » Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial report, including the disclosures, and whether the financial report represents the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the directors regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide the directors with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, related safeguards.

Highlights for the 2016/17 year include:

- » A steadily growing membership base. Cycling NSW has never had a larger membership base, with just shy of 9000 racing members, recreational riders, juniors and officials/volunteers.
- » Development of stronger ties with Government. Cycling NSW was successful in lobbying for the removal of the mandatory ID requirement for cyclists and the CEO and Board continue to invest time in seeking better outcomes for CNSW and cycling generally.
- » NSW riders winning the Norm Gallie trophy for Champion State. Winning this award is testament to the development pathways and relationship Cycling NSW shares with its regional academies and NSWIS and our strong culture of Masters racing.
- » An increased CNSW involvement in the NSW cycling sport scene. We partnered with a number of the large recreational rides, taking our brand to new markets.
- » Board self-assessment program. This has assisted the Directors in reflecting on their own approach and priority areas to ensure a well-governed and forward-thinking organisation.

- » Facebook for Club Presidents and Secretaries. This group builds on CNSW's increasing social media presence. Promoting the sharing of knowledge between clubs and the CNSW executive can only be a good thing.

Other topics worthy of note include:

Cycling excellence

NSW high-performance athletes represented themselves and CNSW with distinction during 2016/17, those with International honours including:

- » Olympic and Paralympic representatives Ashlee Ankudinoff, Rachael Neylan, Amanda Spratt, Matt Formston, Nick Yallouris, Simone Kennedy, Alex Lisney, Amanda Reid, Bradley McGee OAM (Coach) and Tom Skulander (Coach)
- » World Champions Chris Murray, Gary Mandy, Gavin White, David Willmott, Geoff Stoker and Gaye Lynn
- » Caleb Ewan winning stage 7 at this year's Giro.

UCI Gran Fondo Qualifier

CNSW's flagship sport event, the Blayney to Bathurst, or B2B as it is known, took the next step in its 13-year evolution by becoming a qualifying event for the UCI World Gran Fondo Championships. The relationship CNSW has formed with the Bathurst Community, in particular Bathurst Regional Council, has been fundamental to the qualifiers finding a home in NSW for the first time.

More than 2000 riders of all abilities took to the scenic route between these two central-west towns. Added to this was a day of Criterion racing around the historic centre of Bathurst and a Hill Climb up the famed Mount Panorama.

Womens #five100 Challenge

Our Women's Commission launched this event series to challenge and attract women via a women-only ride, seeking to encourage participation in the milestone 100km ride. Various clubs conducted around 20 qualifying rides throughout autumn and winter, with 150-plus women participating in one or more rides, some reaching the ultimate goal of completing five x 100km rides for the season. This series will continue to be invested in, being a mid-point between newcomers to cycling and those who are active racers.

Club, Open and Championship Racing

The racing of bicycles will always be a constant heartbeat within our organisation, and racing was again to the fore over the past 12 months. CNSW hosted Junior and Masters National Titles on the track and Masters on the road. These pinnacle events fostered another strong year of race activity at Club and Open level. We have seen the addition of several new events which have proved popular, the re-emergence of others and the unfortunate decline of some. The CNSW executive team and the Competitions and Technical Commissions will continue to work with Clubs to achieve the best balance of location and quantity of Open level events for the benefit of CNSW as a whole.

Looking ahead

Looking ahead toward the back end of 2017 and into 2018, CNSW has a packed agenda that will stretch all our resources. That said, I am confident that the executive team, the Board, Commission members, numerous volunteers and our many cycling friends can deliver on these. Two major projects we are currently focused on are:

Dunc Gray Velodrome Working with Government and Bankstown Council to secure the ongoing operation of the Dunc Gray Velodrome is a major priority. Initial engagements are positive and we are confident this facility can be retained, upgraded and maintained to the standard it deserves.

Safety and road access We can never do enough to ensure the safety of cyclists while on the road. We are seeking to establish an MOU with the Government to work jointly on this issue and gain their support for the road access we need to run our events.

Finally, I would like to warmly thank all CNSW members for the part they played in creating Cycling NSW's growing cycling family. I look forward to sharing a ride or cheering from the sidelines with you in 2017.

Everyone's a winner! Some of our elite women after the Bathurst Crits during the B2B weekend.

Cycling NT has focussed on building its profile in 2016-17 by supporting riders and events, more regular website updates and having an active board in regular communication with the clubs and government.

We aim to build the profile of the NT's larger events and the unique opportunities available to cyclists here in the coming year.

The NT Time Trial Titles were hosted by ASCC alongside the annual Barkly Challenge in July, bringing together 60 riders from Alice Springs, Darwin, Mount Isa and Tennant Creek. It was great to see so many people travel to the centre of the Territory for a fun and competitive weekend of road racing, criteriums and the time trials. Cycling NT supported a junior development program run in association with the event.

A group of nine NT junior representatives attended the Junior Road Titles at Devonport, Tasmania, in September. Alice Springs U15 rider Alli Anderson placed second in the road race and third in the time trial. Consistency and hard work by the NT juniors is getting results.

A change in government in the NT has seen the dismantling of Pedals NT, meaning that peak sporting bodies will now work directly with the government in regard to recognition and funding. It is unfortunate that the NT has lost its single cycling voice. However, during the short life of Pedals NT communication between PSBs has improved and the NT Government has gained a better appreciation of all types of cycling in the NT.

Cycling NT sponsored the Mini Fondo, a schools event run alongside the Sunbuild Top End Gran Fondo. We will look to grow engagement with schools further in 2017-18.

From Around the Tracks

Alice Springs Cycling Club

Alice Springs Cycling Club has had a full season of racing including two full cyclo-cross series, a criterium and time trial series and two gran fondos. A summary of the major events is below.

ASCC hosted cycling events at the biennial Alice Springs Masters Games in October 2016, attracting cyclists from around the country for a full week of road and track racing. The games see some hot competition between masters competitors from all over the country and is attached to the King of the Hills race on the final day

In November the club hosted an Alice Springs endurance sport event planning session, bringing together the mountain bike club, triathlon club and running club to create a co-ordinated events calendar for 2017. This avoided clashes between events and facilitated some joint events, such as a triathlon versus roadies time trial and Two Tribes joint mountain bike/road social race.

The May Day long weekend saw the inaugural West Macs Cruise being held, celebrating the complete paving of the 400km Namatjira Drive-Mereenie Road loop. The ride was enjoyed by a mix of 40 local, Darwin and interstate riders and included camping at Ormiston Gorge and Hermannsburg. It raised thousands of dollars for the Salvation Army and the club will aim to build on the success of this iconic ride in 2018.

Similar to Darwin's Mitchell Street Mile, the inaugural Barrett Drive Criterium was held alongside the Barrett Drive Mile running race, giving local cyclists a chance to compete and display the excitement of a criterium to a new crowd.

The final intra-club event for the year was the Barkly Challenge in Tennant Creek, bringing together 60 riders from Darwin, Mt Isa, Tennant Creek and Alice Springs. This event, hosted by ASCC, grows in numbers and competition every year thanks to support from Darwin Cycling Club and Cycling NT.

Darwin Cycling Club

The new velodrome project was once again put on hold but is now a vocal talking point and agenda item on both the NT Government and Darwin City Council calendars. The club is hoping for some positive news before the end of the year!

In April DCC's new website was finally launched. It was a long overdue project that now provides a site detailing everything from club history, events, club and social rides, junior development and club contact details, to name a few. Many hours were spent getting the site up and running and keeping it up to date.

Social rides and racing events continue to be very popular. Registrations for racing events are consistent with last year which has been welcoming as this year saw the commencement of registering online and paying a small registration fee.

In July Darwin successfully defended the Barkly Challenge in Tennant Creek against Alice Springs and Mt Isa. DCC had more than 30 senior and junior riders make the journey and they look forward to next year hopefully making it three in a row. It's a great race event organised by Alice Springs.

This year DCC Juniors had another successful trip to the Tassie Christmas Carnival, competed extremely well at the Barkly Challenge in July and had podium finishes in the 60km Half Fondo and Mitchell Street Crit. Meg Marker competed in her first Junior Track Nationals in the Under 15s in Sydney, finishing 6th overall.

Sunbuild Top End Gran Fondo

The 2017 Sunbuild Top End Gran Fondo once again experienced participation growth with almost 600 riders taking to the streets of the Top End in the 120km, 60km and 3km events.

Some slight changes were made to this year's route, with riders coming back along Tiger Brennan Drive after its duplication project was complete. The start line reverted to our preferred location on Stokes Hill Wharf Road.

A major change this year was the finish area, following a new event partnership with The Precinct Tavern. After finishing the ride and racking the bikes, we had full use of their beer garden where 300 riders were provided with a buffet brunch. This was received as an improvement on the set-up from previous years which had a VIP area, whereas this provided a more social post-ride atmosphere.

Commercial support from local businesses continues to be high, with thanks to many of the event sponsors including Sunbuild, NTRS, Darwin Family Law, Darwin Meal Prep, The Job Shop, Territory Sports Medicine, Environmental Consulting, PSC BM Insurance, Precinct, Blue Cycles, Territory Wildlife Park and many other supporters and community groups.

A raffle was conducted this year to help raise funds for the Darwin Cycling Club junior program, with the winner receiving a $1400 Focus bike thanks to Blue Cycles.

Plans are already underway for improvements to next year's event to encourage more riders.

Mitchell Street Mile Criterium

After a successful exhibition Criterium race at the 2016 Mitchell Street Mile, DCC was invited to run three races at this year's A Grade Men and Women's and B Grade Men. The club was thrilled with the entry numbers of talented local and interstate riders. The highlight of the day was seeing NRS rider Holly Ranson competing and winning the A Grade Women's and then jumping back on her bike to complete in the A Grade Men's, coming in 6th.

Acknowledgements

Cycling NT would like to thank the volunteer coaches, officials and club members who have put in huge hours this year to progress both clubs and the sport. Thanks also to the Department of Tourism and Culture for their ongoing support of the sport as well.

Cycling Queensland has propelled itself forward during the 2016-2017 year boosted by the success following the opening of the Anna Meares Velodrome on 12 November 2016.

The Anna Meares Velodrome, a Commonwealth Games legacy asset, since opening has seen more than 3000 new and existing members participate across a variety of Cycling Queensland lead programs and initiatives. The velodrome's opening and subsequent operations were a major highlight for CQ in 2016 and they were complemented by several other exciting developments including:

- » An increase in our overall membership
- » The hosting of the 2017 Australian Track Cycling Championships
- » A significant increase in our financial stability and governance
- » Securing the Queensland Junior Development Pathway.

Reflected in our Mission Statement, Cycling Queensland is invested in providing an environment which nurtures, develops and encourages Queenslanders to ride, race and support the sport of cycling.

Through the development and implementation of a renewed 2017-2020 Strategic Plan, we are focused on continuing to progress the sport of cycling and to build our relationships with key stakeholders including our clubs, state associations and Cycling Australia's operational staff and board.

Participation and Performance

Participation and Performance is a key strategic platform and focus area of CQ. Over the past year more than 12,000 people participated in 40-plus events and programs run by CQ across the state. Event offerings continued to grow with new partnerships being formed with both recreation and racing promoters. The Queensland Road Team Series was run for the fifth consecutive year and provided an avenue for developing cyclists to improve their racing skills across its four series events.

A major focus of CQ included securing the Queensland Junior Development Pathway which was finalised following the development and implementation of the Brisbane Schools Track Cycling Program, Schools to Clubs Program, Club Junior Participation Resource and Jets Program.

Several Queensland cyclists achieved fantastic results within our High Performance Program both nationally and on the world stage this year. Jordan Kerby claimed his maiden World Championship title in the Individual Pursuit at the UCI Track World Championships in Hong Kong. Katrin Garfoot also achieved podium results at the UCI Road World Championships, claiming bronze and silver respectively in the 2016 and 2017 Championship events. Junior performance athlete Alexandra Martin-Wallace also capped off a great year by riding to bronze in Montichiari at the UCI Junior Track World Championships. Another exceptional year was had by our High Performance Para-Cyclists Kyle Bridgwood and David Nicholas. Both achieved podium results at the UCI Para Track World Championships in South Africa this year.

Collaboration

This year four strategic club forums were held that engaged more than 65 representatives across 38 clubs in attendance. These forums have strengthened and reinforced key messages and uniformity across all clubs throughout the state.

In collaborating with local organisations, CQ has successfully grown our asset and program pool over the past 12 months through obtaining grant funding. These assets will provide additional benefits to our members and the greater community for years to come.

Over the past year, a number of sponsors and key partners have joined or continue to support the organisation including Queensland Compensation Lawyers, SEIGHT Custom Cycling Wear, Veloshotz, Brisbane Subaru, Live Action Video, M5 Management and BodyPlan.

Governance and Communication

In enacting a renewed 2017-2020 Strategic Plan, CQ has made it a strength and opportunity to reinvest in cycling through budgeting a surplus and reinforcing good financial governance practices. The modernisation of our structure and constitution has enabled us to assess our risks and maximize our opportunities. To support this, CQ has initiated a strategic tracker to monitor our performance and ensure the timely delivery of our goals and strategies.

To reinforce our key objectives within the communications platform, we developed and implemented an improved communications plan earlier in the year. In adopting and prioritising clear communication strategies we have endeavored to and will continue to sustain effective and efficient operations which reverberate across all departments within the organisation.

Our Team

We have focused on increasing the number of event volunteers, coaches and officials in Queensland with great success over the past 12 months.

Three coaching and four commissaire courses were held which have engaged more people in the sport and have had direct benefits within our development initiatives and events.

A major highlight within the events space also included the implementation of a Moto-Marshall Course and change in legislation that allows volunteers to carry out traffic marshalling duties. This development has reduced the burgeoning costs of traffic management and improved safety within our events.

Through the sport of cycling many of us build strong social bonds via the vast number of opportunities to participate in recreational and competitive environments. Cycling Queensland is invested in continuing to provide an environment which encourages more Queenslanders to ride, race and support the sport of cycling. We're thankful for the support and dedication of our staff, clubs, volunteers and members who are an integral part of the ongoing success of our sport in Queensland.

The President and Office of Cycling Queensland

The opening of the Anna Meares Velodrome on 12 November 2016.

Cycling as a sport is constantly changing and evolving. As an organisation, Cycling South Australia needs to be proactive, rather than reactive, in addressing these changes. As acting CEO since January, our focus for CSA is sustainability for our clubs, programs and events.

Membership engagement is key to this sustainability, particularly as a membership-based organisation. Being prepared to ask our members what exactly it is that they want is the first step, and then being prepared to act on what they tell us. Testament to this, CSA undertook a review of our road racing calendar and its structures. The feedback we received was not surprising, but it validated our plans and enables and encourages us to push forward with the changes that we need to make as a sport. We are focused on looking to the future, but without neglecting the great history of our sport.

The Cycling South Australia Board has also pushed forward, continuing the work that it began in 2016. A focus on strong governance as a key pillar to long-term stability has seen the introduction of a Board Governance Charter, reform to our junior policies, regional licence policies and ongoing refinement of Cycling South Australia's by-laws.

As an organisation, we are fortunate to have some incredibly dedicated and supportive volunteers, not just within our clubs but also our commissaires, coaches and event-day staff. Further to this, CSA is proud to have re-established our Women's' Commission. We are determined to be a leader in the development of women's sport. The commission is designed to provide guidance on any decision that we make that can influence women's participation and growth in our sport. The commission is deep into developing a 'Best Practice Guide' for events in SA among many other very positive initiatives. We have also introduced a Junior Racing Working Group to help the clubs in their ambitions to support junior racing.

On an event front, we have worked hard to reinvigorate everything we are doing. We started off the year with the revitalised Cyclo Sportif Series. With strong club support the series is well on its way to returning to its previous prosperity.

Cycling South Australia's "Super Series" has also had a resurgence with a doubling of the categories to now include two categories each of Masters, Men's and Women's racing. Combined with the inclusion of individual entries, we have more than 250 members registered for the 2017 series. The Ten Round Series will take in some fast criteriums, a TTT, a hill climb and the iconic Copper Coast Cup.

The Cycling South Australia School Series is providing a great pathway into the sport. With almost 100 new members signing on, it's a glowing endorsement of the work Susan Bassett performed before going on maternity leave. CSA would like to acknowledge the funding provided by the Office Of Recreation and Sport to establish the series, along with its continued support of our junior development programs.

Things are definitely on the up in South Australia. Acting CEO Lachlan Ambrose and Events Manager Amy Ryan brought new energy to our office team and our successes in 2017 were due in no small measure to their dedication and drive for improvement. The Team at CSA would like to thank the members for their continued support as we work together to deliver an even better 2018.

Membership

Our membership continues to grow within reasonable expectations and with the addition of two new clubs affiliating with Cycling Tasmania in recent weeks that number will swell to more than 700. One of these clubs had previously been unaffiliated with any cycling organisation and had been operating mainly road events. After representations from CT CEO Collin Burns, the group has decided to affiliate. The opportunities for this type of membership growth are limited when one considers the small population base, but rest assured that no stone is being left unturned in furthering that membership growth. Our membership base already includes mountain bike clubs who we continue to service and sponsor.

Sport

Our achievements in the reporting period in athlete support, plus our ability to conduct successful national-rated cycling events, has again been shown by the fact that Tasmania hosted a very successful NRS junior 19 selection race which included Elite women, organised by Mersey Valley Devonport Cycling Club for the eleventh year, a very successful National Junior Road Championship for Junior 15s and 17s. These events provided excellent opportunities for our young athletes and also for volunteers within MVDCC and other clubs to get first-hand experience at what it takes to prepare for these types of events.

We again hosted the premier NRS road tour for Elite men – the Tour of Tasmania over the most challenging of courses. This event again provided opportunities for those athletes to excel in competition that could result in some of them winning professional contracts.

Richie Porte celebrated the start of his year by winning the Tour Down Under and it was certainly fantastic to have a Tasmanian leading the Pro Tour rankings in January.

One of our younger riders – Madelaine Fasnacht – also enjoyed outstanding success. A junior TIS 19 rider, she won the National Road Time Trial and Road Race, the Oceania Road Race and then competed in the world championships in Bergen, Germany, winning bronze in the Road Time Trial. An unfortunate crash within the closing stages of the road event possibly robbed Madeleine of a podium finish there as well.

A highlight of the year must surely be the admission in Hobart late last year of now retired cyclist Belinda Goss to the Tasmanian Hall of Fame. Belinda's record of national and international feats is well known and she is now recognised by the sporting fraternity within Tasmania as being a worthy inductee.

Another extremely successful track series was conducted during December/January with the continued support of the Tasmanian Government and we are appreciative of their support and the ongoing support of SRT.

Key Objectives for the Year

A key objective of the year was to grow membership and provide excellent competition on both the track and the road. All three of these targeted objectives have been successful with the support of many hard-working volunteers and marketing businesses. We are thankful to Tasmania Police for their ongoing support of our national events like Tour of Tasmania, our Junior 19 NRS selection event and the wonderful support for the National Junior Road Championships. These events take a long time to organise and the feedback we have had from competitors and support staff has been overwhelmingly positive. We would hope to be given the opportunity to again host this calibre of event in the future.

A recent Level 1 Commissaires course attracted 17 participants, with two of our L2s selected to upgrade to L3 in the New Year. We wish successful nominees Michael Bailey and Collin Burns every success in their endeavours. It would be nice to have some additional L3s with us.

From an operating perspective we again have had a successful financial year and are currently looking to recruit an extra employee to assist with the administration of the sport going forward.

Governance

We continue to have a stable Board with retiring members not being challenged at the ballot box at our last AGM. The representation across the state continues to adequately cover the sport in each region, with two seconded members adding to a diverse skill set. Our CEO Collin Burns continues to be a major driver of our success story and with additional new blood to support Collin we look forward to better things to come.

With more than a million people riding a bike each week in Victoria the state abounds with endless opportunity to grow the love of cycling in all its forms and engage people in our sport.

Cycling Victoria continues to support this riding community by bringing opportunities for more people to ride, race and watch the sport – opportunities that are founded on our three strategic pillars that contribute to our vision of “More People Racing, Watching and Riding”.

More People Racing

Traditional racing has seen a slight decline over the past 12 months. However, cyclo-cross, schools racing and our newly created individual time trial series have all seen growth. Anecdotally the number of riders participating in club-based racing appears to be down and that will require a key focus over the coming year as club racing is the foundation stone of the sport within the state.

Key successes for the year include:

- » Track Attack (teams-based track racing)
- » Continued growth of the TAC Victorian Road Series
- » Victorian Junior Road Series launch
- » Victorian Interscholar Cycling Series now in its third year.

Our challenge for the future will be to build and sustain strong grass roots competition.

More People Riding

The year was a dynamic time in the riding department as we pursued an innovation agenda with both success and failure. We delivered a range of programs, some successful, some not so. We also welcomed new faces and said goodbye to some old ones.

Key successes for the year include:

- » More than 6000 women participating in Breeze Rides and Social Spin programs
- » More than 3500 school students were engaged through events activations, cycling initiatives like Let's Ride and other programs

- » More than 1000 older adults participated in Life Cycle 55+
- » Inaugural Family Challenge Ride with Matt Keenan as the patron attracted families to ride a bike path course and represented a successful entry into a new market.

Our challenge in riding will continue to be the connection with our member clubs and creating capacity at the club level to support riding members.

More People Watching

Social media continues to expand and is a key communication strategy. Cycling Victoria has 45,000-plus followers across Facebook, Twitter and Instagram and has the biggest social media presence across all state sporting organisations.

Key success for the year included:

- » Continued growth in all social media avenues.

A communication strategy aimed at traditional media will be implemented in 2017/18 to again enhance the organisation's presence and contribute to building a love of cycling.

During the last 12 months long-standing relationships with several of Cycling Victoria's partners were renewed including TAC, Beastwear, Winning Edge, Anchor Point, the Victorian Government, VicHealth and City of Whittlesea.

Additionally, we welcomed several new organisations into the fold of Cycling Victoria partners including RACV, Quest Ivanhoe, Temple Brewing, Bike Chaser and Enviro Bike Box. Each of our partners plays an integral role in the continued operation of the business and we thank each and every one of them for their valued support.

Finally we bid farewell to a number of staff in 2016/2017, most notably Kipp Kaufmann who had been with the organisation since 2010. Kipp oversaw significant growth in the sport during his tenure and built a sustainable operation that provides the base for Cycling Victoria's future success.

Over the last 12 months CycleSport WA has made significant inroads into the vision of cycling for Western Australia.

In 2016-17 CycleSportWA went through a phase of implementing the strategic plans that have been put in place and this has led to a strengthening of the organisation and providing members with far greater opportunities to race and ride in WA. In doing so, we have built a solid platform for future growth.

If 2014-15 was about financial stability and 2015-16 about strategic planning, then 2016-17 was all about the implementation of many of the plans that had been identified. Over the year we made significant progress in implementing our High Performance Strategy with a new structure for state representative teams and a more defined pathway. We finalised a State Facilities Strategic Review to address the distinct lack of cycling facilities in WA, implemented a plan to improve relationships between motorists and riders, launched a brand new summer criterium series called The Ring, launched a winter road series called The Element and we saw the completion of the newly refurbished velodrome – the SpeedDome.

Over a number of years there has been a degree of stagnation in membership growth and it is hoped that the plans that the organisation has put in place will see growth in member numbers moving forward with an increased value proposition, consistent and high level racing and more reasons to get on a bike and ride than ever before. The members are the custodians of our clubs and our clubs are the custodians of CycleSportWA and it is through this lens that we strive to advance cycling in Western Australia through vibrant and successful clubs across the state.

With only two to three per cent of the riding public being a member of any cycling organisation, there is still a significant gap. As a collective we all need to work together to inform the cycling public of the benefits of membership and continue to focus on increasing the value proposition so it is aligned to their needs. Members are the lifeblood of any sport and cycling across the country has a significant opportunity to capitalise on the number of people who jump on a bike on a regular basis.

Another significant step forward for CycleSportWA has been the appointment of the inaugural Western Australia Women's Commission. Cycling in general has low member numbers of women and traditionally it's been males sitting around the board room table strategising on how to make it more appealing to women. Many sports are leading the way in engaging with women, with the AFL and Cricket Australia two examples. No longer can we sit back and just talk. Now is the time to make bold decisions to create gender equity in cycling and we look forward to the Women's Commission leading the charge in Western Australia and setting a new benchmark across the country.

There are numerous people to thank at a time like this but none more so than the volunteers who make cycling possible. As sport professionalises and people are more time poor than ever, it is becoming increasingly difficult to find people to give their time on a voluntary basis. We are so grateful to all of the people contributing to cycling in Western Australia. The volunteers who sit on the CycleSportWA Board, the members on our race management and technical committees, the Women's Commission, club presidents and office bearers, coaches, commissaires, plus the mums and dads standing on a corner during a race. You all make cycling possible. The sport of cycling would fall apart without the countless hours that you all put in and our greatest gratitude goes to you.
