

GUIDE TO UCI EVENT SANCTIONING

Introduction

Organising a UCI Classified Cycling Event

Organising a cycling race is both hard work and highly rewarding.

A sanction by AusCycling ('AC') means making a commitment to safety, quality standards, regulations and worthy of the sanction awarded. This guide is designed to help support race organisers journey to receiving your sanction. This guide is not meant to provide full details on the operational aspects of organising an event. Instead it provides specific sanctioning requirements, timelines and financial expectations.

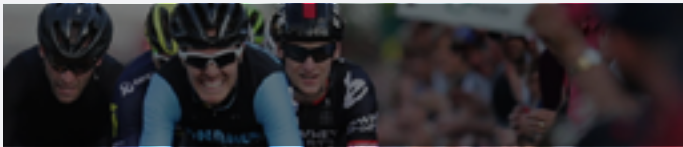

Further requirements may be detailed in the event sanction agreement between the organiser and AusCycling.

SECTION 1

THE ORGANISER

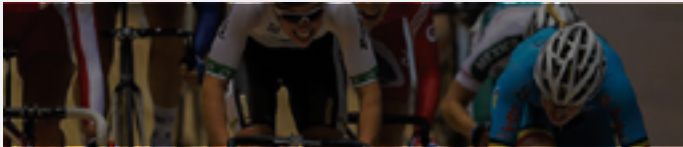

Types of Events

ROAD

Road events include road races, time trials, team time trials, criteriums and stage races. These may take place on roads or purpose built venues.

TRACK EVENTS

All track events must take place at an approved velodrome. There are a variety of races which may be conducted as part of a track event.

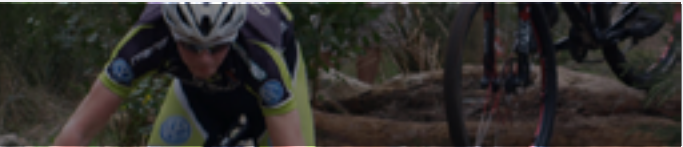

BMX FREESTYLE

BMX Freestyle an action sport that takes place on BMX bikes. It consists of five disciplines: street, park, vert, trails, and flatland.

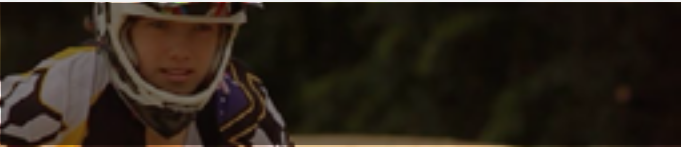

PARA-CYCLING

Road Races, Time Trials and Track events which are for individuals classified as a para-cyclist.

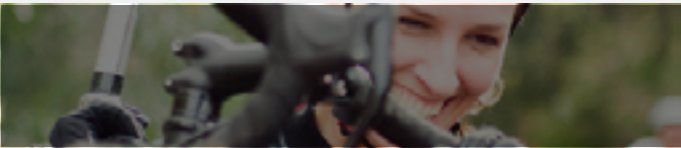

MOUNTAIN BIKE

Mountain Bike events include endurance (cross country Olympic, time trial, short track, stage race, marathon, endurance, eliminator and team relay), downhill (downhill and four cross), Enduro, Pump Track and observed trials. Cross-country events are held on hilly, technical circuits. Downhill, Enduro and pump track events involves fast and extremely technical courses. Four-cross is an event that sees riders race head to head on a short downhill course. Trials see riders navigate obstacles with riders judged on their ability to negotiate these.

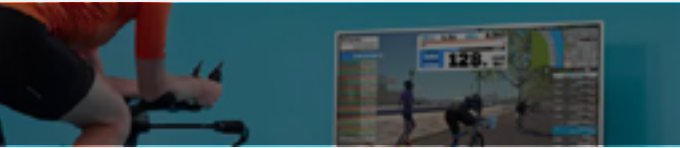

BMX RACING

BMX Racing is a spectacular sport that takes place on a 350-400m track. The riders begin from a start ramp that launches them at considerable speed as they ride through bumps, berms and flat sections. BMX Freestyle is a discipline where riders are judged on their style and the difficulty of their program.

CYCLO-CROSS

Cyclo-cross races are conducted on circuits of around three kilometres on a variety of surfaces. The courses usually have climbs and obstacles to navigate throughout the event.

ESPORT

Esport cycling is conducted on virtual racing apps (e.g. Zwift, FulGaz, RGT). Events can be conducted at one location or in various locations.

Gravel

Gravel discipline is a form of cycling that combines elements of both road and mountain-bike disciplines and consisting mostly of distance riding over unpaved roads.

SECTION 2

SANCTIONING AND CALENDAR

Sanction Process

All races must be sanctioned by AusCycling in order to be recognised by AC.

In order to be sanctioned the event organiser must follow a specific process outlined. Once the provisional sanction requirements have been fulfilled, a provisional sanction letter and certificate of insurance to the event and place it on the calendar. The provisional sanction will outline the requirements and timing to finalise the sanction approval, noting all sanction fees must be paid 2 months prior to the event. This sanction will only be finalised when all sanction requirements are in place. The event sanction also enables AC will provide event insurance.

Registration on National and International Calendar

AusCycling('AC') develops a calendar of races annually. In order to register an event on the calendar, the organiser must send a registration application for the event to AusCycling. AC will consider the timing and value of all applications, then liaises with the UCI to achieve the best outcome for cycling in Australia. This must be done before the cut-off date below.

When an event is seeking registration on the international calendar for the first time, AC must be provided with a detailed proposal for approval prior to submission to the UCI. This proposal must contain the following information as a minimum: type of race (discipline, event, format), description of the course including total distance in kilometres and, if appropriate, details of stages and circuits, type and number of teams and/or categories of riders desired, finances (funding support obtained or still to be secured, prizes and primes, accommodation and travel expenses), organisational references. If the proposal is approved by AC, AC will then seek endorsement by the UCI. If the event is successful approved by AC and endorsed by the UCI, the event will be registered for a probationary year on a date that is compatible with existing events on the calendar.

Approvals are made in line with the following time line:

World Championships	As set by the UCI
World Cup, World Tour, or equivalent	2 years prior to hosting
UCI Events	Road: March 15 MTB, CX: June 15 Track, Criteriums and Para-Cycling: July 1

SECTION 3

SPORT REQUIREMENTS & EVENT MONITORING

The responsibilities when organising an cycling event are considerable. To ensure smooth delivery it is critical is to form a professional organising team and working closely with AusCycling.

There are a number of key elements which AusCycling will provide support and control to ensure consistency across all events. These elements are outlined in the following section.

The Race Director

The race director is one of the most important role in the organising team for the event. They are responsible for organising all racing aspects of the race in conjunction with AusCycling and the President of the Commissaire Panel. This individual must be approved as a capable and competent within their role.

Operational Teams

It is difficult to promote an event without an effective personnel team, whether volunteer or paid, in all aspects of the organisation. This aspect is particularly significant in so far as the success of the event is determined in the weeks and months leading up to the race.

The organising team fulfils a wide range of tasks including safety, logistics, marketing, communications and administration through the event. All UCI and National events must have operational teams with demonstrated competency A critical requirement of each UCI and Nationally sanctioned event will be required to demonstrate key competency in major events.

Motos (Road Races Only)

A motorcycle escort (or rolling road closure) is essential to a road cycling race. The closure protects all participants in the race. Organisers must demonstrate support from local police. Additionally, the support of accredited AC motos in required to support many functions. This is required to ensure AC and/ or its recognised associations can positively impact risk management given the supporting insurance arrangements and AC’s mandate on safety.

Moto Safety Marshalls and Media Motos must be accredited by AusCycling.

Commissaires and Judges

At all events Commissaires and Judges represent AC and the UCI. In their role they are obliged to ensure the event is conducted in a safe and fair manner.

Commissaire appointments for events will be undertaken as follows:

UCI	AC
Chief Commissaire	<ul style="list-style-type: none">Principal CommissairesMoto Commissaire (Road Events only)Judges

Note: The UCI may appoint additional commissaires in some cases. In those cases AusCycling will not appoint these positions.

Payments for all appointments by AC will also be paid by the event organiser as part of their sanction fees two months in advance of the event.

Please note the fees for Motos and Officials includes a AC levy to ensure they competent and their accreditation is up to date as well as the administration of their appointment, oversight and reporting in relation to the event.

SECTION 4

FINANCIAL ASPECTS

The level of fee is dependent on the level of event that is being hosted. These fees will be set annually by AusCycling ('AC').

AC provide a number of services as part of the sanction including: Insurance, UCI Registration and Reporting, Marketing, Technical Appointments and event planning support.

Please note the AusCycling fees do not include the associated UCI fees.
